A strike warning appeared in the same resolution, which instructed the union officers "to take such action as will result in unanimous and effective resistance to a return to the ten-hour work day, wage reductions and other barbaric conditions that existed prior to 1917," unless President Harding sends assurance of action according with the request. The resolution, according to Denis Lane, secretary-treasurer of the union, means authorization for a strike affecting all packing-house employees of the United States and Canada.

DECISION TO APPEAL.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was asked in another telegram sent tonight to go to the White House as the direct representative of the meat cutters and urge immediate action on the packing-house workers' request. He was also asked to call a meeting next Monday in Chicago of all the allied unions working for the packers to outline concerted action in event of a strike.

The decision to appeal to the Chief Executive was made in a long

rnment Without Authority to Stop Sale for Nonbeverage Purposes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INGTON, March 9.—Beer and wines are given the same status under an opinion by the Attorney-General made public today of Internal Revenue. The ruling, one of the most impor- the advent of prohibition, makes it possible for all alcoholic to be used for medical and other nonbeverage purposes, and for manufactured and sold for these purposes subject only to limi- of the Volstead Act on nonbeverage intoxicants.

The opinion was written by former Atty.-Gen. Palmer and was in reply to questions from internal revenue and prohibition officials bearing on construction of half a dozen moot points in the law.

Whether it will upset any regulations of the revenue and enforcement bureaus had not been made known tonight, Commissioner Williams saying he had not had an opportunity to study the opinion. He said officials concerned with enforcement would prepare at once to draft regulations.

There were many rumors that the opinion had wrecked plans of dry advocates to obtain further restriction of liquor sales. Officials refused to comment on the reports, however, but Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, in a statement said thirty-nine States had State codes prohibiting the prescribing of beer for medical purposes. He asserted that the opinion was not in accord with the purpose of the Federal law.

INTENT OF CONGRESS.

"Congress clearly did not intend to attempt to legalize what the State laws prohibit," he said. "Unless the opinion is overruled, Congress should amend the law. It is difficult to overrule it, because the government and brewers are on the same side and there is no one to contest it, unless the new Attorney-General overrules the opinion."

The opinion appeared ambiguous in some respects, officials said, and as a result they could not determine whether the government had power to limit prescriptions a physician may write, except that the law specifies no more than a pint per person in ten days. Mr. Palmer said he believed it the purpose of Congress to leave the physician "unfettered by governmental control," yet he thought regulations might properly restrict the amount sold on a prescription.

AS TO PERMITS.

Replying to the question whether the government could restrict permits to manufacture, sell or prescribe, Mr. Palmer explained that the Volstead Act had limited only classes to which permits could be issued and had permitted no discrimination between persons within those classes. He said the withholding of permits could not be done legally, even though officials were convinced fewer permits would suffice in any given State or city.

Mr. Palmer advised officials that they had "ample authority" to write such regulations as they believed necessary to make certain enforcement of the law. Dry advocates stressed this statement, saying that by it, means would be found which would circumvent and handicap the sale of beer and wines, and that it

THELEN HAS THE GOODS.

Consternation Hits Salary Bund.

Even Opponents Have to Admit He Has Shown Way for Economies.

Boards and Boarders Let Out Wild Yells Against Retrenchment.

BY KYLE PALMER.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, March 9.—The Campbells are coming. They are in a hurry, and their one plea runs something like this: "Hold the fort till we get there."

Max Thelen has forced in all the outposts thrown by the State administration around the proposed $81,000,000 budget, and something akin to consternation has stirred up the hive of commissions, commissioners, agencies, agents and other State boards and boarders.

A sickening feeling, perhaps, is stealing across the minds of members of what Senator Rominger terms "the high cost of government brigade," that, after all, Thelen may have the goods when he claims reductions of more than $8,000,000 in the budget.

SACRAMENTO DOOMED.

Sacramento is doomed to become a convention city from now on until the budget battle is concluded.

"Thelen's figures are wrong," today wired one State employee, "I am coming, need help."

That message was sent to a State Senator. Other legislators are receiving similar communications. Many of those who spend public money to get here to explain their demands for public money to spend are already on the job.

Seriously, there is a question as to whether the Legislature can withstand the pressure, for some of our legislators are beginning to realize now that hell hath no fury like a commission threatened with loss of life or revenue.

BECOME INDIGNANT.

One aggressive board, an offshoot of a larger body, became so indignant over the temerity of those seeking consolidations and retrenchments in the State government that the members of the board got together and adopted resolutions expressing an unwillingness to be tampered with.

Thelen has made an unexpected showing. Supporters of the State administration expected to be able easily to controvert his claims. Even

HIGH LABOR IS FACTOR.

Wheels of Industry Are Clogged.

Adjustment of Machinery is Needed—Railroads and Building Are Hit.

High Prices of Materials and Shy Credits Are also Affecting Business.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 9.—Adjustment is the king word in industry just now. The big need is for somebody with a screw driver before the old clock starts running again. Take railroading and the building crafts as an instance of how the wheels of industry are clogged.

High operating costs of the carriers due largely to nonproductive charges in the shape of working rules recognized as oppressive helped boost freight rates. High freight charges are declared a big item in cost of building materials, next in size, in fact, to labor. High labor and high prices of materials are two of the three chief factors in tying up building, shy credits being the third.

Lack of demand for building supplies helps to reduce traffic, cuts business for the roads and means railroad workers thrown out of employment. It is now estimated that about 310,000 fewer men are working on the railroads than on October 1. The Pennsylvania system alone is said to have laid off 61,000. It goes to show how closely industries are interlocked.

Here is today's "spot news."

ORDERS WAGE CUTS.

Railroads: The Pennsylvania system ordered notice to be posted of wage reductions. Every large railroad in the country is preparing to follow it, according to B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor.

"Probably true," was the comment from an official of the western railway executives. The development is not at all surprising inasmuch as it follows the program given wide publication a few weeks ago. After the Labor Board turned down the request of the executives that the national working agreements should be abrogated, announcement was made that the roads would take steps to bring wage cuts before the board in the shape of "definite controversies" between managements and men.

CUT COMMISSION BUDGET.

Max Thelen, Former President, Would Slash $129,400 from Estimates.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, March 9.—A former president of the California Railroad Commission, Max Thelen, today advised the Legislature to slash $129,400 from the $876,000 appropriation recommended for the commission by the State Budget Board.

Thelen before the Senate, sitting as a committee of the whole, went through about one-half of the compilations in the budget today. The reductions he recommended were based largely upon his theory that in view of the present economic situation there should be no salaries increased, no new functions assumed by the State and that certain commissions should have systematized their activities so that material increases for support would be unnecessary.

While he made some exceptions in the cases of salaries in the normal schools and the engineering department, he opposed further capital expenditures for the normal schools. He cited decreased attendance in these schools and said their future was uncertain.

Insufficient allowance had been made by some State hospitals, normal schools and other institutions for revenues accruing to them, he said.

Thelen's recommendation for a cut in appropriations for the Railroad Commission was questioned by Senators Inman and Eden, members of the legislative committee, which investigated complaints against the commission during the constitutional recess.

Calling attention to the fact that the appropriation for the commission in 1919 was $659,750, as against $1,142,230 asked by that agency this

INQUIRY ON SHOOTING OF CRONKHITE.

Death in 1918 in Washington Camp of Army Major Subject of Present Quiz.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) March 9.—Inquiry into the circumstances of the death at Camp Lewis, in October, 1918, of Maj. Alexander P. Cronkhite, son of Maj.-Gen. Adelbert P. Cronkhite, who commanded the Eightieth Division in France during the war, has been begun by agents of the Bureau of Invesitgation, Department of Justice, it became known today.

News dispatches from Camp Lewis dated Oct. 26, 1918, stated that Maj. Cronkhite had accidentally shot himself while on the pistol range at the camp the day before, and died within two minutes.

J. F. McAuley, chief of the Seattle headquarters of the bureau, said that he was not at liberty to make public any of the details of his instructions with regard to the inquiry. Maj. Cronkhite was serving with the Three Hundred and Thirteenth Engineers at the time of his death.

AMOY (China) March 9.—One thousand persons were drowned when the steamship Hong Moh was wrecked off the port of Swatow March 3, said reports received here today. The vessel struck shore rocks and sank immediately. There were few lifeboats on board and no wireless. The steamer, which was a coolie carrier bound from Singapore for Amoy, carried 1200 passengers.

Capt. Holms and Lim Peng Siong, a millionaire of Singapore, were among those lost.

BURIAL OF PREMIER TO BE SIMPLE.

Spanish Statesman to be Wrapped in Flag; Title of Duke to be Conferred.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MADRID, March 9.—Funeral services for Premier Dato, assassinated last night, will be held Thursday with simple ceremonies in accordance with the wish of the dead statesman.

King Alfonso had wished to pay honors to the dead Premier similar to those paid former Premier Canalejas y Mendes, but the family demurred, desiring to fulfill the last request of the Premier, who asked that the body be wrapped in the Spanish flag and buried without elaborate ceremonies. It is understood the title of Duke will be conferred.

Prior to his assassination, Premier Dato delivered a brief speech in the debate in the Senate in reply to the speech from the throne.

When King Alfonso learned of the attack he desired to go to the scene, but was persuaded not to do so. A performance at the Theater Royal at which the King and Queen planned to attend was suppressed.

ITALY IS ANXIOUS TO PAY.

New Ambassador to United States Tells Aims of His Nation on Debts.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Italy is preparing, through rehabilitating her internal financial condition, setting in motion again the machinery of commercial relations and resuming production of staples of commerce utilized in her foreign trade, to discharge her debt to the United States, Rolando Ricci, new Italian Ambassador, said today in answer to an inquiry. The debt, according to the last annual report of former Secretary of the Treasury Houston, is $1,631,000,000.

The Ambassador, in a statement, said:

"The following is my precise opinion in regard to the American loans to Italy and the payment by Italy:

"Italy must, through a revision of the accounts, ascertain the exact amount of her debt, and then ask for a convenient period within which to pay it. This condition is essential; because otherwise it would be impossible for Italy to rehabilitate her financial condition, which is the only way whereby Italy can pay her debt.

"PREFERRED" TREATMENT.

"Italy would naturally ask the preferred nation's treatment, i.e., Italy would ask that in case of a cancellation or partial remittance of debt to any other nation, the same treatment be granted her. Like the United States, Italy entered the war without being forced to do so by any aggression, and while the nations attacked were in difficult straits, Italy got nothing except her natural boundaries, and such boundaries Italy conquered with her own military effort.

"Italy has, therefore, a political attitude and a public sentiment which agree with the political attitude and public sentiment of the United States."

He expressed confidence in the success of the efforts being made to bring about a resumption of the formerly large trade relations between Italy and the United States, particularly the Italian export trade with this country, which would be a large factor in meeting the financial obligations of Italy to America. He indicated, however, it would not be possible at first to apply the proceeds of the sale of Italian products directly towards reduction of the debt to this country.

INTERNAL FINANCES.

It is essential, the Ambassador pointed out, that the internal finances of Italy should be set on a firm foundation before the country could undertake to settle its external obligations. Several sources of revenue in former years, he explained, had been lost, such as the large sums derived from the tourists, the heavy remittances that had come from Italians in the United States and the revenue from the sales in this country of such Italian staples as fruits, olives, oil and wines.

As a war measure, he continued, his government stopped the exportation of oils, fruits and wheat products, but he added that this prohibition was to be removed. He said prospects were bright for a restoration of commercial relations on the former basis, that would practically make possible a financial settlement of heavy indebtedness.

Thousands of Refugees Flee to Balkans—Prompt Relief is Needed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 9.—The desperate plight of thousands of refugees from Russia, many of them children, who are flocking to the Balkans in need of assistance, is described in messages to the European Relief Council, made public today. Families fleeing from South Russia have overrun Serbia, one dispatch said, and in other parts of the Balkans where the refugees are finding temporary shelter, conditions have been aggravated, requiring prompt relief measures.

SUPREME COUNCIL TO INSIST ON DISARMAMENT; FRANCE DENIES IDEA OF ANNEXATION

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

AMERICAN MILITARY HEADQUARTERS, COBLENZ, March 9.—The inter-Allied Rhineland commission has decreed a censorship over wire communications for eight days. The censorship may be renewed indefinitely. News of troop movements is being censored. The Rhineland commission has authorized the seizure of German customs along the western frontier. The existing tariffs will remain in effect. The German customs officials will be subordinate to the commission.

LONDON, March 9.—The penalties imposed upon Germany will cease only when a satisfactory solution of the questions of reparations, disarmament and war criminals has been accepted by the Allies.

The Supreme Council so decided at its meeting tonight, at which M. Briand declared the French government had no intention of permanently occupying territory on the left of the Rhine. He said the only object was to secure execution of the treaty.

The Council agreed to instruct the Allied high commission of the Rhineland to invite the attendance of Italian representatives when econimc questions resulting from the application of the penalties were under consideration.

FIFTY PER CENT.

The Council decided to draft a bill for a 50 per cent toll on the sales of German goods. It was stated that imports to the Allied countries through neutral countries will be required to have certificates from the respective chambers of commerce in neutral countries, or in the countris of trans-shipment, showing origin of the goods.

The discussion of questions relating to Turkey and Greece was resumed.

Premier Lloyd George, alluding to French newspaper comment on the occupation of additional German territory, asked the French Premier for assurances that annexation was not contemplated. The French comment indicated the belief that the institution of a customs barrier was likely to lead to complete separation between the occupied territories and the rest of Germany.

NO ANNEXATIONS.

Former Premier Clemenceau's repudation of permanent occupation was brought up. Mr. Lloyd George said that though he had confidence in M. Briand and the good sense of the majority of Frenchmen, and although he had received assurances from former Premiers Clemenceau and Millerand, who had fought hard against the annexationist policy, he would welcome a new and definite assurance from M. Briand that France contemplated neither an-

FLEE FROM PETROGRAD

Red Leaders Escape in Autos.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, March 9.—A Wednesday dispatch to the Times from Riga says Bolshevik leaders in Petrograd escaped by motor car following the capture by the revolutionaries today of the city with the exception of the Nicolai and Finland Railroad Station. Soviet troops suffered heavy losses at Krasnoye Selo, eighteen miles southeast, and at Gatchina, thirty miles southwest.

The Krasnoya Gorka and Oranienbaum fortresses have surrendered. The red army had retreated twenty versts.

The conclusion of an Anglo-Russian trade agreement has been rendered unlikely through a proposal by Leonide Krassin, Bolshevik commissioner, to insert political clauses in the preamble virtually constituting recognition of the soviet government, it was authoritatively learned.

It develops that Krassin returned from Russia with amendments which would change the complexion of the treaty. These amendments, it is said, are considered impossible even of serious consideration and a breaking off in the negotiations will follow if they are persistently urged.

It is reported a limited number of Bolshevik troops that were rushed to White Ruthenia to suppress the uprisings have joined the insurrectionists without firing a shot.

The Ruthenians propose to assemble a legislature in Vitebsk early in May, but they plan later to make Minsk their capital.

PACT FIGHT ON DECK.

Treaty Ratification Asked Senate.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The President has in plain sight a fight on the ratification of the Colombian treaty. He sent a message to the Senate today asking for the prompt approval of this measure and Senator Lodge and some of the President's friends will undertake to do as he wishes. Senator Borah, Senator Johnson of California and some of the other so-called Republicans are off the reservation and will fight against confirmation.

President Harding takes the position that the ratification of the treaty is necessary to re-establish confidence in the word and policies of the United States. Borah and the other halfbreeds want to throw the question into open session and this will be opposed by those in charge of the treaty fight.

MAY BE DELAYED.

What is likely to happen is that the treaty fight will go over till the meeting of the Senate at the time of the extra session. The Senators all want to go home for a few weeks and it will be difficult to hold a quorum here. They want to go home Saturday and unless the President has some very important nominations to pass on the prospects for an adjournment of the Senate pending the call of the extra session. This would bring the treaty fight over to the first business of the extra session and would allow Senator Lodge and the other proadministration forces time to line up their adherents and be prepared to confirm the treaty.

EMBARRASSING FEATURE.

One of the embarrassing features of the situation is the minority report filed by several Republicans in 1917 when the Colombian treaty was being considered. This report was signed by Senator Lodge and the present Secretary of the Interior, then Senator Fall, and makes some declarations that will be somewhat difficult to overcome even with the changes made in the resolution of ratification. The report is of tre-

GERMAN DILEMMA GREAT.

People Believed to be Consolidating Following Allied Invasion.

BY GEORGE SELDES.
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, March 9.—With the recall of the German ambassadors to France and England and the Minister to Belgium, Germany breaks off diplomatic relations with the Entente again, and one element—the conservative extremists—actually consider that the nation is in a state of war. Generally the government's action is considered as a demonstration of protest.

Dr. Walter Simons, the German Foreign Minister, is not expected to resign on his return from London. It was expected that he would resign when his counter-proposals failed, but now the people of all parties are solidly united in supporting the government following the Entente's occupation of the Ruhr coal ports.

However, there is considerable discussion concerning the rebuilding of the Cabinet. One proposal is for a small super-Cabinet similar to Great Britain's war-time Cabinet, with George Heim, president of the Bavarian peasants' party, and called the uncrowned king of Bavaria, as Premier. Such a change would please the Nationalists, who want to

Names of All Draft Evaders to be Made Public.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The names of persons who evaded the selective service law will be made public by draft districts as rapidly as the lists can be compiled by the local draft boards, it was announced today at the War Department.

As soon as the final check for a complete district has been received at the department, the compiled lists will be made available to the press, it was announced. It was understood that the first district compilation would be completed within a few days.

NAVAL PROBLEM A TICKLISH ONE.

If We Decide to Build England Must Follow Suit.

We Cannot Disregard Her Alliance with Japanese.

Administration Faces Difficult Situation.

BY HARRY CARR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 9.—In the new naval appropriations bill which will come before the Senate again, at the extra session, the Harding administration faces one of the most difficult situations that any President of the United States has ever been called on to deal with.

This bill is loaded with the possibilities of wars, havoc and disasters.

If the proposal for a supernavy is carried through, as planned, there is danger of inflaming Great Britain into anxiety and stern resentment. Lord Northcliffe, publisher of the London Times and London Daily News, has already pointedly inquired why the United States is feverishly arming.

It goes without saying that England must hold the control of the seas at any cost, as the very existence of the British Empire depends upon her naval dominance. If we continue to build, England must build.

If England attempts to equal this terrific naval program of ours she cannot possibly pay off her debt of $5,000,000,000 to the United States. Already taxed $75 per head, England cannot safely strain the domestic situation any further.

BASED ON POTENTIALITIES.

Although the relations of the United States and England are at present more than friendly; neither nation could afford to risk actual existence upon this friendship. The theory of national defense is not based upon friendship or enmities. It is based upon potentialities.

For the same reason that England cannot afford to disregard our furious shipbuilding, just so we cannot safely afford to disregard her alliance with Japan.

Although nobody has been frank enough to say so, the impetus for our shipbuilding is the British-Japanese alliance. The type of vessels shows that fact very clearly.

There are all sorts of friendly reservations in this treaty designed to prevent hard feelings on the part of the United States; but the fact remains that our national safety depends upon our being able to protect our Pacific Coast from any possible Pacific power which might attack at the same time as a European power attacking our Atlantic shores. We are forced to maintain a two-ocean fleet.

Great Britain could alleviate the tension by abandoning alliances with Japan; but there are deadly reasons why she cannot do this. The principal reason is India.

As it often happens the Japanese-English alliance is at once our great protection and our greatest danger. No thinking student of history and diplomacy can dodge the terrible fact that his world is in very grave danger of a devastating race war between the East and the West. The real "yellow peril" is something deeper and more dreadful in its hideous possibilities than just the fact that Japan may get uppish. British statesmen have seen these dangers more clearly than ours.

LIKE A PENDULUM.

From the earliest history the course of empire has been swinging back and forth like a pendulum from the East to the West. There are reasons for thinking that the East is about due for the saddle again.

At any rate, Japan is but an incident—a fly in the cream. The horrible peril that stirs the world is the danger of bringing to life the slumbering powers of India and China. "Pan-Orientalism" is a whisper that brings a shudder to every foreign office in Europe. Japan is the most important bulwark against this terrible possibility.

Coming again to the paradox, it is Japan which has the itch for power worse than any other oriental people; yet Japan is the chief protection against the peril.

The reason is that India wants to throw off the yoke of England in order to go back to the old India of its castes and its superstitions. India wants to throw off progress and its cloak of occidentalism and step back into the past. The very existence of Japan depends upon her stepping with swift steps into the future. India is a country of asceticism. Japan is a country of practical materialism.

On the face of it, India and Japan are oceans and ages apart. Yet to throw off the common yoke of the white races and accomplish the imperial sway of the yellow, it is distinctly and terribly possible for them to combine.

JAPS HOLD WHIP HAND.

Japan holds a terrible whip over all the white races. There is no doubt about it: if she cares to be nasty she can without a great deal of difficulty crystallize the discontent of India into an active upheaval. India is material for a conflagration—and Japan has the matches.

Should this dreadful thing happen, our danger would be as great as England's. In fact, we should be in rather the worse plight of the two.

The greatest danger that has confronted civilization since the days of Attila, the Hun, lies in the growing unrest of India.

The situation, then, is this:

For the safety not only of herself, but of all the white races of the world, England has to maintain a treaty with Japan.

The English treaty with Japan makes it necessary for the United States to build a two-power fleet for protection against attacks upon our two coasts.

SEA CONTROL ENDANGERED.

The building of this fleet endangers the English control of the seas by virtue of which the British empire lives and breathes and has its being.

If England continues her treaty with Japan no one can dodge the conclusion that we are headed toward a great possibility of war with the mother country. If she does not continue her treaties with Japan, the very existence of civilization and the life of the white races is in danger.

There is no instance in history in which two nations engaged in an armament race did not finally come to war. It becomes a case of spontaneous combustion.

If England and the United States start in a warship race there is likely to be a war. And civilization could not survive a war between the two Anglo-Saxon races. The conclusion is inescapable. The whole structure of modern civilization would go down with a crash if the United States went to war with Great Britain.

England would be inevitably defeated and the dark forces of "half-caught, sullen peoples" would be loosed upon the world. She may not always have behaved, but England has been the force that has held back chaos from the world for all these centuries.

The reason we have never realized the dangers of an uprising of the dark races, which are strong enough to sweep the white men from the face of the earth, is precisely because England has been standing on guard through the centuries. If we slay the sentry at the gate we can count the havoc.

WATCH BRITISH TANKS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DUSSELDORF, March 9.—The most conspicuous evidence of the occupation of this city are two British tanks standing at the Hindenburg wall near the Rhine, around which crowds gathered today, among them two soldiers who examined the machines. Yesterday's interest in the arrival of the troops had largely diminished today, inhabitants showing mostly what Gen. Gaucher termed "benevolent indifference."

Many Germans are calling at the French headquarters and offering to enlist in the Foreign Legion.

The French troops today opened soup kitchens in the poor quarters, where they found suffering.

Gen. Gaucher received the town notables and told them the conditions of occupation would be as lenient as possible. Among the callres were representatives of labor unions, who informed Gen. Gaucher they had rejected the proposed general strike and that they considered the occupying forces as "bailiffs who have come to collect a legal debt."

Crowds around the headquarters listlessly watched German workmen repainting the black and white sentry box red, white and blue.

PROTESTS ARE MADE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, March 9. — Protests voiced before the Supreme Allied Council in London by Dr. Walter Simons, Foreign Minister, and against the Paris reparations proposals, were emphatically indorsed by Chancellor Konstantine Fehrenbach before the Reichstag.

"This violation of law and justice cannot be defended on any juridical grounds," said the Chancellor. "It assumed doubly pernicious aspects when directed against a people from whom the last defense has been taken.

"The events of the past week have convinced the government the methods pursued by the Allies cannot possibly effect the rehabilitation of Europe, nor bring about a liquidation of the war."

APPEAL TO HISTORY.

"In the course of the London negotiations, Foreign Minister Simons appealed to history," said the Chancellor in discussing the question of responsibility for the war. "I feel permitted to declare the judgment of history is already established, and that the nature of the verdict is such that any attempt to fasten responsibility solely upon Germany must fail, because it is false."

The public in the streets of Berlin outwardly gave no indications of resentment today at the Entente occupation of additional German territory. Its conduct was conspicuously in keeping with the moderation displayed by editorial writers, whose comment today showed unusual reserve, as compared with their outbreaks on the Allied advance into Germany a year ago.

Curiosity was the chief symptom of the situation, which as yet is wholly an enigma, even the authorities being unable to conjecture the scope and nature of the penalties which the Entente has threatened to put into operation.

REICHSTAG IS CALM.

The Reichstag also has refused to get excited and has settled down to consideration of the regular calendar.

Curiosity is expressed regarding the part to be played by the American sector along the Rhine.

The Bourse showed symptoms of nervous insecurity, which was due not only to disruption of the London conference, but also was accounted for by a report received here that President Harding had requested the Senate to postpone action regarding peace between the United States and Germany, in view of the breaking off of the London negotiations.

The dispatch, which stated that the new President had opposed any attempt to conclude peace in the present situation, because such action would possibly be interpreted as an affront to the Entente, provoked comments of disappointment in the press.

SIMONS ATTACKED.

Foreign Minister Simons already is being sharply attacked in a section of the nationalist press for failing to make a sterner protest against the accusation of war guilt. He is known, however, to have the solid backing of the Cabinet.

Vorwaerts charges that formally and legally the Entente has begun a new war, thus admitting the terms of the peace treaty are inadequate and demand revision and that the Allies thus have indisputably violated the treaty.

The Tageblatt brands as "a childish illusion" what it terms French speculation on an ability to promote political disintegration in Southern Germany by applying economic reprisals.

LIQUOR RULING IS BROAD ONE.

would not throw open the door to manufacture of quantities of high alcoholic beer again as antiprohibitionists insisted.

Mr. Palmer also held that the government was without authority to limit the number of permits to manufacture or sell within any State or locality.

"I cannot believe," he said, "that it was the intention that the executive offices should have authority to say that one reputable druggist in a community should have a permit and another equally reputable should not."

MAY REMOVE BAN.

Internal revenue officers are considering removal of the ban prohibiting withdrawals of liquor from warehouses, Commissioner Williams said today. The order was issued last December to permit wholesale liquor dealers to dispose of their stocks on hand, and Mr. Williams said he believed the purpose of the order practically had been accomplished.

The decision of revenue and prohibition officials not to grant permits to wholesale dealers hereafter, putting an end to their business, will stand, according to Mr. Williams, who added that there was no reason for a third party to engage in the handling of liquor. The law provides that the retail druggist may purchase direct from the warehouses, and on that basis Mr. Williams believed the decision of the enforcement officials should stand.

SLASH BUDGET OF COMMISSION.

year and $876,600 approved by the State budget board, Thelen said:

"I know there is no need for any such increase."

During the last two biennial periods he said the work of the commission has not materially increased, about 7000 formal and informal matters being handled each biennium. He recommended an appropriation of $746,600.

"The most general complaint our committee had while we were going around the State," said Inman, "was that the commission apparently did not have sufficient facilities to handle matters before it. The commission did a big work during the water shortage that is not shown in the cases before it."

Eden suggested that the big jobs of evaluation of public utility would make additional men and facilities necessary.

To this Thelen replied that the commission ought to be able to handle its work at present far more easily than it did during its first years when it did not have the data and experience it has subsequently accumulated. Only a few more engineers would be necessary, he held.

The former Railroad Commissioner, retained by public utilities in connection with the budget investigation, appeared before the Assembly tonight after his long session in the Senate. Earlier today Senator W. J. Carr, chairman of the committee that arranged for the hearings, said no further public service corporations officials would be compelled to appear before the Senate.

Beginning at the first item and continuing into the budget, Thelen urged no cut in appropriations under legislative, judicial or executive groups.

Few were suggested in the administration group. He recommended that $15,140 for additional employees and raises in salaries be lopped off the $286,080 contemplated for the board of control.

Appropriation of $75,000 recommended for a building and site for a new State printing plant ought to be abandoned or deferred, Thelen held. He urged cutting off $8600 additional salaries for the State purchasing department, and a cut of $13,320 for the same purpose, and from the amount allowed the superintendent of Capitol grounds and buildings. The total cut urged for this agency was $38,124, much of it represented by alleged overestimates of cost of materials.

HOARY CUSTOM.

The allowance of $5000 for county treasurers' traveling expenses in coming to the Capitol to make settlement with the State Treasurer was a relic of a "hoary custom," Thelen said.

He favored cutting by $2500, representing new jobs and additions to salaries, the $314,400 recommended for the Bureau of Labor Statistics. For a similar reason, chiefly, he would strike off $31,576 from the $186,576 approved by the budget board for the Immigration and Housing Commission. A reduction of $50,985 from the $130,985 for the Industrial Welfare Commission was urged.

The Water Commission, he asserted, is one of the few that face an increasing amount of new work. Therefore, he suggested a cut of $41,500 in the $214,200 appropriation contemplated, as against $123,000 granted in 1919.

Thelen favored reducing the $1,203,635 for the Board of Health by $579,865, this, he said, largely representing new activities.

He said he favored allowing the Eureka Harbor Commissioners $7680 they asked, as compared with $10,200 recommended by the budget board.

From the National Guard budget Thelen would strike a $75,000 item for high school cadet companies, which, he said, represented a local activity. He said the $753,430 appropriation recommended for the National Guard called into question a policy of the State as to how far the program should go.

Items for additional salaries made up a reduction of $88,580 he recommended in the engineering department's budget.

A cut of $56,720 for salary increases under the Board of Education was urged. A reduction of $5450 of the $30,000 allowed for traveling expenses under the Superintendent of Public Instruction was recommended.

Taking up normal schools, Thelen favored reductions at the following institutions: Chico, $36,284; Fresno, $30,000; Humboldt, $39,700, and San Diego, $96,760. Other normal schools are to be taken up tomorrow, when Thelen expects to conclude presentation of his case.

CONTROL OF SALT WATER.

Assemblyman McPherson's bill to appropriate $75,000 for a preliminary survey to determine the practicability of controlling the salt water inflow in Suisun Bay and the Sacramento River was favorably reported out today by the Assembly Committee on Regulation.

The bill will be presented for reading tomorrow and could reach final passage stage in the Assembly early next week if its proponents pressed it.

The Assembly Committee on Public Utilities, which yesterday tabled three bills that proposed the regulation of oil-producing concerns as public utilities, announced today that it would take the bills from the table for further consideration at a hearing next Wednesday evening, at the request of Assemblyman Morrison and some supporters of the measure who claimed they had not received notice of the first hearing.

The Judiciary Committee took up tonight a bill from San Francisco relating to the removal of abandoned cemeteries. Large delegations for and against the bill attended the hearing.

A joint committee also took up a series of bills relating to the use of paint-spraying machines, there being numerous persons present to oppose them. The hearing occupied the Senate chamber.

Special ceremonies are to attend the presentation to the State tomorrow of a portrait of the late John Eshleman, former Lieutenant-Governor and president of the Railroad Commission. Members of the Legislature and the widow of Mr. Eshleman are to be present.

GERMAN VIEWS GROW VARIED.

see the present coalition, which is bourgeois in its sympathies, grow more conservative.

Until yesterday evening Berlin did not experience the slightest excitement. In the morning a patrol was stationed in front of the French Embassy and guards were increased in the vicinity of the Brandenburg gate. The German is working off his passions against the Entente by talk. The stock market, however, has been greatly affected. Business men consider that the Entente's invasion will result in nothing, and they believe the occupation will end with the resumption of peaceful negotiations within a week.

Asked to give the view of a military expert on the Entente's action, Gen. Von Gallwitz, who commanded the troops opposing the Americans, said: "There is great satisfaction in Germany that America is not participating in the Entente's attack. From a military viewpoint the occupation does not appeal to me. Politically it is the logical fruit of former President Wilson's betrayal of the American and German peoples."

Just as at the time of the Kapp revolution, when Germany asked organized labor to rescue the country, so today, while the political situation is chaotic, the people are awaiting the workers' action. A general strike is being discussed, and also strikes in the coal and iron industries in the Ruhr region. In such an event it is claimed that the Entente authorities in the district could not force the German miners to dig the coal, which is demanded in the treaty of Versailles, and as a result the Entente's industry would be seriously affected.

General Secretary Grassman of the labor unions informed the Times correspondent that delegates from all the unions will hold a meeting at which they will discuss the calling upon the world's labor bodies, including the American Federation of Labor and the French and British, to protest against the occupation of German territory.

"The first to suffer," said Herr Grassman, "are the workmen, who cannot afford to miss a day's pay, whereas, the operators can afford to strike against occupation by the enemy. German labor has supported the government's refusal to meet the Allied demands because the Paris proposals would throttle Germany. The meeting will discuss action, not from a German nationalistic viewpoint, but from the point of view of international [illegible] men."

TAX REVISION MAY COME FIRST

Conference of Leaders is Planned for Monday.

Emergency Tariff Bill May be Sidetracked.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 9.—A decision as to the order of precedence of tax and tariff legislation will not be made until next week.

Arrangements were made today for a conference Monday, to be attended by Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee and the House Ways and Means Committee, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and a number of treasury experts and Representative Good, chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations.

The conference was to have been held today, but it was found desirable to postpone it until Monday.

Senator Penrose, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, in announcing the date of the conference said the entire situation with respect to the revenue problem would be discussed with a view to determining the order in which the measures should be taken up.

Senator Penrose expressed the hope that the subject would be considered from the viewpoint of the country as a whole, and that there would be no effort to press measures designed to benefit particular classes. This was taken to mean that there will be no attempt to consider a measure designed to benefit agriculture alone, and that if an emergency tariff bill is given precedence it will cover all industries including those protected by the former Payne-Aldrich tariff law and the war industries established in more recent years.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, it was made known, will act as the intermediary between the Congressional committees and President Harding. His advice as to whether tax or tariff revision shall be given precedence is expected to carry great weight.

Notwithstanding the insistence of Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee that an emergency tariff bill be given precedence, the belief is growing that the conference may decide to sidetrack all tariff legislation temporarily and take up a tax bill first.

Such a program, it is held, would hasten the date of final enactment of a general tariff law rather than delay it. That this would be the case is argued on the theory that consideration of a temporary tariff bill would lead to inevitable delays in the Senate and that many months would be lost before a permanent tariff bill could be placed on the statute books.

It is understood that Republican Leader Mondell of the House inclines to the view that tax revision should be given precedence over tariff revision. This is the position taken by Representative Longworth, who not only is a member of the Ways and Means Committee, but also of the House Steering Committee.

With a number of House leaders taking this position, and supported by several of the Republican Senators, it seems quite probable that tax revision will be given precedence, notwithstanding the desires of Chairman Fordney.

HIGH COST OF LABOR FACTOR.

Originally this plan covered common labor alone, but now applies to all employees, which was not unexpected.

NO INFRACTION OF RULING.

The resolution of the Pennsylvania directors is so worded as to indicate that there will be no infraction of the Labor Board's ruling such as took place in the Erie case. The labor leaders say it bears out their charge made several times during the last month that the roads are preparing to "swamp the Labor Board" with controversies over wage reductions. At Cincinnati Grand President E. H. Fitzgerald of the Brotherhood Clerks said legislation would be introduced at the special session of Congress next month "to compel railroad managers to conform to decisions of the Labor Board." The "big four" brotherhoods have asked for conferences with the executives with a view of establishing regional boards to mediate between the two groups.

BUILDING AT DEADLOCK.

Building: It is now a deadlock between the craftsmen and the contractors over wages. The men refuse to listen to proposals that wages be cut from $1.25 an hour to $1, while the builders say they will not sign up any agreements May 1 on the $1.25 basis. This might result in a go-as-you-please situation after May 1. Some builders say with labor on a competitive basis, due to unemployment, they will have no difficulty in getting men enough at $1 an hour, or even less, provided they can land a few contracts.

Here are a few observations gleaned from talks with large employers, business men and labor chiefs:

Unemployment seems to be growing instead of decreasing. The common belief was that quite as many are out of work as during the slump in 1915, after the new tariff act went in. Chicago appears still to be in better condition than the eastern industrial regions.

FIGURES ON UNEMPLOYED.

As to the number of unemployed in Chicago, no two guesses were alike. Some said 100,000; some 200,000. In the building industry 45,000 are idle and the season is fast approaching; in steel, 20,000; on the railroads, 20,000; at the stock yards, between 12,000 and 15,000. These figures are averages of estimates from representative establishments and together they total up 100,000. Add to that the many other industrial lines and clerks, stenographers and those in other white-collar occupations and 200,000 does not appear to be an exaggerated estimate. But against this should be balanced those who have gone back to the farm—the procession has been a large one—and those, such as colored laborers imported from the South during the war, who have gone back home. Then, too, there is the drift toward Chicago of the "floating" laborer and the "bo." The "flops" are filled and the City Hall corridors are filling up with men out of work who are trying to reach some Alderman's ear. But at that, some relief agencies say the distress so far is not much more than that of a normal year before the war.

UNION HEADS APPEAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 9.—Railway labor executives, testifying in the national agreement hearing before the Railroad Labor Board, today appealed to the public to prevent a possible recurrence of disastrous strikes and lockouts by defeating what they termed "a concerted movement by organized capital to down labor."

W. V. O'Neil, president of the International Railroad Supervisors of Mechanics, in a written statement to the executives, charged that supervisors had not made the proper effort to deal with the carriers and declared that carriers had "numerous times" declined conferences sought by the supervisors' committees.

RAILROAD ANNOUNCES CUT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—Wages of all unskilled labor on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad, will be reduced, effective April 10, according to a circular issued today. About 8000 employees are affected.

KRUTTSCHNITT HOPEFUL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—The business of the railroads is on an upward trend, after having struck the bottom three or four weeks ago, and better times may be expected in the near future, according to Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific Railroad. He is here today after a trip over the company's Mexican line.

THELEN CAUSES CONSTERNATION

these admit he has shown the way for considerable economies. And as for legislators who sincerely hoped he could tear the camouflage from the budget—their delight is better guessed at than expressed.

Thelen resumed his testimony before the Senate this afternoon and tonight submitted additional figures to the Assembly.

His grasp of the full situation and his remarkable detailed information on the budget items are two of the outstanding reasons for the paralyzed condition of the State officials and employees who had gleefully anticipated many opportunities to upset his calculations.

MODERN MIRACLE.

If he succeeds in winning over a sufficient number of legislators by his economy plea, a plea based on the same reasoning that caused the new Secretary of the Treasury at Washington to urge economy in national affairs, he will accomplish a modern miracle.

Also the name of Thelen hereafter will be a bugbear to any little commissions or infant bureaus hoping to grow up and spend a lot of money when they reach maturity.

Forces of the State administration will, of course, use their best men and their best means to refute Thelen's claims. Whereas, his presentation has been that of a disinterested investigator, the counterclaims of the commissions, bureaus, agencies, departments, boards and various subordinate organizations will be based purely and simply on the first law of nature.

Some legislators estimate that attacks on Thelen's figures will fail to make satisfactory excuse for at least $3,000,000 which he finds can be eliminated from various budget items. A determined fight particularly will be made on his recommendation that certain permanent improvements amounting to more than $2,000,000, be placed in a $10,000,000 bond issue recommended by Gov. Stephens.

FISCHER WOULD CUT MORE.

It is said that Will H. Fischer, director of the Taxpayers' Association of California, who is the author of a governmental reorganization measure now before both houses, and who expects to testify during the budget hearings, will recommend savings greater by $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 than the reductions urged by Thelen. Fischer is a widely-recognized student of governmental procedure, and has been engaged in investigating government in California for more than four years.

Thelen did not use Fischer's reorganization measure as a basis for his calculations as possible reductions, but took the so-called economy measures of Gov. Stephens, estimating that adoption of the administration's consolidation program would save the State approximately $300,000 for the biennium.

It has been estimated that adoption of the Fischer plan would result in a biennial saving of from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000. The next legislative fight is expected to center on the two retrenchment programs already introduced, and may include a third economy proposal, prepared by an independent group in the Legislature that desires a combination of the two propositions.

HEARINGS TO CONTINUE.

Budget hearings in the Senate will continue this week, but are scheduled for interruption in the Assembly tomorrow, due to the acceptance of an invitation extended to the members of the lower house to visit the University of California at Berkeley.

Meanwhile an "opposition group" is developing in both the Senate and Assembly, members of the new faction having in mind a program calling for resistance to executive domination of the Legislature, as in the case of the "come through" King bill.

It is needless to say that the members of this group, which includes both pro-King bill and anti-King bill material, will use care that none of their number will be open to any "come through" that an administration willing to resort to that sort of thing could bring to bear. The real test of administration strength will come when the budget and economy propositions are decided.

And the Campbells are coming.

REFORMS HIT UNIVERSITIES.

Student Papers Condemn Modern Dance and Dress.

Shimmy, Toddle, Camel Walk, Fancy Wiggles, Knocked.

Even the Girls Start Showing Their Ears Now.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 9.—"Going, going, gone," will soon be the sad tale told of the shimmy, the toddle and other fancy wiggle variations of the Terpsichorean art as practiced by the college youth of America, declares the University Daily Kansan. From all over the country comes the news that the naughty steps must be forgotten; and more than that, some schools are protesting vigorously against the short, knee-length skirt, the thin silk stockings for frigid days and even the "vile weed" in cigarettes.

At Vassar the girls have gone on a strike against present fashions. They are wearing long skirts and are again exposing to view the ears hidden so many years from the curious glances of mere man. They also wear their hair slicked back in tight knots.

From the University of Oregon Emerald comes the clarion cry "On with the dance, but let it be exceedingly proper." This article informs the student that henceforth the "camel walk" will be strictly forbidden.

REGULATE DISTANCE.

Drury College students have ruled that the shoulder of the man when dancing shall be six inches distant from his partner's and that orthodox Vernon Castle dancing procedure be followed. To see that the regulations are carried out faculty chaperons are appointed to censor all dances.

At California extravagances of the formal dance are under fire. The Daily Californian complains that the expenses of junior day, celebrated recently, totaled more than $18 for the man who attended the farce in the afternoon and the prom in the evening.

Student dances at the University of Michigan have been called off entirely by the undergraduate senate. Charges of cigarette smoking, whisky drinking and "general caddishness" at "hops" were advanced to justify this ruling.

FORBID TODDLING.

Toddling has been forbidden at the University of Wisconsin. A student plan to reform the entire campus social life has been concocted with the women students especially lined up strongly behind it.

Cheek-to-cheek dancing at Manhattan has been prohibited. No longer will the agricultural college gallants be permitted to whisper fond words in the ears of their partners as they glide across the floor.

Chicago University gives the modern fad a more scientific indictment, calling it a "wave of selfishness which can reasonably be referred to the war."

At the University of Missouri the reform has been extended from improper manners of dancing to the short skirt, while the Brown University Daily Herald comes out with the statement that "it's time for the men to act, since the girls and their mothers refuse. We don't prophesy any reform, but we do intend to remind the women and the men what decent people think of their dress and dancing."

And at the K.U. there are the official proclamations by the men's and women's governing bodies against the shimmy, toddle, closer dancing and smoking at entrances to buildings on the campus.

HUNTINGTON BEACH INCREASES YIELD.

LOS ANGELES OIL FIELD HELPS SWELL STANDARD'S PRODUCTION FIGURES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—The production of oil by the Standard Oil Company of California increased 70 per cent in 1920, rising from an average of 69,158 barrels daily in January to 105,307 barrels in December, according to the annual report of the company made public today.

Development in the Elk Hills and Huntington Beach fields, which a few years ago were not considered as having oil possibilities, is given as the cause for the great increase in production. The producing properties of the company were appraised during the year by a New York engineering firm at more than $250,000,000, according to the report, making it one of the largest companies in the country.

Notwithstanding increased production the company's stocks of all petroleum products declined at the rate of 10,437 barrels a day, a total of 3,809,715 barrels for the year, as a result of increased consumption.

FAIL TO END FISH WAGE CONTROVERSY.

UNION REPRESENTATIVES AND COMPANIES BAY CITY CONFAB FUTILE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—Conferences today between codfish companies and the representatives of the Fishermen's Union over wage demands failed to reach a settlement, representatives of the companies announced. The wage of 9 cents for each fish caught, which obtained last season, is not possible this year, the companies said, owing to market and other conditions. Little more than half of that wage is being offered. About 400 cod fishermen are affected here.

A wage cut has been announced by the salmon fishing companies also and negotiations are now proceeding looking toward an agreement.

Competition of Japanese fishing companies in the South American and West Indies markets is advanced by both cod and salmon companies as a reason for wage conditions.

PANAMA-COSTA RICA ARMISTICE IN EFFECT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The armistice concluded between Panama and Costa Rica at the insistance of the United States has been put in full effect along the entire frontier, according to information communicated to the State Department today by the Panama Legation.

It is understood that both sides have agreed to abide by the decision of the mediators.

TREATY FIGHT UP IN SENATE.

mendous interest at this time and reads as follows:

"The undersigned minority members of the Committee on Foreign Relations agree most heartily with the declaration contained in the majority report that 'no good can come by recalling and discussing old issues.' But we beg to remind the majority that this proposed treaty does exactly that thing. What are we paying this $25,000,000 for except in settlement of old issues? Will not the American people ask this question, and can we avoid the answer that it is in payment of something that grew out of that past issue? What does the United States receive for this vast sum? Absolutely nothing, either corporeal or incorporeal. Colombia grants nothing, parts with nothing which she possesses.

"This payment, then, can only be predicated on the assumption that we are indebted to Colombia, either morally or legally, and no combination of words, no niceties of diplomatic language can hide the naked truth that this treaty is an admission that the conduct of this country in acquiring their right to construct a canal across the Isthmus of Panama was a wrong committed against Colombia. On no other hypothesis could Colombia ask for this indemnity of $25,000,000, and on no other could we acquiesce in that demand.

FORCED INTO RELIEF.

"While there is an attempt in the beginning of the report by careful wording to veil this disagreeable aspect of the case it is, nevertheless, forced into relief as the moving consideration for this great outlay in another sentence of that report, which reads as follows: 'In all of these treaties the United States, out of the desire to settle the controversy, has offered to make recompense to Colombia by way of satisfaction for her claim for damages.' There is a clear admission that we are paying this sum to settle a claim for damages. By making the payment we admit the claim.

"The minority of the committee desires to go on record as denying the charge which this payment recognizes as valid, that this country was guilty of any international misconduct in the acquisition of the territory on which the canal was constructed.

"On the contrary the minority declare that our conduct in securing an agreement from Panama was just and proper in every respect and that the Colombian government has no just or equitable claim against this nation for any act on our part in connection therewith.

PLEA OF GUILTY.

"This treaty is, in effect, not only a plea of guilty to the charges made against us by Colombia, but an agreement that, in addition to the payment of $10,000,000, the price for which the government of Colombia had agreed to convey to us the right of way over the isthmus while she claimed sovereign rights over that territory, we shall also pay $15,000,000 to Colombia as exemplary damages. No other construction can or will be placed by the world on our action.

"Nor can we avoid this conclusion by declaring to the world that we are paying this vast sum, two and a half times greater than we paid Panama, for our right of way, 'to establish cordial relations of amity.' We cannot afford to purchase cordial relations with any country. We cannot afford to answer a blackmail demand. Once respond to such a demand and we shall be held up for every fancied wrong by other countries."

"This treaty involves two questions: First, whether on its merits it ought to be ratified by the Senate, and, second, whether any treaty with Colombia ought, under existing circumstances, be ratified at this time. In our opinion, Colombia, by her conduct at the time of the Hay-Herran treaty, forfeited all claim on the United States on account of the latter's acquisition of the Canal Zone and its accompanying rights from the republic of Panama. But assuming that a treaty is to be made at all, the undersigned regard the one now presented to the Senate as improvident and unworthy. This treaty contains an apology for past conduct on the part of the United States, which, however veiled, is still an apology. It proposes to give Colombia the enormous sum of $25,000,000 with no return, no equivalent except the highly doubtful goodwill of Colombia. All the articles confer rights and privileges upon Colombia, and the United States gets nothing, neither the control of the Atrato route nor the important islands provided for in the Knox treaty, nor even a formal recognition of the title of the United States to the canal and the Canal Zone. It seems to the minority that such a treaty, giving a huge sum of money to a country which has, strictly speaking, forfeited all claims upon the United States by its own conduct, is not to be defended and should not be ratified.

ANOTHER OBJECTION.

"Another grave objection to this treaty will be found in the first clause of Article II, which makes an exception in favor of Colombian transit of the canal, particularly for her ships, munitions of war and armed forces, not provided for in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. It discriminates as to canal tolls for all such transit against all other Latin-American countries, as well as against our own ships even in the coastwise trade.

"It places us in a position where even granting our right to refuse transit to the armed forces the vessels of countries at war with us, Colombia might pass the vessels of the countries with which we are at war through the canal by putting them under her own flag and claiming them as nationals.

"The second objection which lies against any possible treaty with Colombia at this time is to be found in the fact that immediate and hasty action is urged because Colombia threatens us with hostility. Any friendship which is bought is worthless, especially when purchased under threats which, when successful, breeds contempt in the mind of the seller and a sense of bitter dislike and humiliation in that of the buyer. No strong and proud nation should ever consent to buy with money the abstention from hostility of any country which sees fit to threaten it. It is a degradation to which the United States should never submit.

"If we believe that we had wronged the Colombian government we should be quick to repair that wrong. As we believe we have not done that country any injustice we earnestly protest against the purchase of her friendship.

COMMITTED FORGERIES UNDER DEATH THREATS.

DEFENDANT TESTIFIES THAT PARTNER DECLARED HE WOULD KILL HIM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPOKANE, March 9.—Jay Hough testified in Superior Court here today that only under death threats by his late partner, John B. Milholland, did he forge bonds, through which, it is alleged, James F. Callahan, wealthy Wallace (Idaho) mining man, was defrauded out of $400,000.

Hough declared to the court that on two occasions Milholland threatened to kill him unless he signed the securities.

He is being tried for the forgery of $50,000 worth of improvement bonds of Liberty county, Montana.

AUSTRALIA IS SUING FOR VALUE OF BOATS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—The commonwealth of Australia filed suit in the United States District Court today to foreclose mortgages for $1,625,000 on eight motorships sold by it to the Pacific Motorship Company and the Pacific Freighter Company, known as the W. L. Comyn interests, and to obtain the appointment of a receiver pending the outcome of the action.

These ships, known as the B and C boats, were bought originally by J. E. Chilberg of Seattle.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is ot get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning, all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—[Advertisement.

price declines and business in France, according to have tended to strain of banks. A liquidation of the government-owned French merchant marine, aggregating 1,000,000 gross tons, is being urged.

ITALIAN BANKS PROFIT.

Italian banks are reporting large profits, however, the survey continued, and the condition of the government finances was regarded as more favorable. Local unrest and strikes about Rome have been decreasing but unemployment is in evidence, it added.

German interests are attempting to obtain control of the Austrian government's former ammunition plants, the survey reports, and German capital is trying to control the iron industry in Austria. The government finances was regarded as more unfavorable. The cost of living there rose 10 per cent in February, it was reported.

Business depression is increasing in the Scandinavian countries, the survey asserted, while German competition is placing many industries in a worse condition than formerly.

JAPAN PROSPEROUS.

Japan's foreign trade continued the increase started in January, according to the survey, while bank loans increased under lower rates and easier money. An upward trend in the exchange rate on the United States, it was said, is looked for in Japan. Orders for foreign goods are decreasing in China but the trade depression is expected to improve by July, while the financial situation is improving.

There has been no improvement in financial affairs in Agentina, the survey said.

Banks in Brazil are not granting loans except for strictly commercial purposes. The cost of living is increasing steadily but large crops are predicted.

Peru is passing through its readjustment period without great embarrassment, the survey concluded.

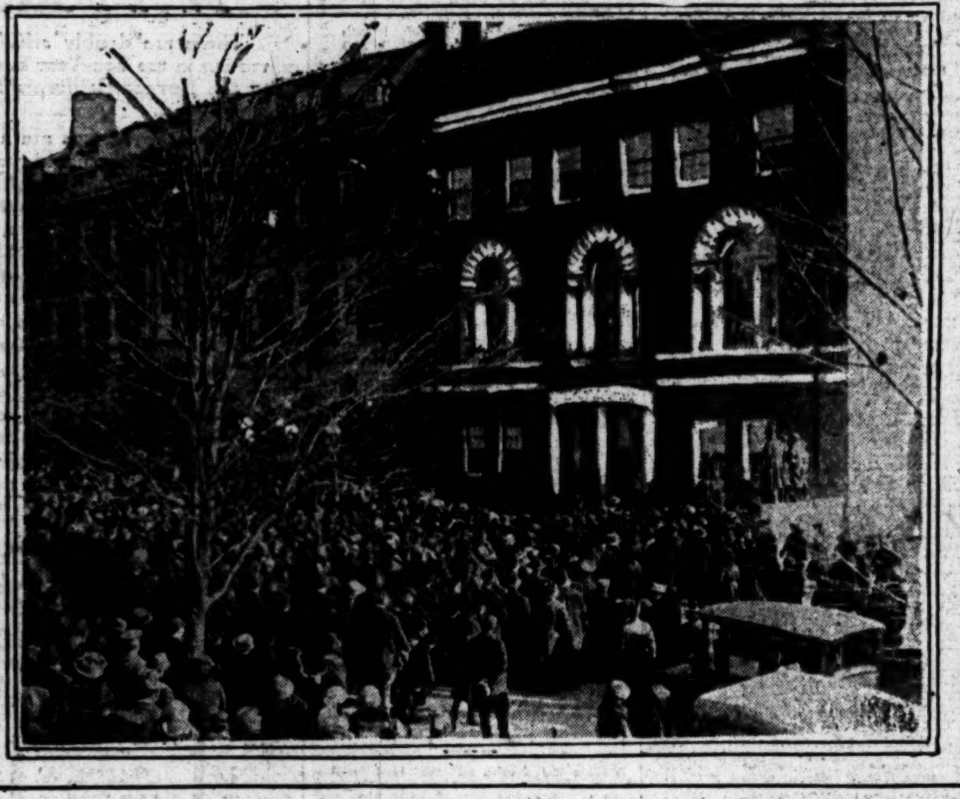
THOUSANDS :: PAY :: HOMAGE :: TO :: EX-PRESIDENT.

Washingtonians Honor Retiring Chief by Visit to His Home.



[Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.]

After the Ceremonies.

Ex-President, but not forgotten, as was shown by the celebration following the inauguration of Mr. Harding, when thousands of Washingtonians, with not a few inauguration visitors, went to the new home of Mr. Wilson to wish him well. The former President was much impressed by the tribute and received a committee of those who marched through the street to do him honor.

ASK HARDING TO ARBITRATE.

session of the executive board this afternoon. The recommendations were immediately placed before the delegates in general conference. A heated discussion followed, in which the proposed action of the packers in reducing wages by approximately 15 per cent and extending the possible working day to ten hours was unanimously denounced.

The delegates present were unanimously in favor of striking if the changes announced by the packers are put into effect, according to Mr. Lane. A referendum vote will be necessary, however, before the strike order can be issued, he said.

The telegram further recites that agreement was continued after the armistice at the request of the packers, and that "now, at the very beginning of the reconstruction period, the packers repudiate their agreement. They have further announced that, beginning next Monday, they will reduce wages 12½ to 15 per cent, and reinstate the ten-hour day in all their plants, Judge Alschuler having granted the employees an eight-hour day in his first award."

"We charge," the telegram said, "that the packers, having forced live stock prices down to a lower than pre-war level and having filled their storehouses to overflowing with meat bought at the lowest of prices on the hoof, now propose to cripple the industry deliberately for the purpose of unloading this meat at enhanced prices upon the public, thereby achieving the double purpose of enormous profits by adding to the cost of living to the general public and of striking, at the same time, a body blow at organized labor for the purpose of destroying it."

ADVOCATE ARBITRATION.

An "orderly and established method of proceeding in industrial affairs" by conference and arbitration is advocated in the telegram, which says this method "contemplates strikes and lockouts and other hostilities of industrial warfare as a last resort, when no peaceful settlement is possible." The President is then petitioned to bring the packers into conference.

Meanwhile, the telegram suggests, the President is urged to request the five big packers "to hold in abeyance the wage and hour changes until your Secretary of Labor can investigate the charges contained herein."

"The packers should not be permitted," the telegram concludes, "to brazenly violate the agreement by ignoring the government and their employees, destroying, at the same time, the agency of association set up by the government, which could pass and should pass upon any changes the packers or the employees may desire to put into effect."

DENIAL BY PACKERS.

Denial that the packers had large stores of meat on hand was made in a statement tonight by Richard Hebb of Chicago, speaking for the packers. He said that all storage stocks on hand on February 28 were but 33,000,000 pounds more than the same date last year, and 61,000,000 pounds less than in 1919.

The telegram to President Harding, totaling 800 words, reviewed the whole situation leading up to the wage reduction announced by the packers yesterday, and asks him to bring to the conference table this "small group of employers, who are bent upon plunging one of the great food industries of the nation into chaos."

"During the war," the telegram continued, "workers of the packing plants joined the union in large numbers."

They were confronted with mounting living costs, it said, and at the same time information of the "enormous profits" of the packers was published broadcast.

"In this national emergency," the telegram said, "the employers showed fight and said they were willing that a strike should take place. On the other hand the employees' representatives induced them to remain on the job as a patriotic duty. President Wilson succeeded in bringing the packers into conference and the result was an agreement that during the period of the war they would submit all points of difference with their employees to arbitration. Judge Alschuler was selected as the administrator to arbitrate these differences."

O. C. Willis, manager of the Omaha branch of Armour & Co., commenting on the appeal of the conference of packing-house employees to President Harding to try to prevent proposed wage reductions, said tonight that there "was nothing to the argument" of the union men that the packers are violating any war-time agreement.

"The agreement," he said, "made Dec. 25, 1917, with the President's mediation commission, says 'by virtue of the authority vested in it with a view to settlement for the duration of the war of differences in order that there may be no interruption in the supply and service furnished by the companies essential to the successful prosecution of the war.' An extension of the agreement was made in the fall of 1919 for the purpose of tiding over the period of readjustments, which period has long since elapsed.

"There has not been and there will not be under the new arrangement, any discrimination whatever for or against union labor. I say this to contradict the statement that we are trying to destroy the union.

"A notice was posted at the exit of the Armour plant here saying the company does not intend to go back to the ten-hour day but on the contrary under the new arrangement the killing gangs will be enabled to work forty-eight hours per week, whereas under the war measure it was not possible for them to average much over forty-two hours per week."

BACK TO NORMAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 9.—A statement denying charges that the packers "would welcome a strike as a means of getting rid of accumulated products which are in storage," was issued today by J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co. The charges were made yesterday by Dennis Lane, secretary of the Amalgamated Order of Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, commenting on wage reductions announced by the packers.

Mr. Armour said the bulk of American meat consumption was of fresh meat and that the government's March report showed cold storage of meat, lard, etc., was 250,000 pounds less than for the corresponding month last year.

"Ninety per cent of our employees appreciate that lower production costs are essential and justifiable," the statement continued.

"Our action with regard to wages is a definite part of the whole nation's campaign to get back to normal."

WOMEN CANNERS DUE FOR PAY REDUCTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—The Industrial Welfare Commission of California will meet here March 14 to adjust wages of women workers in the spinach and asparagus canning industries so as to permit the canning of those two products this year at a lower cost, it was announced today by Mrs. Katherine Philips Edson, executive officer.

Representatives of the canneries had not asked for a reduction in the minimum wage, she said, but wished the uniform piece rates established last year to be abolished so as to eliminate unusually high wages earned by some cannery hands.

SOVIET LEADERS FLEE PETROGRAD

viet government forces had recaptured the fortresses of Krasnaya Gorka and Systerbak, this morning, and were training the big guns upon Kronstadt, where fires were observed.

An infantry assault by the soviet troops upon Kronstadt is reported to have been repulsed with enormous losses to the attacking forces.

These reports were preceded by claims made in Helsingfors dispatches that Petrograd was in the hands of the revolutionaries. According to a Reval message, however, the soviet troops recaptured the southeastern suburbs of Petrograd.

Thousands of fugitives from Petrograd are clamoring for entry into Finland, the Finnish advices state.

TROTZKY IN FORTRESS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, March 9.—Another version of the situation in Petrograd is given in a Central News dispatch from Helsingfors, dated today. This says that fighting is continuing in the streets of Petrograd and that War Minister Trotzky and M. Zinovieff, the soviet governor of Petrograd, were reported to have taken refuge in the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, surrounded by a large number of protective troops.

All attempts by the revolutionaries to capture this fortress, the message says, were repulsed.

"Gen. Brusiloff effected an organization of the soviet troops in the city," continues the dispatch, "and ordered a mixed regiment of Finnish and Chinese to clear the streets. The revolutionaries, however, refused to fire on the Finns, who joined the revolutionaries, the latter repulsing the Chinese.

"Moscow was reported quiet, with Lenine remaining inside the Kremlin issuing orders for arrests, which are occurring by hundreds."

COMMUNICATION CUT.

Communications between Russia and Siberia have been cut for more than a fortnight, says an official wireless message from Moscow today. The break is ascribed to the work of Social Revolutionaries operating with generals formerly attached to the forces of the late Admiral Kolchak, the message adds.

Workers in soviet Russia are indignant over the revolutionary uprising at Kronstadt, and are begging to be allowed to fight against the forces engaged with soviet troops there, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow. It is said in the dispatch that "friction is beginning to be noticeable among the mutineers."

The Tenth Congress of the Russian Communist party opened at Moscow yesterday, under difficult circumstances, the dispatch said.

"The republic is surrounded by an endless number of enemies," it continues. "The short breathing space given Russia has been interrupted by new Entente intrigues. The tasks confronting the republic must be carried through at a time when she is struggling against counter-revolutionaries."

Reports from Kovno today say many Jewish refugees from Russia are trying to reach the frontiers of Lithuania, Letvia and Poland, fearing uprisings will result in pogroms.

Representatives of the Bolsheviki in Russia have received instructions not to repatriate any more Russians returning from the United States, according to a Riga dispatch.

ASK AID OF AMERICA.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, March 9.—The executive committee of former members of the Russian Duma, with headquarters here, sent a cablegram today to Boris Bakhmeteff, the Russian Ambassador at Washington, to make representations at the State Department on behalf of the revolutionary movement in Kronstadt and elsewhere. The Ambassador was asked to explain the nature of the revolution and to request that food and other aid on purely humanitarian grounds be sent to the scene directly or through the American Red Cross.

N. Avksentieff, president of the committee, told the Associated Press today that the committee, as a result of direct secret communications established with Russia through Finland, could state that the present movement was different from all previous attacks.

WANT PEOPLE TO KNOW.

"I want the American people to know," he said, "that the revolution is one organized by the people of Russia and that it differs from the outbreaks of Wrangel, Kolchak and Denikine. It is a declaration of the resentment of the people against Bolshevism. The present phase of it may be put down by the brutal force of the Bolsheviki, but a nationwide revolution is sure to come in April or May. We believe this is the beginning of the end of Bolshevism.

"The executive committee decided last January that Bolshevism can be defeated only from within and not with expeditions such as that of Gen. Wrangel. The present revolution proves the wisdom of our decision.

"Our present desire is to rush food for the area temporarily freed from the Bolsheviki. We hope the American Red Cross will give us the supplies it has available in Northeast Europe. We do not ask the United States to participate in the situation in any way politically."

BATUM, March 9.—A Bolshevik uprising has broken out here. Thousands of persons, in addition to the Allied mission and members of the Georgian government, are leaving.

KILLED BY MISTAKE; APOLOGY ACCEPTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.), March 9.—Mistaken identity is said by the police to have caused the fatal shooting of Choy Duck, 54 years old, member of the Hip Sing Tong, in the Seattle Chinese quarter today. A formal apology from the Hop Sings to the Hip Sings tonight is believed to have averted a threatened outbreak of tong warfare here.

"We killed him by mistake—very sorry," is the message the Hop Sings are said to have telephoned to the Hip Sings.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; by removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—[Advertisement.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Banker Tells of Readjustment; New Bond House Formed; Investment Tests.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Irving H. Hellman, vice-president of the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, who has been investigating financial conditions from a New York vantage point, said yesterday in an interview with Trade Talk, that it is the general opinion of men of finance that the American people are fast adapting their customs and modes of living to the changed conditions resulting from the readjustment after the war.

The reduction of prices, he calls amazing, and says that the public has once more commenced to buy in quantities. This price reduction movement is expanding everywhere, and when it has spread throughout the country normal business conditions will be nearly restored. Average commodity prices have declined about 40 per cent during the past year, but are still above the 1918 basis.

It is Mr. Hellman's opinion that the situation has materially improved during the past month, and everywhere an effort is being exercised to convert high-cost merchandise into cash. This is the only solution possible to decrease outstanding debts, and effectively restore the credits and spectacular inflation which followed the war.

PRICES GO DOWN.

Business activities have been extremely slow, which tended to reduce the spending power of the people. In a few lines, prices have actually reached the pre-war level. This movement has been more pronounced in the dry goods, leather and automobile industries. However, much remains to be accomplished, as it is nearly impossible, at a time like this, to bring the people to the realization of the difference between money and credit, and the absolute necessity of paying off loans and indebtedness as fast as possible. Nearly all the banks and financial interests are working together to aid their legitimate borrowers to re-establish themselves and increase their assets.

The general improvement in business and industrial conditions has been reflected by the reopening of mills and factories on partial or full time, and by the increased demand for spring merchandise. Farm products have been liberally placed on the market, and the tendency to hold produce for higher market prices has been overcome. The demand for merchandise has increased in proportion as the prices have been reduced, and the buyers' strike, as it was termed, and which was so marked in the recent trade depression, is almost a thing of the past.

GROWTH IN SAVINGS.

Mr. Hellman was especially interested in the financial reports and banking statistics. Investigation has shown that in spite of the rapid decline in the amount of money spent by the people of this country through unemployment, reduced wages, and losses incurred by the reduction of price of merchandise, foodstuffs, grain and farm produce, there has been a decided gain in the savings deposits, even in industrial cities where factories and mills are running only part time.

Thirty-seven New York savings banks, representing 67 per cent of the resources of all savings banks in that State, showed a gain of 10 per cent for the year ending January 10, a slightly greater per cent than the gain for the year previous, and nearly four times as large as the increase reported in 1918.

The entire country is becoming more economical, and although personal extravagance is still prevalent, it is not to be feared as it was during the past two years. As W. P. G. Harding, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, said recently: "Our banking system is sounder and stronger today than it has been for many months. Business was at first overexhilarated, and then unduly depressed, but it has now recovered its normal state of mind. The significance of this fact is apparent to us all, and we are warranted to look to the future with a feeling of conservative optimism, with renewed courage and restored confidence, which will make easier our task of overcoming the problems which are ahead of us."

GOVERNMENT TOO COSTLY.

In this effort to reduce the excessive cost of living, government officials of the United States, Great Britain, France and several of the smaller countries, are trying to reduce governmental expenditures. This is gradually being effected, for these heads of government and diplomats realize that heavy taxes are, and have always been, an important influence in raising living expenses. At the present time, this country has plenty of credit, and it is to be hoped that the incoming Congress will not be induced to increase this supply or to provide additional means for temporizing with a situation which calls for careful curtailment where that is possible.

The Federal reserve system is being wonderfully controlled by seven capable members of the Federal Reserve Board, whose task is as important as has ever been entrusted to a government commission. These men are bringing the whole world to the realization that the war was much the most costly undertaking that human beings ever engaged in, and that every living person must in some way pay his part. These highly complicated problems of reconstruction demand men well versed in financial statesmanship of the highest order, and the country is to be congratulated that the service of such men as Paul M. Warburg and the present members of the board can be secured for the Federal Advisory Council and for the board itself.

Recent figures, given out by the Department of Labor, indicate that there are over 3,500,000 men unemployed at the present time, a very large increase over last year. Certain discussions have arisen between the railroad labor board and the workers regarding the abandonment of rules governing labor conditions, which were enforced during war times, and which have since been discontinued. The abolition of piece-work has brought up the problem of the closed shop and the necessity for increasing labor efficiency on the railroads so as to enable the carriers to furnish transportation at a lower operating cost. In other branches of industry, laborers have seemed willing to meet their employers and accept such terms as would insure employment, at least on a partial time.

BETTER DAYS AHEAD.

The rise in Liberty Bonds and the increasing inquiry for safe investment securities indicates that the people of the country believe that steady progress is being made, and that better days are ahead. Long-term securities, of the tried and true type, are in much greater demand.

In a great number of industries, capital and labor are co-operating harmoniously and the one thing certain is that both employers and employees must face the fact that one cannot expect war wages to continue in peace times any more than they can expect war prices to prevail in peace times. They must face conditions as they are and unite in doing what is necessary to reduce operating expenses for every household in the land.

NEW INVESTMENT FIRM.

Cotton Market Has Better Tone; Prices Show Gain

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 9.—The New York cotton market had a much better tone early. First prices showed gains of 18 to 35 points, with Wall street and room shorts the best buyers. Offerings were supplied by New Orleans and spot houses, but the list held most of its advance.

Average was about 27 points net higher. In addition to scattered selling, some selling was reported for Western account, which was connected with the weaker ruling of grain and the market eased off 15 to 18 points, but the decline was checked by continued Liverpool buying of May, with the market quiet but steady around midday.

Private cables said the cotton exchange at Bombay, India, had been closed owing to financial difficulties.

Trading was quiet in the afternoon at 15 to 17 points net higher.

TREND DOWNWARD ON PRODUCE MARKET.

SUMMER SQUASH AND PEAS DROP UNDER HEAVY SUPPLIES.

Trading was sluggish on the local produce market, and the price trend was downward for many of the leading lines of fruits and vegetables. The increasing receipts of Imperial Valley summer squash caused prices for this commodity to react to a lower level, good stock selling at $2.25 per field crate, a drop of 15 cents. Peas were also in heavier supply, and both the local and Imperial Valley receipts were selling at slightly lower prices. Good stock, however, was practically unchanged at 11 to 12 cents per pound. Arrivals of Mexican tomatoes yesterday amounted to two carloads, but the offerings were absorbed readily at the prices of the preceding day. Potatoes continued steady, with the movement of the Idaho offerings active throughout the day. Fancy Stockton Burbanks were bringing from $2 to $2.25 per hundred in small lots, while the poorer offerings were selling at $1.75 per sack. For Idaho Russets the market ruled around $2 and $2.25 per sack.

No sales of Idaho Rurals were reported in the carlot potato market yesterday, but Russets were in good demand at $1.85 per hundred, with supplies limited. Reports from Idaho Falls show a strong market prevailing there, with a light movement toward Southern California. Arrivals of Stockton Burbanks were again liberal, but the quality is poor and the movement slow.

Imperial Valley lettuce for Eastern shipment displayed a somewhat stronger tone. Large sizes are in active demand in the East, and sales are being made as high as $1.90 to $2.00 per crate. Owing to the decreasing shipments, better prices are anticipated by dealers. There was little change in the cauliflower situation, shipments from Southern California again being light, with quality generally poor. Carlot sales were made yesterday as low as 85 cents per crate, with a little of the extra fancy stock bringing $1 per field crate.

We Are Ready to Help You Build Your Home

To facilitate the erection of the many new homes needed in Los Angeles, we are prepared to lend the money required for their construction. This carefully thought-out plan greatly relieves the acute housing problem with which this city is confronted.

We will advance money on any projected or recently completed residence or apartment house that is well located in Los Angeles or its immediate vicinity.

Loans may equal but not exceed 50 per cent of the appraised value, and on residences the limit is $5000. Each loan is made for 15 years, and may be paid off on or after three years without bonus. Interest is payable June 1 and December 1 in each year and the principal is reduced by the payment semi-annually of 3 per cent of the face of the loan. When "Building Loans" are made, papers must be recorded before any material is delivered or labor performed. Details will be furnished on application.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 9.—The stock market experienced further irregular depression today, much of the news and developments, coupled with the absence of public interest, contributing to that end.

Industrial conditions assumed more disturbing aspects, the coming wage reduction by the packers being followed by announcement that the Pennsylvania Railroad intends to cut salaries and wages. After the close it became known that similar action probably would be taken by all the leading transportation companies.

Less attention was directed toward foreign affairs, but the uncertain tone of international remittances, in which some recovery was shown on covering of speculative commitments, seemed to offer little hope of early readjustment of the unsettlement resulting from the Allied occupation of Germany. Speculative issues fared better than standard stocks. Such investment issues as the high grade transcontinentals were under constant pressure, at net losses of 1 to about 2 points. Sales, 400,000 shares.

In the bond market, rails were adversely affected by the heaviness of kindred stocks. Among the various government flotations the outstanding feature was Liberty 3½'s at the new low for the year of 90.24, others of that group also easing. Total sales (par value) $8,875,000.

BUY AN INTEREST IN HAWTHORNE LEASES

The HAWTHORNE - REDONDO FIELD promises to be one of the great oil fields of Southern California—with 15 companies in the field and TWO GIANT GASSERS within the past few months—it has made a wild scramble for leases.

The height was reached last week when a 6-acre lease was offered for $6000 bonus—$1000 per acre.

Huntington-Hawthorne Consolidated Oil Co.

OWN 70½-ACRE LEASE in Section 35, Hawthorne field. This company's well No. 1 is now being drilled on this lease—Owns drilling site 16 big lots in Tract 2704, Hawthorne, approximately 1500 feet from the famous HAWTHORNE NO. 1 and STANDARD GASSERS. Well No. 2 will be drilled on this tract and contract has already been let.

MANAGEMENT—L. F. STEPHENSEN, Mgr. Moneta Water Co., Director Moneta Commercial Bank; HON. JOS. V. CULLEN, former Industrial Manager of City of Redondo; S. J. EGINTON, Field Superintendent, formerly Superintendent Clark Oil Company for 9 years.

SEE THE HAWTHORNE FIELD AT OUR EXPENSE—We make daily trips, and you are under no obligations to buy.

TEN CENTS BUYS AN UNDIVIDED INTEREST IN THESE VALUABLE HAWTHORNE LEASES — with one well drilling and the second well contracted for. This company has all the advantages of a corporation—none of the disadvantages—with several points in favor over a corporation.

MAPS FREE — Colored Geological Map, also sectional map mailed on application.

Renew Demands for Export Wheat; Prices Revised.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 9.—A renewal of the export demand for wheat, with Italy and France in the market and England asking for cable offers, coming on an oversold market revised the trend of prices and turned the market strong. The final was at around the top, with prices 1@1⅛c higher on wheat, ⅝@¾c on corn, ¼c higher on oats and unchanged to ¼c higher on rye.

Selling pressure in all grains was heavier than the start, when lowest prices of the day were made, showing wheat 3@4c under the previous deliveries finish. Local traders were bearish, owing to the larger reports of farm reserves. Wheat reserves were the second largest on record. Offerings by local traders and commission-house liquidaters were absorbed by interests who saw nothing in the government report on which to become bearish.

The reports of a larger business for export than reported Tuesday, which later in the day aggregated 1,250,000 bushels to Italy, combined with inquiries from France, with expectations of 1,500,000 bushels to be bought tomorrow and prospects of England coming in as a buyer, despite its propaganda to buy wheat cheaper, created a more friendly feeling to the buying side. Early sellers became urgent buyers in the last half hour and prices moved up 4½ to 5 cents.

Corn failed to break as the trade expected, and this was the basis for a great deal of covering among the largest operators. There were several large lines covered early, which took the surplus of the market and made it difficult for the later buyers to get in. At the inside prices were 1¼c to 1⅝c from the previous day's close, while the finish was at near the top at 73⅜ for July to 71¼ for May.

For four months the trade has sold corn on the large crop and big holdings in the country, and the government report Tuesday confirmed them. Those who bought on the break acted on the theory that corn prices were low enough.

Oats had their break early and their bulge with other grains at the last. Commission houses sold early, while houses with Minneapolis connections bought July freely. Trading was best at the last. Seeding operations are progressing fairly. Cash prices were 1½c lower early, with the close stronger. Shipping sales were 127,000 bushels and receipts 113 cars.

New York had buying orders for May rye, but light offerings checked business. Houses who bought May sold July. Cash business was light. Price advanced 4 cents for May and 4¼c for July.

GRAIN MARKET DULL BUT PRICES ARE FIRM.

Although the local grain market was very quiet yesterday, and little interest was shown by traders in any of the shipments of barley or milo, the undertone was steady, with slight gains made by a few deliveries of barley. The cash article closed firm and unchanged at the level of the preceding day. Fifteen-day barley moved up 25 cents per ton during the session, while the twenty-day shipment closed 50 cents higher. There was no activity in the deferred months, the only prices for these shipments being registered for the May article, which moved up 50 cents. A car of transit barley was sold for $1.32½.

partnership with Bond & Goodwin. Mr. Tucker holds the position of president of the new firm, while Mr. Scott is the vice-president. Leigh M. Battson and Thomas B. Eastland as vice-presidents, Benton G. Wood as secretary and treasurer and Carey S. Hill complete the personnel of the organization.

In addition to their established eastern connections, Bond, Goodwin & Tucker will engage extensively in Pacific Coast financing. The present offices of the organization, located in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, and Portland, Or., will be maintained by the new firm.

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The bond market of February was featured by the offering of new issues of State bonds, no less than nine American States being represented among the new issues offered to the investing public. The total of these, according to The Daily Bond Buyer of New York, was $28,943,000 and was made up of loans floated by Idaho, Michigan, North Carolina, Oregon, Washington, Massachusetts, Maryland, Minnesota, and Delaware. In addition, one foreign state issue, namely, $24,000,000 Republic of Chile twenty-year 8 per cent external loan bonds, came on the market last month.

The municipal bond market was active during the first two weeks of February, when a large volume of newly issued bonds was absorbed. The most important city loans in February were those made to the following cities in the amounts mentioned: Chicago, $6,000,000; Toledo, O., $4,000,000; Toronto (Can.) $5,037,000; Newark, N. J., $1,600,000.

During the latter part of February the bond business was quiet, but prices of State and city issues were well maintained.

Meet Augur at the Well

IRVING V. AUGUR, for five years Geologist and Deputy Oil and Gas Supervisor for the State of California, will be at the Bolsa Chica Oil Company's well next Sunday from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m. Mr. Augur resigned his State position to become Vice-President and Superintendent of Operations of the Bolsa Chica Oil Company.

You will find the Company's derrick complete—finished 24 hours ahead of scheduled time. You will find this derrick at the corner of Nineteenth Street and Wesley Avenue, Huntington Beach. It is in the heart of the greatest activity of this new wonderful oil field. You will find the flowing wells close by.

Drive to Huntington Beach by the way of Santa Ana, or take the Pacific Electric car from the Sixth and Main Street station.

You may buy Bolsa Chica Oil Company's stock for $1 a share—while it lasts. The men backing this company comprise the business leaders of Los Angeles. They are: I. Hays Rice, President of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association; John B. Elliott, Collector of Customs for the United States Government; M. L. Germain, President of the Germain Seed & Plant Co.; Frank C. Ayars, Publisher of the Southwest Builder & Contractor; James Irving, head of James Irving & Co.; George Rice, Jr., Treasurer of George Rice & Sons; Louis J. Evans, restaurant owner of Los Angeles; Frank E. Hanson, for many years identified with the oil industry of California; Irving V. Augur, one of the best known oil men in the country; H. A. Young, Editor of the Petroleum Record, and T. S. Trebell, Publisher of the Petroleum Record.

(California Permit No. 13202 issued to Title Insurance Co., Trustee for Malis Oil Syndicate.)

—A NEW TYPE OF OIL INVESTMENT IN WHICH THE INTERESTS OF PARTICIPANTS ARE SAFEGUARDED BY THE SELECTION, AS TRUSTEE, OF THE TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST CO. OF LOS ANGELES.

In this announcement we demonstrate that the MALIS OIL SYNDICATE is beyond question the fairest and squarest now before the public; that the property to be developed offers amazing possibilities; that the form of organization is 100% economical, efficient and honest; that the money you invest will be used for nothing but development purposes and legitimate incidental expenses and that the selection of TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, as TRUSTEE, will operate to safeguard your interests and to protect the returns of your investment. A careful reading of this advertisement must convince you that these things are true and that the MALIS OIL SYNDICATE offers an exceptional investment opportunity.

The Malis Plan

The MALIS OIL SYNDICATE is a simple method of organization and operation by which the investor is absolutely guaranteed that his investment will be properly used and by which he is guaranteed the largest possible return from the income derived from the development of the property.

Under the Malis plan there is no corporation and no officers, but, instead, a trustee is appointed to receive and disburse the funds.

TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY OF LOS ANGELES—THE LARGEST ORGANIZATION OF ITS KIND IN THE WEST—IS THE TRUSTEE OF THE MALIS OIL SYNDICATE.

Under the terms of a Declaration of Trust now in operation the TRUSTEE is obligated as follows:

(1.) To hold all funds derived from the sale of MALIS OIL SYNDICATE UNIT CERTIFICATES and to disburse the same in accordance with the Declaration of Trust and upon the authority of the executive committee which is elected by a majority of the Unit holders.

(2.) To receive all funds derived from the sale of oil, gas and other hydro-carbon substances to which the MALIS OIL SYNDICATE is entitled and to disburse them in accordance with the Declaration of Trust.

The Financial Plan

The purpose of the MALIS OIL SYNDICATE is to interest sufficient capital to drill two wells on the property leased in the Huntington Beach Oil Field. THE CAPITAL FOR THIS PURPOSE WILL BE SECURED BY THE SALE OF 1000 MALIS OIL SYNDICATE UNIT CERTIFICATES OF THE PAR VALUE OF $100 EACH.

The first offer of 500 CERTIFICATES is now being made, payment for which may be made to the trustee.

The sale of this first block of CERTIFICATES at $100 each will provide sufficient capital to begin the drilling of Well No. 1.

The Malis Oil Syndicate Properties

The holdings of this Syndicate consist of four acres in the heart of the Huntington Beach oil field, Blocks 5, 6, 7 and 8 in Tract 37. This property is so shaped and so favorably located in relation to the trend of production that it offers the same opportunity for profitable development as does an ordinary ten-acre tract.

The Malis property is about 1350 feet from the Standard Oil Company's B1 well—now producing approximately 800 barrels per day.

Based on all geological and other expert information our property offers wonderful prospects for highly profitable development.

Remember These Facts

THE MALIS OIL SYNDICATE IS NOT A STOCK COMPANY.

It is a TRUST ESTATE, created for the benefit of the OWNERS of the TRUST ESTATE.

The HOLDERS of the MALIS OIL SYNDICATE UNIT CERTIFICATES are the OWNERS of the TRUST ESTATE.

These are issued by THE TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, TRUSTEE.

The syndicate connection with the TRUSTEE and TRUST ESTATE is the same as that of OPERATING MANAGERS—receiving ten per cent of gross income as compensation.

The syndicate pays all cost of OPERATION, MAINTENANCE and UPKEEP. There are no other charges against the TRUST ESTATE excepting the usual Trust Charges.

THE TERMS OF THE TRUST ESTATE CANNOT BE ALTERED—any more than the terms of a well constructed will can be altered after probate.

THE TERMS OF THE TRUST ESTATE ARE DEFINITE AND FIXED and are GUARANTEED by the TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, TRUSTEE, as follows:—

THAT—NINETY PER CENT of every dollar received from the sale of UNIT CERTIFICATES will be used for no other purposes except legitimate expenses of and DEVELOPING THE PROPERTY FOR OIL AND GAS, TEN PER CENT ONLY being allowed for selling, advertising and organization expenses.

THIS IS JUST ONE-HALF OF THE USUAL CHARGES ALLOWED.

THAT—NINETY PER CENT of every dollar of income, less the TRUSTEE charges of disbursement, will be PAID OUT to UNIT CERTIFICATE HOLDERS in the form of DIVIDENDS.

THAT—No part of the INCOME can be used for other SPECULATIONS.

THAT—The total FIXED CAPITALIZATION of the TRUST ESTATE CANNOT BE INCREASED.

THAT—This TRUST ESTATE is divided into ONE THOUSAND UNIT CERTIFICATES PAR VALUE $100 EACH.

THAT—The price of the CERTIFICATES can be raised without notice.

THAT—500 UNIT CERTIFICATES are to be sold at a price of $100.00 each.

THAT—The second block of 500 CERTIFICATES may be sold at a price fixed at not less than $150.00 per UNIT CERTIFICATE.

THAT—The TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY will collect ALL INCOME from the sale of oil or gas on the property of the TRUST ESTATE and GUARANTEES TO DISTRIBUTE THE INCOME IN THE FORM OF DIVIDENDS TO THE OWNERS OF THE ONE THOUSAND UNIT CERTIFICATES IN PROPORTION TO THE NUMBER OF UNITS OWNED BY EACH INDIVIDUAL.

The Malis Plan Is Different

Investment under the Malis plan involves no stock purchase, no stockholder's liability, and is non-assessable—the one risk is getting oil. By the Malis plan your investment entitles you to a fixed percentage of the output of the two wells to be drilled and your money can be used for no purposes other than those incidental to bringing these wells into production.

After the wells are completed TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, the TRUSTEE, sends you a check for your part of the profits. These profits cannot be used for officers' salaries or manipulation. After production has been secured then you will receive your check for your part of the profits every thirty days.

Large Profits May Be Expected

When an oganization is built upon such splendid foundations as THE MALIS OIL SYNDICATE it stands to reason that MALIS UNIT CERTIFICATE holders may expect unusually heavy profits. Every indication points to this desirable condition.

We have an ideal property, right in the middle of a great producing section; we have at the head of our field force a man of proven reputation and we have protected the interests of UNIT CERTIFICATE purchasers by placing our lease and all moneys in trust with TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY.

On the basis of developments already accomplished in this field it is permissable for this organization to anticipate a first well netting the UNIT holders 1000 barrels of oil per day.

With this production the output would be 30,000 barrels of oil per month which at $2.00 per barrel would produce an aggregate sum of $60,000 per month. Deduct from this 10% for operating, maintenance and other charges and the net production would be $54,000 which TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY will distribute to UNIT holders on a basis of $54.00 per Unit per month, less trustee expenses.

Subscriptions Are Now Accepted

MALIS OIL SYNDICATE UNIT CERTIFICATES actually do present to you an opportunity to participate in the development of one of the largest oil fields in America. They actually do assure you that your money will be used only for legitimate purposes.

PORT NOTES.

Delayed delivery of a portion of the thirty carloads of lemons being loaded on the steamer Liberator, at the outer harbor dock, resulted in the vessel being held up here. The Liberator was expected to sail Tuesday night, but will not get away until this morning.

The freighters Arizonan and Walter A. Luckenbach are expected at the harbor today to load cargo for Atlantic coast ports. The Arizonan will take a cargo of citrus fruits to New York. She is operated by the United American lines.

FOR SALE—
of used cars we follow the same general policy which has made the name of Arnold so well and favorably known as distributor of the Hudson, Essex and Maxwell lines. Every car must pass expert inspection before it is accepted as part payment on a new Hudson, Essex or Maxwell car. Every purchaser of a user car should consider the reputation of the house from which he buys—it's the safest policy.
OUR SALESMEN ARE ALL BONDED.

Planting of Spring crops is now under way at Carlsbad.

The growers made splendid returns from their winter crops of green peas, and in less than eighty days will again receive handsome returns from their spring crops. Two crops per year. This is made possible by reason of the very productive soil, the excellent water system and the very even climate.

Many ranchers are now setting out avocado trees, growing peas, beans, peppers, squash, cucumbers, etc., between the trees, thus making good profits from the soil while the trees are growing into bearing.

We have only a limited acreage for sale. Better look into this soon.

PROSPERITY DRAWS EYES OF EAST HERE.

EXHIBITORS AT COMING SHOW FOR BUSINESS HEAR OF EXPOSITION PLANS.

At a dinnejr last night in the Paulais banquet hall, 741 South Broadway, plans and prospects for the first Los Angeles Business Show, to be held April 28 to 30 in a specially constructed pavilion at the corner of Grand avenue and Washington streets, were discussed and methods of handling exhibits were outlined. Eighty exhibitors and their friends were present.

N. W. Tupper, president of the Business Exposition Company, told his audience that the eyes of the East are upon Los Angeles as a result of her splendid showing in the chart of business conditions during the recent depression, and that everything points to keen interest bv eastern business men in the show to be put on here. The exhibit, he said, will help to keep Los Angeles in the limelight as the most prosperous city in America.

W. T. Tupper, secretary of the company which is handling the show, announced that he expected not less than 40,000 people will attend during the six days that the exhibitions are open to the business public.

Oscar Allen urged upon all exhibitors the importance of co-operating with a view to securing the largest benefits to all by working primarily for the show, which, in turn will work for the individual exhibitors.

The various exhibits will give the business public and visiting executives an insight into and an exposition of business equipment, methods and forms of service and will furnish demonstrations of time and labor-saving appliances, devices and systems of the most modern type. In each booth will be demonstrators to explain in detail the special merits of the different articles.

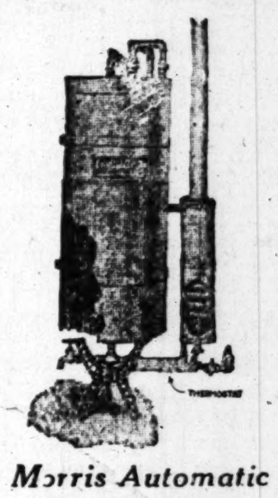
Of Course You Use Hot Water



Morris Automatic
Gas Water Heater

The remarkable high efficiency of the burner and the thick insulating covering around the tank make this automatic heater extremely economical. The Morris Automatic can be attached to any standard tank at a very reasonable cost. Works on the storage principle and eliminates the necessity of lighting the burner when hot water is needed. Morris Automatic Gas Water Heaters insure hot water day or night—year in and year out.

THE WEATHER
(Official Report.)

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, March 9. — [Reported by H. B. Hersey, Meteorologist.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 30.12; at 5 p.m., 30.04. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 50 deg. and 56 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 88 per cent; 5 p.m., 75 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northwest, velocity 6 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 12 miles. Temperatures, highest, 62 deg.; lowest, 49 deg. Rainfall for season, 7.04 inches; last season to date, 8.45 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—Rain or snow fell at many stations from the Mississippi River to the Atlantic coast, and fair weather prevailed generally in other portions of the country. It was decidedly cooler yesterday morning in the Middle and Upper Mississippi Valley and the lake region. In Southern California there was considerable cloudiness, but no rain was reported. Partly cloudy weather is expected in this vicinity Thursday.

UPPER AIR DATA.—The wind yesterday morning was very light and variable in direction from the surface up to about twenty-five hundred feet altitude, where it became easterly and increased a little in strength. The greatest velocity observed was 14 miles an hour from the southeast at 6000 feet altitude, which was the limit of observation.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.—Los Angeles, March 10, sun rises 6:10 a.m., sets 5:56 p.m. Moon rises March 10, 6:31 a.m., sets 7:10 p.m. Los Angeles Harbor, March 10, high tides, 9:34 a.m. and 9:53 p.m.; low tides, 3:33 a.m. and 3:49 p.m.

TWO MEN AND WOMAN HELD IN MURDER CASE.

Father, Wife and Son, Arrested Here, Deny Knowledge of Butchery of Wealthy Akron Man.

On telegraphic instructions from the authorities at Akron, O., C. W. Smith, aged 47; his wife, Olive Smith, aged 31, and his son by a former wife, Charles P. Smith, aged 18, were arrested at 4419 Harold avenue, Belvedere, last night by Detective Sergeants Mart and Mailheau in connection with the murder of Peter Schure, a wealthy foreigner, who was killed in Akron on October 6, last. All three are held in the City Jail pending the arrival of an officer with warrants from the Ohio city.

According to the detectives, a letter found in the Harold-avenue house, warned Smith that the police in Akron were looking for him and stated that the victim's body was found in a washroom of the rooming-house owned by Smith, the father, cut up and ready to be put down the sewer. Both prisoners said their understanding of the crime, obtained from letters from relatives, was that the body was hidden in the washroom.

Vigorous denials were made by all three last night of any connection with the slaying. The letter, from Mrs. Smith's mother in West Virginia, said that Schure was murdered the day after the Smith family left Akron and that the Smiths had "better watch out." When the officers entered the house last night, Mrs. Smith was in the act of writing a letter to her mother asking for particulars of the killing of Schure. The Smiths stated that the only news of the slaying they received from Akron came through Mrs. Smith's mother.

A peculiar web of circumstances, of which a Mexican, Joe Montinez, is the central figure, is blamed by the Smiths for the accusations against them. The Mexican first came into the tangle when he lured Mrs. Smith, then a young girl in her 'teens, from her home in West Virginia, she said last night. She says that she thought she was married to him when they went to Akron, but learned the contrary after her arrival there over a year ago. While in the Ohio city Montinez and his supposed wife, Olive Montinez-Smith, lived in a rooming-house owned by the senior Smith and kept house for Mr. Smith and his son. They had a number of roomers and among them the father and son both remember Peter Schure, they said last night. Business became very poor they said and they planned to come to Southern California.

Then they sold the rooming-house to Montinez for the nominal sum of $45, Mr. Smith, Sr., said, adding, "I might as well have given it to him." The sale was made on Oct. 4, 1920, and Mr. Smith and his son left Akron with Olive Montinez-Smith and her baby on October 7, the day after Schure was slain, they said last night. They believe that the fact that they left Akron on the day after the murder is the basis of the suspicions against them.

The day after they arrived in Los Angeles, Mr. Smith, Sr., married his present wife, he said, and they have been living in Belvedere since. Both father and son have been working as lathers and have a few hundred dollars in the bank.

Meager details of the slaying of Schure were contained in the dispatches to this city. He was a man of quiet habits, but was known to carry large sums of money about with. Robbery is presumed to have been the motive for the crime.

Issue Warrant for Eshelman as Embezzler.

Charging embezzlement of $2300 from John M. McAllister, a warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of H. B. Eshleman, prominent realtor of this city, who operated the H. B. Eshleman Realty Company. Up to a late hour last night no arrest had been made.

Mr. Eshleman has been missing since February 28, and in the opinion of his friends has either taken his own life or fled from a financial situation which, in his opinion, seemed hopeless. He is reported to have suffered considerable business reverses of late and to have been in poor health. His career in this city as a realtor was very unusual. He was believed to be wealthy.

LECTURE ON PAINT.

Public Invited to Hear Talk for Apprentice Classes.

A practical lecture on paint and and decoration will be given by E. Melneaux, chemist and manager of the Mathews Paint Company, at the Central Junior Night School, 451 North Broadway, Monday at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Melneaux will illustrate his lecture with stereopticon views and the high school orchestra will furnish music. The general public is invited.

The lecture is one of a course being given to the painters' classes instituted under a co-operative plan by the vocational education department of the schools, the Chamber of Commerce and the Paint Manufacturers' Association. Classes for painters' apprentices were organized early in the building boom of the city and have proved exceptionally popular.

DIES OF WAR WOUNDS.

Canadian Captain Succumbs Here; Body to Go to Montreal.

The body of Capt. Hardouin Leonais of Montreal, Can., who died yesterday at the Christie Hotel after a lingering illness resulting from being wounded and gassed as a Canadian soldier in the World War, will be shipped to that city today from the Strother & Dayton mortuary.

Mrs. Leonais, who has been caring for her husband since their arrival in Los Angeles several months ago, will accompany the body to Montreal, where it will be buried. Capt. Leonais was 43 years old.

MOTORISTS TO AID CAMPAIGN.

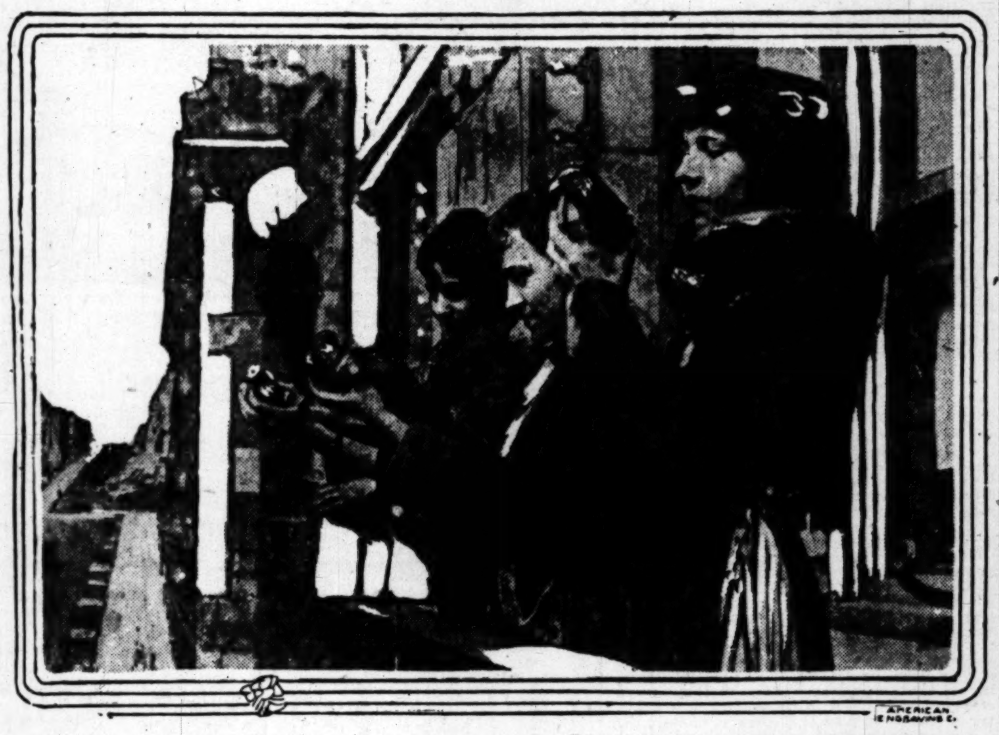
"Straight Ahead" Slogan to Adorn Windshields of 5000 Automobiles.

Five thousand automobile owners will soon be lending their co-operation to the "Greater Southern California: Straight Ahead!" campaign. Yesterday that number of four-inch, diamond-shaped stickers for windshields were delivered to the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. They can be obtained there for the asking and also can be secured at the office of The Times.

In hundreds of theaters in Southern California, including more than 100 picture houses in this city, the "Greater Southern California: Straight Ahead!" campaign slides are being exhibited and the campaign placards are posted in conspicuous places. Scores of merchants in neighboring cities are asking The Times' promotion department to supply them with miniatures of the campaign signpost bearing the contagious slogan. These will be placed in business houses all over Southern California.

ALL :: CELEBRATE :: FISH :: DAY :: HERE.

Pigeon Race, Mermaids and Finny Folks Are Among Features.



AMERICAN ENGRAVING C.

Homing Pigeons Before Winging Way Harbor-ward from The Times Building.

If it is true that fish is brain food, then America is mentally greater today than she was yesterday. For National Fish Day was celebrated with regret by the fish, but with great gusto by other participants in the fishing industry and the public at large. A parade by a band wagon and boat filled with mermaids on Los Angeles streets and a race between sixty homing pigeons from The Times Building to Point Firmin were events of the day.

Exhibits of many varieties of canned fish were held in the city. Fish in all forms and prepared for every appetite were served in the restaurants, cafes and hotels. People who for years have known only in a general way that fish exist and should be eaten were reminded in many ways of their duty to the sea.

A large truck carrying a band preceded by a replica of a motor boat toured the streets, bearing a number of bathing girls. This exhibit was under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and the girls gave away coupons entitling the fortunate ones to canned fish and in some instances the coupons were good for a whole case of fish. Many packers had displays in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and it was here that the coupons were redeemed.

The Redondo Packing Company had a large amount of the canned food on display at Fourth and Hill streets in the windows of the Wright-Callender Building. The attraction consisted of amberfish, sardines, tuna and smoked mackerel.

The pigeon race between the sixty fishing fleet birds left the balcony off the second floor of The Times Building at noon. The birds were in two large crates and were released by Miss Marjorie Prevost, the cinema star. Three were released separately by three girls at the same instant. The racers circled the tower of The Times and then flew in the direction of San Pedro. The first one to arrive in the pigeon trap at the loft was timed and its number taken. The time will be announced in the Sunday Times, together with the winners of the contest in which the time of flight was estimated.

The winners will receive their prizes at The Times Building on Monday. T. S. Maynard, the man who had charge of the race and who trained the birds, stated that all the pigeons arrived within a few seconds of each other. They arrived at the loft in a straight line and alighted immediately, the first bird entering the trap within thirty seconds after it was sighted.

JEWELER HELD UP IN MAIN-STREET STORE.

Two maskless highwaymen, both armed with revolvers, late yesterday afternoon held up and robbed Herman R. Wismer as he stood behind the counter of his jewelry store at 826 South Main street. He reported that the bandits secured only a gold watch each, as they were frightened away by customers who entered the store.

DESCENDANT OF SPANISH DON PASSES.

Mrs. Herlinda Sepulveda to be Buried in Old Cemetery at Santa Barbara Mission.

Where monarchs have trod within the hushed walls of the little cemetery of the Santa Barbara Mission, the remains of another whose name is entwined with the romantic pioneer days of California are to be laid to rest, for Mrs. Herlinda Sepulveda died yesterday afternoon. She was the widow of the late Judge Ygnacio Sepulveda and the mother of Mrs. Charles C. Chapman, with whom she had just returned ten days ago from a visit to Mexico City. She was stricken last Sunday at the family residence, 1457 Dana street.

The funeral services are to be held at high mass this morning at St. Agnes Church, Vermont avenue and West Adams street, but the burial will take place in the quaint little cemetery of Santa Barbara Mission, within the shadow of her birthplace and beside the remains of her husband.

Mrs. Sepulveda was 63 years of age and was a descendant of one of the oldest Spanish families of Southern California, which traced its line from Jose de la Guerra, who came to California 110 years ago, and who was one of the wealthiest of Spanish dons, having owned at one time 500,000 acres of land.

The late Judge Sepulveda died four years ago. He was well known as a jurist and lawyer and served as Charge d'Affaires for the United States in Mexico City for two terms.

Besides her daughter, who was formerly Miss Conchita Sepulveda, Mrs. Sepulveda is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Bert Rico, Mrs. Anita de la Guerra, Mrs. Georgia West and Mrs. Maria Yndart; and three brothers, Juan, Santiago and Hannibal de la Guerra.

INDICT TWO AS "REDS."

County Grand Jurors Return Bill on Syndicalism Charges.

James Olson and Henry Matlin, who were discharged on a charge of criminal syndicalism and later rearrested on the same charge, were indicted yesterday by the county grand jury on similar grounds. Judge Reeve ordered bench warrants issued for them. They are now in the County Jail. Bail was fixed at $2500.

One secret indictment, covering charges against three persons, it was said, was also returned, and the cases were assigned to Judge Willis's court.

SIX HUNDRED LETTERS IN BALM CASE.

Hollywood Divorcee Avers Inventor Broke Promise to Her; Fights for Damages.

"I've gotten used to you, dear, and I miss you so when I am away," declared Thomas J. Stephens, engineer, chemist and inventor, in one of the 600 love letters he is said to have written Mrs. Emma M. Snyder, handsome young divorcee of Avalon, who is suing Mr. Stephens for breach of promise at Pittsburg, claiming $50,000 damages.

Mr. Stephens, who is married and the father of three children, boarded with Mrs. Snyder when he became estranged from his wife, Mrs. Bessie H. Stephens, who Pittsburg advices state, resides at "1026 Kingwood avenue, Hollywood." There is no such street in Hollywood. He was one of the men mentioned in a divorce suit brought against Mrs. Snyder by her husband in 1919. He appeared at that time as a witness in her behalf, declaring on the stand that he "would travel to any part of the country to defend his name and to fight those who were using him as a club to assassinate her good name."

Trips to Chicago, Washington and Philadelphia were taken by Mr. Stephens and Mrs. Snyder, according to her attorney, Thomas F. Marshall. Mr. Stephens, the first witness on the stand before Judge Shafer at Pittsburg yesterday, said his relations with the plaintiff had been those of a man to his housekeeper. Mrs. Snyder indignantly denied this.

Mr. Stephens spent money "like a millionaire," Mrs. Snyder declared. She said he bought her expensive dresses, including the one she wore in court. She also declared that a watch and a diamond ring she was wearing had been bought by him and also a platinum, set with two diamonds, which she said she lost yesterday in the courtroom. Mr. Stephens promised to buy her a house and give her $50,000, she said.

OPEN FIGHT ON MOTHER'S WILL.

Children of E. H. Harriman's Sister Charge Influence Used by Beneficiary.

Charging undue influence was exercised by John D. Clarke in inducing Mrs. Anna Ingland Van Rensselaer, a sister of the late E. H. Harriman, railroad magnate, to make her will, a contest to the probate of the will was instituted yesterday. The contest was started by children of Mrs. Van Rensselaer. They charge that Mr. Clarke, who was said to occupy the position of a son in the deceased's home, influenced the mind of the decedent for ten years prior to her death on Dec. 14, 1920.

The contestants are Cornelia N. Van Rensselaer, Jeremiah Van Rensselaer, Orlando Harriman Van Rensselaer, Anna H. Masten, Katrina Ginn and Mary Francis Briscoe. Mr. Clarke was bequeathed $10,000. Cornelia Van Rensselaer was given $60,000 in a trust fund and the residue was divided among the other children and relatives.

PLANS TRAINING SCHOOL.

School Board Head Announces a Notable City-County Vocational Project.

Los Angeles is to have a vocational training school, intended primarily for World War veterans, but open to all, where trades may be learned and scientific vocational guidance given, if the plans of Charles J. McCormick, president of the City Board of Education, are favorably acted upon by the County Supervisors and the Los Angeles City Council.

Mr. McCormick said last night that for some time he has been working on the plans for such a school to assist former soldiers who feel the need of technical training, and that his plans are about completed. Plans for the proposed building are in the hands of an architect. They will be submitted to the Board of Education in a few days.

The plan of Mr. McCormick is to have the city and county furnish the necessary money to erect the building and buy part of the equipment, the City Board of Education to supply the teachers. Such a school, Mr. McCormick says, would be an extension of the present vocational training system of the public schools, and would reach a larger number of persons, but would not be as technical as the college projected some months ago, but which was abandoned the city school board.

"Throughout the country," Mr. McCormick said, "there is a crying need for more skilled men, and Los Angeles needs them as much as any other city. There are many of our returned World War veterans out of work, many of whom would be employed if they had some good technical training, and if we can supply them with a school where they can get it at both day and evening classes the returns will be wonderful."

Mr. McCormick said that many of the city's manufacturers and employers of skilled mechanics favor the plan and he declared himself confident that the Council and the Supervisors will co-operate. He said the Board of Education will be able to furnish the necessary teaching staff.

When a technical institute was projected recently manufacturers of machinery declared themselves willing to supply a large part of the required equipment, and it is believed they will extend similar aid to this plan.

WATER-SOAKED SHERIFF QUELLS RIOT IN JAIL.

Traeger, Just Sworn in, Wades Into Fire-Hose Drenching and Stills Howling Prisoners.

Sheriff William I. Traeger inaugurated his term of office yesterday by walking into the lion's den in the County Jail, facing a group of angry, water-soaked prisoners—even himself facing a fire hose used to quell the agitation—and by soft words and a straight-from-the-shoulder talk ending a food strike and a near-riot of twenty-four hours.

The strike and near-riot had quieted down during the daytime yesterday, having begun the night before, but broke out afresh late yesterday when trusties offered the prisoners in six of the tanks their evening meal. The food, the same as given previously, was rejected and the prisoners began pounding on the bars, yelling and jeering at the guards and trusties. Jailer Gallagher took charge of the situation, and failing to quet the pandemonium by talking to the prisoners, ordered the guards to get out the fire hose. Quiet was restored for a few minutes, but broke out again and threatened to reach proportions when Sheriff Traeger appeared on the scene.

SHERIFF SOAKED.

Unknown to the guards, the Sheriff ordered a turnkey to unlock Tank No. 1, where the prisoners were most unruly and walked in. He walked into the midst of the prisoners and was about to talk to them when Turnkey Swan Wilson, manipulating a hose, and unaware that the Sheriff was there, turned the water full in the Sheriff's face. When the Sheriff recovered his breath, he talked to the prisoners. Cries of "Don't you want to hear the Sheriff?" and "Let the Sheriff speak," were heard.

"I want you men to understand the situation here," he said, as he wiped the water from his face. "I just took the office of Sheriff today and I intend to see that you get all that is coming to you in the way of food and such comfort as is possible. The meal offered to you just now was the last under the other Sheriff. I want you to give me a few days to get things straightened out and then, I promise you, that I will treat you right. I have appointed a steward to buy and handle your food and I do not want one cent of what the county allows for your food."

IS CHEERED.

Instead of the cries and jeers of a moment before, the new Sheriff was greeted with cheers.

"We are for you," and "We'll keep quiet and wait, all right," were heard.

"Sheriff," said one prisoner, "I have to sleep on that iron floor, and there are not enough cots to go around."

"Well, we are making arrangements to give you more room, too," responded the Sheriff, as he turned to talk in another tank. He talked in each of the six tanks where the trouble arose and in each received promises from the prisoners to bear with him and wait until he put his new house in order. Then he ate some of the food offered the prisoners, pronounced it all right, well seasoned, and asked the prisoners if they would take it. Many of the prisoners, having gone without food for nearly twenty-four hours as the result of the determination to strike, gladly accepted the offer. They worked up a new appetite by swabbing out the tanks, which were covered with two inches of water.

After quiet was restored, James Lamb, convicted of robbery and sentenced to San Quentin, was locked in the dungeon as punishment for starting the strike and near-riot.

Apparently taking the change in sheriffs as a cue, the prisoners, according to Jailer Gallagher, in tanks Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 6 voted to strike, meaning to make as much trouble as possible. The jail authorities were reluctant, it was stated, to use the water hose to stop the noise because of the crowded condition of the tanks and were unable to stop it. Yesterday afternoon two more tanks went on strike, and the "water cure" was resorted to in a last effort. Just then the Sheriff came and himself was soused.

"BOARDERS" NO MORE.

It was announced yesterday by Sheriff Traeger and Jailer Gallagher that plans were under way to change conditions at the jail. With the last meal yesterday, the boarders' tank in the jail, where a prisoner may pay $5 a week for special food, was abolished. It has been a part of the county institution since the jail was built. It was learned yesterday that, in addition to the prisoners' demonstration against the jail food, the strike was in protest against the abolition of the boarders' tank. It was stated that the strike was really started by prisoners in the boarders' tank in protest to the ending of their privileges and spread to the other tanks in protest to the food given there and the crowded quarters.

"The first demonstration was last night," said Jailer Gallagher. "All prisoners in four tanks refused the food we offered them. Then they started the noise. This morning they rejected their breakfasts. Their breakfast consisted of cornmeal mush, milk, hash and a link of sausage, prunes, coffee and bread. Later I received a note from tank four saying those in there had not participated and wanted their breakfast, and I sent it to them.

FOR MORE ROOM.

"The jail is much overcrowded. Now 120 are sleeping on the floors and we have 449 prisoners, with a capacity of 300 under crowded conditions. This allows for some comfort, but the jail should not have

The People and Their Daily Troubles

Readers Pay Tribute To Former President Wilson.

Editorial in Sunday's Times Strikes Responsive Chord in Many Directions—Extracts from Letters That Swamp Editor's Mail.

The noblest figure in the world of our times steps, for a brief moment only, it is to be hoped, into the wings and gives the center of the stage to another.

And yet, though Warren Gamaliel Harding now guides the destinies of the American people, it is the soul of Woodrow Wilson that permeates and inspires the thoughts and aspirations of the peoples of the world. Physically he may be "in the wings," but spiritually he leads, and his leadership cannot be taken from him; for through him has spoken all that is noble and pure in American political ideals.

It was my great privilege to be intimately associated with Woodrow Wilson at the time he first stepped to the center of the American political stage. He had just been elected Governor of New Jersey, and had introduced that wonderful series of legislative measures which drove from power those special privileges that had for years fastened and fattened on the people of the State. A little later he defied and defeated those same special privileges when he forced the New Jersey Legislature to accept the mandate of the people who had chosen "Farmer Jim" Martine as Democratic nominee for United States Senator. No one who was present can ever forget that dramatic day, nor overlook its importance, when former Senator James Smith, Jr., shed the bitter tears of defeat, surrounded by his special privilege friends, in room 100 of the Trenton House.

The rights of all of us, as against the special privilege of the few—that has been Woodrow Wilson's fight from the moment he was chosen president of Princeton University. He fought for the democratization of that famous old seat of learning where special privilege had crept in and found firm root; he fought the same forces, as Governor of New Jersey, on a larger scale; he carried his fight into the great arena of national politics when he was twice elected President of the United States, and he fought for the same great principle in the domain of world affairs. Truly "his soul goes marching on," for his principles are founded on the solid rock of right and justice.

May I, as a former secretary of this great American, express my personal appreciation of your editorial in today's issue, "One of the Great." It does but simple justice to Woodrow Wilson, yet does it in a splendid spirit and eloquent language. It points out more clearly than I have yet seen pointed out what he, as an American, fought for at Paris: "To make America greater than herself, greater than her own. Not greater in conquest and wealth, but greater in human principles, in spiritual attainment, greater in soul."

And his temporary failure was caused, not because he was great, but because his opponents were little.

WALTER MEASDAY.

"HONOR TO WHOM DUE."

Certain it is that the Los Angeles Times will lose neither prestige nor caste, but per contra, will merit and win both by such an editorial as appeared in your issue of the 7th inst., entitled "One of the Great," Coming, it does, from a political opponent, it is the more meritorious and praiseworthy; such leaders are worthy of journalists of fair minds and broad perspectives, and more's the pity that they are not the rule rather than the exception.

You say well and truly that "he," Mr. Wilson, "trusted no one's judgment but his own." Well, was that not characteristic also of Napoleon, Lincoln, Edison and others who knew their power and worth? Lord Chesterfield in his oft-quoted letters to his son, said, in effect, that the world will put that value upon you that you put upon yourself; and this is axiomatic.

Eminent persons, as elevated mountains, are exposed to storms and to elemental assaults that less prominent persons and elevations are exempt from; it is, I assume, a part of the price that they are compelled to pay for their eminence.

You also hit the nail squarely upon its head in stating that posterity will take care of Mr. Wilson's reputation. Washington, Napoleon, Lincoln, et al, who are worth while, had hosts of bitter and relentless enemies; but how are they and their detractors and villifiers held in the estimation of the world today? May we not say, as did Edwin M. Stanton, when Mr. Lincoln passed, speaking of ex-President Wilson, "Now he belongs to the ages."

Such contemptible flings as one Scanlon was guilty of in the issue aforesaid are beneath notice. Such as he have no better way to attract attention to their unworthy selves than by such miserable diatribes, if, indeed, such utterances are worthy of being so dignified.

Mr. Wilson's administration will go into the annals of history as one of the ablest and most praiseworthy since this government has had an existence, and pages of matter will be devoted to it and to him personally, while his most able and misguided enemies will be dismissed with the barest mention. I close as I began by reiterating, "Honor to whom honor is due."

S. T. ADAMS.

FROM A MINISTER.

I wish to congratulate you upon the editorial, "One of the Great," in the issue of March 6. It strikes me as eminently just and fair. Every student of history knows how difficult it has been for the people to appreciate the real merits of the Presidents during their occupancy of the high office. Even Washington and Lincoln and Roosevelt were not always held in highest esteem while in office. For you to publish this word of just discrimination as Mr. Wilson retires, is greatly to your own credit. Again I congratulate you.

FRANK LINCOLN MASSECK,
Pastor the Universalist Church, Santa Paula.

EMINENTLY FAIR.

I have just read your editorial "One of the Great" in today's Times. That sort of thing is past all expression creditable. It is one of the things which, repeated at intervals make and keep a paper great. One can condone the mistakes which every critic thinks he would have avoided, but one never can forget achievements like this.

In the first place, it is eminently fair. And it is generous only in the view that a strong opponent can be absolutely just. His admirer, his partisan might be that, but quite certainly would be more. I think you have truly estimated the man, and very splendidly have put that estimate on record. How happy you are in that phrase, "His too adamant principles!" It is the rock on which his ship was wrecked. And yet, without that he never would have won the heights—however briefly—occupied. Without that he never could have established the high mark toward which all true Americans, and in time—God grant—the rest of the world, will resolutely strive.

But it is the composition of your editorial that delights me. There wrote the framer of sentences, the refiner of golden thoughts who gives them currency and makes them permanent by the beauty and richness of their setting. He had a great subject, and greatly has he constructed the brief that wins indorsement in every fair tribunal. I would rather have written that editorial than own a bank.

I don't always agree with The Times; but I know something of newspaper making, and want to say that only a great newspaper could have done so fine a thing.

LEROY ARMSTRONG,
5637 Virginia avenue.

SAYS WE'RE IMPROVING.

I write to personally thank you for your attitude and expression of good will toward our ex-President, Mr. Woodrow Wilson, in your editorial of yesterday. It is simply great, wonderfully magnanimous, and shows a proper and manly principle in recognizing the noble qualities and sincerity of purpose in one who in party politics was not of your persuasion. This in itself is a hopeful sign, coming as it does from the Los Angeles Times. Let us hope this is the beginning of stroking the fur in the right direction. What a power for good The Times might be if you were as honest in expression in all things as you are in this instance! I told you in a personal letter a few days ago the leopard cannot change his spots. I am to know your spots are not as indelible as the leopard's.

I did not help to elect Mr. Wilson, but do admire him in many ways. He will go down in history, as you say, as one of America's great men. Personally, I am glad beyond words to express myself for your eulogy of him. It changes my personal opinion of you as an editor. Let the good work go on. This is the first indication of good will to an opponent I have ever noticed in The Times in sixteen years.

Please still continue to save your nettles and strew the flowers. You refused to print my manuscript, which embodied many things you put into yesterday's editorial, perhaps because I was stealing your thunder. Well that is you business. I suppose, and if The Times continues to strew flowers we will always be friends. Let the good work go on. The country needs it. Humanity is perishing for want of a few kind words. Please accept the thanks of a workingman.

T. J. POLLARD.
440 North Grand avenue.

PRAISES HARDING.

You have said the true thing, the right thing, and the thing that is due to be said. Ex-President Wilson is not alone in his ideals. There is an America alive to them, an America which perceives that an ideal which is true is in itself a prophecy of its own fulfillment. "Truth crushed to earth will rise again, the eternal years of God are here."

The brightest spot in the inaugural ceremonies was when the incoming President showed the kindliness of human sympathy to his stricken predecessor. That act honors President Harding. It had in it something of the quality which President Garfield showed when he turned from taking the oath of office to kiss his aged mother.

LYDIA A. BELL.

FROM A BANKER.

For the first time I have clipped an editorial from a newspaper and for the first time I am writing a letter to the editor of a newspaper.

The editorial "One of the Great," in yesterday morning's Times has impressed me as certainly the most remarkable editorial on President Wilson I have read and one of the most remarkable, if not the most remarkable editorial that I have ever read. The substance is so in accord with my individual view of the President and his work, and the form and style narily good that I to register my apprecia Advises Sending Young Men to Learn Latin Ways.

Wonderful trade opportunities await American merchants in Chile, declared Richard Barrows, special trade commissioner of the South American republic, at yesterday's noon luncheon-discussion of the City Club. But Germany and Great Britain are again sending their salesmen and trade missionaries into the South American field, he said, and commercial interests of the United States should become active at once if they wish to secure the business that offers.

"Americans are well liked in Chile, and, in fact, all over South America," declared Mr. Barrows.

"But to meet European competition, American merchants should send young college men to South America, to live there for a year or two and to familiarize themselves with Latin-American methods of doing business. European nations do this, and as a result they have secured much trade in the past that could have come to America.

"Long-term credits can be safely extended to responsible business men of Chile and the other South American countries, but trade details can be quickly worked out once America gets into the Latin-American trade in earnest, by sending to these republics young men of intelligence and willingness to learn the Latin-American point of view.

"Pan-Americanism means co-operation between the United States and the Latin-American republics. This feeling of helpfulness is growing, and will be fostered by the coming of Herbert Hoover to the post of Secretary of Commerce."

MEETS BOYHOOD FRIEND.

Bailiff Recognizes Maine Man He Last Saw Forty Years Ago.

E. H. Hutchinson, bailiff in Judge Welborn's court, looked keenly at a man who called him by name in the courtroom yesterday.

"Well, I'll be corn-switched," exclaimed Mr. Hutchinson, "if this isn't Jim Moss of Rumford, Me. Say, I haven't seen you for forty years. How's everybody in my home town?"

For an hour Mr. Moss, a hay dealer, told Mr. Hutchinson about Jim and Sam and Sally and Sue and the other boys and girls of Rumford who forty years ago went to spelling bees and barn dances with Mr. Hutchinson.

HABEAS CORPUS PLEA FAILS.

Fred Tessman, who was sentenced to the City Jail for 180 days on a charge of battery, was denied a writ of habeas corpus yesterday by Judge Willis. He will be allowed to deposit $100 bail pending an appeal from the judgment of Police Judge Crawford, who sentenced him.

New York Fashions Number

VOGUE

The actual models that can be bought in the New York shops at this moment are shown in this issue of Vogue—more than forty of them, street dresses, suits, dinner gowns and dance frocks. Thirty Paris models are shown, too, to give you an idea of how Paris feels on such matters as waist-lines, trimmings, and the length of skirts.

The woman with a limited income will find that more things than are dreamt of even in her philosophy can be done with a black satin slip as a start. And if you want—as you probably do at this time of year—a cape, a sports suit, a street dress, or a practical evening gown, you'll find them in the Shopping Department.

There's a page of hats and dresses for the woman in mourning in this number, too. And of course the original Vogue designs for spring clothes have just the right ideas for the spring materials that you have bought. You want this number of Vogue if you're going to be as well-dressed as usual this spring.

HONEYBUNCH.

It would seem funny to call a member of the City Council "Darling;" but we may come to it yet. The Council we have now is our dearest.

STRAIGHT AHEAD.

Why not straight ahead? People must go straight. If they go crooked they bring up in jail, which is worse than nowhere. People must go ahead. If they fall behind they are virtually going backward, and complete retrogression would return us to those hairy forebears who lived in trees and ate cocoanuts. People can't even stand still. If they do they are accounted as laggards or stumbling blocks. At times there is an interest in going sideways. You cross fresh paths occasionally, but mostly you just bump into other people and make a nuisance of yourself. When you come to figure it all out the way ahead is the line of least resistance as well as of the greatest progress. So everyone should go straight ahead—with the accent on the "straight." Try this out on your pianola.

WILD WOMEN.

The trial of Clara Smith Hamon for the killing of Jacob Hamon will be a curtain raiser for the movies. The young woman expects it to be a triumph rather than a trial and is striving to get all the publicity out of it she can. She will sell all the sordid details of her life with Hamon to any newspapers and she also expects to write a book and go both into vaudeville and the pictures. She contemplates capitalizing her crimes and frailties to the limit. The wife of the murdered man, however, has become aroused at this bald-faced bid for notoriety at the expense of her husband's name and is now bringing strong assistance to the prosecution in the belief that the younger woman can actually be convicted of the crime she admits and thereby be deprived of an opportunity to elevate the stage or sweeten the movies. We can convict women of man-killing in Los Angeles and they may yet be able to do it in Oklahoma.

THE ORIENTAL MIND.

There are eighty Chinese students at the University of Chicago. Numbers of them have become converted to Christianity and are members of American churches, but there are others who would undertake theology from the standpoint of the efficiency expert. So they are uniting in an investigation of Christianity and comparing it with their own faith—or lack of faith. As a part of the process they are sending queries to a thousand representative Americans, in every walk of life—scholars, business men, workers, professional men, soldiers and even criminals. Certain questions are asked and the answers are analyzed and the results tabulated. Each man is asked if he believes in a living God and if so, why? There's many a good believer who finds it difficult to enlighten a Chinaman when he comes to furnish reasons for his belief. The quiz is apt to be without material results.

CUTTING THE PIE.

The Chicago Council has before it an ordinance which would provide that restaurant pie should not be divided into more than five pieces or sold for more than ten cents a cut. It is also to be stipulated that a dime shall be the top price for coffee and doughnuts. At the present figures for flour, sugar, lard and fruits half a dollar is held to be an ample price for a pie and those who have been shredding a pie into ten or a dozen portions at fifteen cents a cut are profiteers of the most desperate character. The pie may be said to be the bulwark of American liberty. Anyhow, it is the summum bonum of the great American lunch and if it is not a fundamental of national life, what is? Chicken pie is some bone at least. But pie is the refuge of both the proletariat and the bourgeoisie in this country. For ages and ages a comfortable slab of it could be found in any little eating place for a nickel and the war was a crime for what it did to the size and prices of our cuts of pie. Let us get back to normalcy by all means, even if we have to have an ordinance to do it. Who will be the first statesman to stand sturdily forth on his hind legs and demand a return of the nickel slab of apple pie? There is still room in the hall of fame.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE DISCORD.

Though grateful people may rejoice o'er blessings they possess, you'll always hear a plaintive voice proclaiming bleak distress. The most of us are cheery guys who brandish pleasant grins; we don't send up our doleful cries until we bark our shins. We know this world's a good old joint in which to spend our years, and so don't linger to anoint the veldt with useless tears. A better world we could not wish, life is its own reward; but there is always some poor fish who hits a minor chord. And while we sing of azure skies and blue and silver seas, he jars us with discordant cries of crape and soup and cheese. We travel on a sunlit track and play the fife and drum, but he has read the almanac, and knows that storms will come. We see the bride and bridegroom pass, and boost their wedding rags; but he is sure that flesh is grass, and brides will be old hags. We sing of hope and happy days, and dance upon the sward; but always there are dreary jays who hit the minor chord.

WALT MASON.

PRICES AND BARGAIN INSURANCE.

The question before the house is on the return to normalcy, and the consuming public of Los Angeles and Southern California, which means, all the public there is, have turned into a million or more human interrogation points.

Now that the word normal and its synthetic associate, normalcy, have come to be better understood, and the public realizes that a return to either normal or normalcy does not necessarily mean a return to the prices which prevailed before the war, the point is raised as to how far the decline will go before it hits bottom and how close we are to that point now.

On these subjects there is a wide diversity of opinion, but after a fine comb is applied and the sifter called into requisition we are constrained to believe that, in a majority of lines, the end has come; that in a few there will be still further reductions, and that in some the present level is too low to harmonize with the law of supply and demand and that we may look for slightly higher prices.

Based on information from the sources of supply, in most instances manufacturing centers and from home retailers, it seems reasonably certain that woolen goods, especially in men's and women's clothing, will not be much cheaper, at least for the present season, than they are today.

The condition of the cotton market has been fairly well discounted and experts assert that the price of finished products cannot go much lower with safety. One big buyer, when informed that a cargo of manufactured supplies, purchased a few weeks ago, was reported on fire, replied, "It will save my house a lot of money if we don't have to sell them."

Twenty-five per cent appears to be about the average decline in clothing, while shoes have gone back more than that. During the last two or three months foodstuffs have shown an encouraging inclination to follow the commodity market, and the living cost is lower in Los Angeles today than it has been since 1917.

This brings us to another phase of the discussion; a phase which accounts for the difficulty in being more specific in reciting definite price drops, that is the relation of the retailer to the ultimate consumer and his attitude toward the consumer.

It may as well be admitted that replacements are being secured on a purchase basis which ranges from 20 to 50 per cent below that of a year or eighteen months ago; but not every dealer is willing to pass along all of this saving to his customer. To do so, he argues, would involve heavy losses in moving hold-over stock and would tend to upset the market and make trouble when the revision upward starts in again. Some are willing to go the limit; others are inclined to be less liberal; a few would claim that it is unfair to expect them to pocket all of the loss or even a very considerable part of it, and that to attempt to keep pace with a fluctuating market would spell ruin.

Thus it happens that we are given a wide range of selection both in quality and price, and it is right here that The Times steps in as a public benefactor, for never in all the history of commercial Los Angeles have the teeming advertising columns of this newspaper offered a greater variety of opportunities to save money than is the case at the beginning of the spring buying season of 1921.

If a merchant has a message for his customers he passes it along to them in his advertising space. If he has managed, by a brilliant coup, to get hold of a bargain line which must be moved quickly his first thought is Times-ward. If he determines to get rid of his stock bought in high-priced days and clear his shelves for new goods at the new prices, how is he to let his customers know except through the universal media?

For these and other reasons it behooves every reader to pay especial and particular attention to the advertising columns, for, with all respect to the news of the day which finds its reflection from the pages devoted to that purpose, there is no part of the daily newspaper so filled with important information to consumer, wage-earner or capitalist than those columns which tell from day to day of the trend of prices and mirror for us the willingness of the middleman to do his share in the readjustment process.

There has never been such a wide divergence in prices for the same class of commodity, and it behooves every man and woman, whether he be in the immediate or prospective market, to keep in close touch with the situation. Los Angeles is filled with bargains, some of them of a positively revolutionary and exclamatory character; but it is also filled with opportunities to pay more for a given article than the article is worth when weighed in balances of supply and demand, which is the only true scale. It pays in these days to be a bargain-hunter, and the only way to find the bargains is to become a member in good standing of the Bargain Hunter's Clearing-house, which means, of course, joining The Times family of readers.

POOLROOM TRAINING.

The youth who ran away with three-quarters of a million dollars' worth of Liberty Bonds, several young men who have committed mail robberies and some juvenile check passers all admit that the substitution of a poolroom training for that of the home is largely responsible for turning their thoughts into criminal channels. A poolroom is an easy place to kill and bury a lot of time, but it also takes some money. The youth cannot often make the money while he is killing the time and so he drifts into the easiest way of rounding up the dough without having to work for it. This breaks the ice for criminal adventure and presently our youthful pool shark is also an accomplished porch climber or a first-class highwayman. This business of teaching the young idea how to shoot pool and craps before breakfast is not good for the State. Parents who willingly consent to the substitution of the poolroom for the home as a training field for the morals and manners of their offspring should share the responsibility for their crimes. The pool table is an innocent and harmless thing of itself, but frequently its environment is rotten.

GOTHAM GROWS.

It is declared that a fine brand of bonded whisky can be secured in New York for $60 a case. No wonder that is the biggest town in the country. All the thirsts are rallying there.

MURDERING MURDERERS.

After a twelvemonth of reciprocal outlawry under the guise of reprisals, for which neither the British government nor the Sinn Fein rebels can escape righteous condemnation, a more tolerant and humane spirit is beginning to dominate the domestic politics of the British Isles. Cardinal Logue, Primate of Ireland, has issued a letter to the priests of the Armagh diocese, directing them to use their utmost efforts to bring about a truce to murder as a form of political agitation. At the same time Lord Hugh Cecil, son of Lord Salisbury, cousin of Balfour and one of the most upright and high-minded members of the House of Commons, has written an open letter to the London Times, in which he charges that the present British government has caused to be "turned loose upon Ireland bodies of irregulars, who have committed crimes, the exact number and extent of which is hard to determine, but the general infamy of which cannot be denied."

Cardinal Logue tells the men of Ireland that "It is no excuse that crimes even greater and more numerous have been committed by others, for crime does not justify crime." In the letter he denounces the ambushing and attacking of soldiers and police. Lord Cecil asserts in his communication that:

> For the enforcement of the law the government are responsible; and the weighty accusation against them is that they have not enforced the law; that they have first inefficiently allowed it to be defied, and that they have positively subverted it by encouraging or allowing lawless violence. MURDERING MURDERERS IS NOT ENFORCING THE LAW, NOR IS INDISCRIMINATE SHOOTING NOR BURNING HOUSES. These are, on the contrary, the prostitution of lawful authority. They make it a byword of hatred. The government must firmly and justly restore throughout Ireland the reign of law.

Lord Cecil, himself an influential member of the Church of England, makes an appeal to the Roman Catholic clergy of Ireland to begin "exerting the whole power of Christain discipline as customary in their church in restraint of murder." In this connection he writes: "I am glad to see that the Irish Roman Catholic bishops have lately published some injunctions and exhortations tending to enforce elementary Christian morality upon their people."

As Cardinal Logue's letter to the priests of Armagh has been written since Lord Cecil's communication was published and discussed, it would seem that he is attempting to exercise the same restraint upon the rebels of Ireland that Lord Cecil seeks to bring to bear on the British government. The Times has frequently asserted that the troubles of the Irish people are political and not religious, that neither the English clergy nor the Roman Catholic clergy is responsible for them; and that dragging the question of religion into one of civil government is but a device of demagogues to awaken hatreds and rouse the passions of the unthinking.

Any one familiar with Irish history during the last century is aware that violence is a popular form of agitation, whether it be agrarian, political or religious. Murder is the most common means of protest against real or fancied political injustice. Violence continuously interfered to mar the plans which Gladstone formulated for home rule in Ireland. Assassination is the prime weapon used by both sides in the political strife that has been waging during the last three months. There seems to be a feeling on the part of both the Sinn Fein and the Royal Irish Constabulary that a murder actuated by political and not personal motives ceases to be a criminal act.

During the last three months the score has been about equal, the casualties being estimated at 200 for each side. Last week the wave of murder ran highest. A British major-general and two other commissioned officers were killed from ambush, and the Mayor of one of the Irish towns and his wife, both reputed Sinn Feiners, met death in a similar way.

It must be plain to thinking Englishmen and Irishmen alike that the Irish question will never be settled by such methods. As long as the Sinn Fein following is not strong enough to fight in open rebellion against the British super-government, they will not win either sympathy or support outside of Ireland by recourse to murder as a part of their political propaganda. On the other hand, the superior force of the British government is so undisputed that there can be no excuse for murder inflicted in cold blood on men believed to be criminals. The Irish people would do well to take to heart the admonition of Cardinal Logue that violence is not a justification for retributive violence, and that murder does not legalize retributive murder; and the British government, if it wishes to retain the respect and confidence of honest people, both at home and abroad, must withdraw even its tacit support of the doctrine that "murdering murderers" is enforcing the law.

WAYS THAT ARE DARK.

The State machine used the methods of the thug, the blackmailer, the confidence man and the porch-climber to obtain votes for the King tax bill. Members who hesitated were either threatened with political extinction or were taken up on top of the mountain and promised the earth. Such lobbying on behalf of a measure has not been known for years. After it had been defeated and buried its proponents dug up the corpse and galvanized it into life by some hideous trick which threatened two careers and reputations. After the bill had thus been passed Gov. Stephens is quoted as saying: "Thank God! The people still rule California. They have won a great victory." If God and the people had to resort to the methods used to force the passage of this bill, then have mercy on the rest of us. The trouble is that the machine has grown so arrogant as to assume the attributes of both God and the people. It has become so honeycombed with excuses and given to extravagance as to recognize no barrier or boundary to its whims. The administration not only admits that government in California costs about five times as much per capita as the average for the country, but is proud of it. Presently it will be gloating over it. There will never be any sincere profession of a desire to exercise thrift or economy on the part of those now in political power in California. That hope may as well be abandoned. Nothing but a clean sweep and the substitution of a set of officials pledged to retrenchment can accomplish any real economics. Even Hercules, with the Pacific Ocean at his command, would be powerless to clean the stables at Sacramento.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE!

When we were wont to warm a bench, within the public park,
And while away the dreary hours till some time after dark;
Quite frequently an old-time friend would pass our humble berth,
But he could not discern the fact that we were on the earth;
He could not sense our weariness nor feel our stomachache,
And we pondered what a difference just a few dimes make.
And when we pushed the mop and broom around some marble floor
And marveled at the easy life inside the office door;
And saw again some erstwhile friends go hurrying to and fro,
Who could not see the scrubber on his aching knees below,
We suppressed our inclination to say "howdy" Jime or Jake,
And we pondered what a difference just a few dimes make.
And when we rose a notch or two upon the social scale
And served awhile as guardsman at the stuffy County Jail;
We saw the common criminal sleep on the cold stone floor,
While the influential grafter had the best they held in store;
They decked his cell with flowers and they served him pie and cake,
And we pondered what a difference just a few dimes make.
And then a dear old uncle had the kindness to depart
And leave a will and testament that warmed our chilly heart;
Some Standard Oil and mining stock, a fat roll in the bank,
And all the chesty financiers soon recognized our rank—
And we, with rare discrimination, passed up Jim and Jake,
As we realized the difference a few dimes make.

QUARRELS WITH ALLIES LEGACY TO HARDING.

BY EUGENE J. YOUNG.

When Mr. Wilson took the Presidency in 1913 the question of Mexico loomed as our greatest foreign problem; and much was made by the Washington writers of the fact that Mr. Taft had passed on this muddle to Mr. Wilson for solution. In the midst of his first term Mr. Wilson told the country he would be unable to set his course in foreign relations unless American ships were deprived of the privilege of free tolls in the Panama Canal.

How fast we have traveled in these eight years! Mexico and Panama tolls are with the Harding administration, but they are mere details. Consider for a moment just what Mr. Wilson, by force of circumstances, has had to pass on to Mr. Harding (and Mr. Hughes) as his unfinished business in international affairs.

World-Wide Puzzles.

CENTRAL EUROPE.—Shall we make a separate peace with Germany and Austria or find some way of joining with the League of Nations so as to preserve the main parts of the Treaty of Versailles? Shall we forgive the debts owed to us by our recent Allies as a means of putting the continent of Europe on its feet? Shall we let France have her way in getting a strangle hold on Germany and so controlling the whole situation, or try to force her to be more reasonable so we shall share in the trade of a reorganized continent.

CONQUERED TERRITORY.—Shall we permit the territories taken from our late enemies to be added to the British, French, Japanese and other empires? Or shall we insist that they shall be held and really governed for the benefit of all the world? This carries us into Western Asia, Eastern Europe, Africa and the Pacific Archipelago.

PERSIA AND EGYPT.—Shall we continue to maintain that Britain had no right to make a treaty taking a protectorate over Persia and that she is bound by solemn pledge not to take away the sovereignty of Egypt.

ASIA.—Shall we stand by the Banking Consortium, under which the leading powers are bound to seek no monopolies in China, but must divide equally all privileges? Shall we continue to support China in building herself up as a great independent power?

RUSSIA.—Shall we recognize the Bolshevik autocracy or continue to ignore it in the hope that a new and really democratic government will arise? Shall we continue to oppose the Japanese, French and British plans to lop off parts of old Russia in order to form "buffer states" in Siberia, in the Caucasus, on the Polish front and on the Baltic?

Shall We Arm or Give Way?

TRADE.—Shall we push our merchant fleet out on the sea and pursue an aggressive trade policy? If so, shall we insist that other nations shall not have monopolies of cable and wireless and of fueling and trading harbors?

DISARMAMENT.—Shall we agree to a limitation of our naval power at the moment when we have a chance to take equality, if not superiority, on the seas? Shall we set an example of disarming so as to swing the whole world toward peaceful ways or prepare for a great struggle piling up complications?

In drawing this compilation I have no desire to be alarmist or warlike. It is a simple two-and-two-makes-four analysis of the facts as they appear to one whose business it has been to analyze such things for twenty years.

The fact which stands out clearest is that the Wilson administration was driven in its closing months by the force of circumstances and the attitude of the American people—into a revisal of its former policy which brought it into serious disputes with our late companions on the battlefield and with the League of Nations itself. We are already committed to attitudes on certain of the world's greatest problems which bring us into direct conflict with the ambitions of Britain, France and Japan; and there are abundant signs that the powers opposed to them are anxious to enlist under our leadership to curb them.

The biggest world questions of the day are:

MANDATES OVER CONQUERED TERRITORIES.
THE FUTURE OF RUSSIA.
THE FUTURE OF CHINA.

And on all three of them we are already in direct conflict with powers on whose side we fought in the war—the powers which have the controlling voice in the council of the League of Nations.

Open Door vs. Imperialism.

To those who saw the tendencies of the Versailles Peace Conference and of the Supreme Council since, it has been a mathematical certainty that such conflicts would come. If America was to shake off her isolation and take on the real responsibilities of world power and world commerce it could not help but happen that she must challenge the policies of the nations which are now the leading exponents of the idea of empire. Either that, or we must turn our backs upon the policies which we have followed for more than a century.

It is the simple issue of Imperialism vs. the Open Door.

In the matter of the territories conquered from Germany, Austria and Turkey, Mr. Wilson at the Paris Conference took the position that they should be ruled in future for the benefit of all the world. Against him were arrayed the imperial powers who clung to the right of conquest, the foundation on which they had built their great possessions. In the end he had to assent to the principle that the lands should be given over to their conquerors under "mandates," but the treaty provided that the League should have supervision over these and the rights of the other peoples of the world should be safeguarded.

But, within the League and in the conferences of the Premiers, the big powers have since treated the territories allotted to them as their own, as integral parts of their empires, and we have now come to the point where the United States—under Mr. Wilson—has served notice that it will not be bound by decisions of the League Council on mandates unless it is first consulted as one of the victors in the war; and that it will insist—no matter what the League Council does—that the territories shall, in fact, be held for the benefit of all the world.

Settled American Policy.

This position has nothing whatever to do with those particular ideals of Mr. Wilson with which the American people have quarreled. It is the logical extension of a settled American policy. As I have pointed out before, we halted the imperial system in South America with the Monroe Doctrine; and we stopped it in China with the Hay Doctrine of the "Open Door." Now we are really "applying the Monroe Doctrine to the whole world" as a matter of practical, "shirt-sleeves" statesmanship by saying that the imperial system must not be permitted to fasten itself on all of Africa and Western Asia. We are also applying these principles to China and Russia and the matter of cable and wireless communication throughout the world.

So far as China is concerned it can almost be said she has now been saved by us. She has been recognized as a peer of the other powers by gaining a place on the Council of the League of Nations. She has shown military power sufficient to cast out the Japanese who had almost taken possession of her government; and the courage to stand up against Japanese intrigues in Shantung, Manchuria and Mongolia. But the problem is not wholly settled. At this moment the British and Japanese, having taken control of all the cables running to the great republic, are endeavoring to prevent an American company from erecting a wireless station which would break their monopoly. This incident has attained such seriousness that the Washington government has served notice on Peking that the cancellation of the American privilege would be an "unfriendly act." It was almost an ultimatum, which was addressed not so much to China as to Britain and Japan.

The "Open Door" to Russia.

In our Russian policy we have been driving for the same "open door." The three great imperial nations are trying to control every trade entrance to this great country.

France, through Poland, proposes to extend her influence over Lithuania and the Ukraine. Britain has set up, practically under a protectorate, the little states of Esthonia and Latvia, which control all exits to the Baltic. She has possession of the outlet through the straits of the Bosporus and is endeavoring to set up "buffer states" in the Caucasus which would prevent the new Russia from striking for the free seas either southward or westward. Japan has undertaken to erect in Siberia, under her protection, a state which would control all the territory east of Lake Baikal and extend from the Korean border to Kamchatka.

If these plans should be carried out, America and the rest of the world would be shut off from the great domains over which the Czars ruled, except as they were permitted to trade under the restrictions and handicaps imposed by the ruling powers. Upon these schemes, the Washington government has put its foot down firmly. It has more than once demanded from the Entente Powers a solemn pledge not to engage in the partition of Russia until its people shall have come out of their troubles and have had a chance to make known their will.

Will Harding Reverse Wilson?

That is the question which confronts President Harding and Secretary Hughes. Will they reverse the acts of President Wilson in practical statesmanship looking to the "open door," or will they try to open the door wider? It is not a partisan question. John Hay, Republican, was the author of the "open door" policy in China as much as Mr. Wilson was the author of that policy as applied to Russia and the mandate areas.

Even should they desire to reverse Mr. Wilson's later policy, will not the same force of circumstances which drove Mr. Wilson to conflict with his own League of Nations drive Mr. Harding and Mr. Hughes?

SIDE-LINE FANCIES.

BY ARTHUR L. MacKAYE.

The Fashion Studio.

Gay Paree must look to its laurels as a fashion center, according to the latest information in apparelistic circles, or else Los Angeles will soon be the mecca for the seeker after chicness in the latest styles, instead of that dear Paris by the Seine. This interesting possibility is due to the concentration of the fashion queens in and near Hollywood among the moving-picture studios and palaces of the city of Los Angeles, county of Los Angeles, Southern California.

Right in the heart of the art colony of Los Angeles is a studio of fashion; not an ordinary fashion-plate factory, but an esthetic and idealistic center of fashion initiative. It is the present purpose of the instigators of this art-clothes center to eventually have the great Paris designers of apparel for women come to Los Angeles for the very latest ideas and models in their respective lines.

One of the latest creations is a stunning blow at the alleged supremacy of the Paris factories. It is guaranteed to stun any husband footing the bill. In the first place, the skirt is of that rare material known as "silk-cord;" it is paneled in front and at the sides, with pleats in the back; it is of a rich ripe-apricot color, embroidered in seed pearls; on the front panel is woven in silver silk the coat of arms of the wearer; on each side panel is embroidered the crest and motto of the wearer. So much for the skirt.

Above the skirt is worn a sort of Turkish vest of cream silk, embroidered in turquoise and faced with gold braid of a new chain design; this vest is cut in open arabesque style in front, with just a touch of rose lace in the bosom below.

Over this sleeveless vest is worn a diaphanous pearl-gray jacket with sleeves to the elbow; this jacket is embroidered with dainty silk pansies of varied hues, each with a tourmaline in its center, held in a tiny silver setting. The jacket is cut with a flare-away in front, the sides ending in golden tassels dangling just below the hips and just above the crest and motto on the side panels of the skirt; behind it takes the shape of full-dress coat-tails, only much shorter.

The headgear that goes with this creation could not be called ordinarily a "hat," but might be called a "dream" by most girly-girls. It is of the toque style, only different, is built on a framework of golden straw swathed in peach satin, disguised with embroidered lilacs of abalone.

A crimson sash is worn with little tassels hanging down in front above the coat-of-arms.

The shoes which go with this costume are calculated to cause the Paris designers to throw a fit; they are of pearl-gray kid, to match the jacket, decorated with hand-painted forget-me-nots and turquoise buttons.

As for the stockings—oh, boy! They are of lace-work effect of tourmaline gold color, with an insert line of crimson silk in harmony with the sash. They are calculated, when properly filled, to thrill even a Paris Apache.

Yes, Paris will have to look to her laurels as a fashion center once Los Angeles begins in earnest to dress its picture queens.

TRUCK HITS BOY; DRIVER SPEEDS OFF.

Mother Finds Little Lad Unconscious in Street; He May Not Recover.

While playing in the street in front of his home at 1444 East Fifty-fifth street yesterday evening, Edward Squillace, aged 7, was run over by an unidentified truck driver, who sped away from the scene leaving the boy lying in the street probably fatally injured.

A passer-by whose name is unknown to the police knocked at the door of the lad's home and his mother, Mrs. Squillace, answered the bell. "There's a boy lying unconscious in the street," he told her laconically.

With her heart in her throat the mother ran to the street and lifted her son in her arms. In a neighbor's machine, the lad was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where the attending surgeons found that a wheel of the truck had passed over his abdomen, inflicting grave internal injuries that may cause his death.

Police detectives are searching for the truck driver.

Trickster Gets Pay for What is Offered Free.

A new scheme to turn a penny was discovered by Internal Revenue Collector Carter yesterday.

To push the income taxpayers crowding the halls of the third floor of the Federal Building, where a score of deputies from the office of the collector were giving information to those unacquainted with the income taw law, slipped a fellow with a fountain pen, who announced that he would assist anybody needing help in the preparation of their returns.

Several immediately availed themselves of the offer, and paid the $1 asked. The fact that he was getting money was conveyed to the collector, who immediately showed the fellow the way to the elevator, and told the watchman on duty to see that he left the building and not be allowed to return.

It was the boldest trick along this line ever turned in the history of the income tax payment season, for there is no charge of any character attached to the furnishing of information or the making out of a return by any of the deputies in the office of Collector Carter.

BOUGHT SUIT, THEN TRIED BLACKMAIL.

BUTCHER MAN OF MANY ALIASES WANTED TAILOR TO PAY LARGE SUM IN BILLS.

James J. Cohen, a member of the Butchers' Union, who posed as Morris Scarfino and under a half dozen other aliases in registering at local rooming-houses, which he afterward left, it is said, without paying his bills, was found guilty of an attempt to blackmail Leo S. Fonarow, a South Broadway clothing merchant, by a jury in U. S. District Judge Trippet's court yesterday. Mercy was recommended to the court in the verdict. Cohen will be sentenced tomorrow.

Cohen, the case developed, bought a suit of clothes of Fonarow for $60, paying $20 down, and still owes Fonarow the balance of the purchase price. In the blackmail attempt he did not know Fonarow's name, but addressed the incriminating letter to "Mr. Victor," the last being the name of the Fonarow clothing establishment. The epistle was sent on December 23, last, and the $1000 asked was to be "in large bills." Fonarow was threatened with instant death if he disclosed the receipt of the letter, the writer stating that he belonged to the Black Hand, and that Fonarow's wife would also be killed if the husband disclosed anything about the transaction.

Fonarow was scared by the receipt of the letter, and inclined to furnish the money, which was to be sent through the local postoffice. But he reported the case to Postoffice Inspector Cookson. A decoy letter was sent to Cohen, who used the alias of Scarfino in his communication and the defendant was apprehended in the lobby of the postoffice when he got his mail.

Has Fine Appetite and Feels Tiptop in Every Way.

"About a year and a half ago Tanlac fixed me up in fine shape, and the medicine has been my stand-by ever since," said T. K. Mickey, a well known painter living at 514 East Ave. 59, Los Angeles.

"I am satisfied I would have had to lay off work altogether if it hadn't been for Tanlac. I was in such a run-down condition I took cold easily and then I felt just miserable. I was so weak and short of energy most any little job would tire me out completely.

"Tanlac put new life and energy into me, gave me a fine appetite and got me to feeling tiptop in every way. Since then I have made it a rule whenever I get to feeling a little bad and off my feed to get me a bottle of Tanlac, and it always braces me up and gets me to feeling like I want to feel. Tanlac is one medicine that never fails to do the work."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Stores.—[Advertisement.

HOLD SALESMAN FOR FORGERIES.

Long Beach Merchant Cashes Bad Paper Totaling $10,000.

Cut in Eastern Shipyards to Affect Local Workers.

World's Thinnest Man Visits Long Beach.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, March 9.—Charged with issuing worthless checks totaling approximately $10,000, James C. Derby, 29 years old, a shoe salesman of New York and Boston, is being held in the City Jail in default of $5000 bail. He was arraigned before Justice S. H. Underwood this afternoon and his preliminary hearing set for March 16.

The total amount of the alleged bad checks passed by Derby, according to the complaint, was $9201.80, all of which was secured during the past fifteen days, it is charged, from C. D. Hitchcock of the Army and Navy Department Store of this city.

Derby was taken into custody at Avalon, Catalina Island. He was stopping with his wife and 4-year-old daughter at a prominent hotel on the island.

Drawing the paper on eastern banks, Derby is alleged to have secured $500 in cash and bought a house in Alhambra and an automobile owned by Mr. Hitchcock with the alleged worthless drafts.

All of the checks were returned, it is said, marked no funds.

MEANS CUT HERE.

Wage cuts of 10 per cent which will become effective March 12, in the East, according to an agreement between the Atlantic Coast shipyards, will affect the three twin harbor yards, according to statements made today by the managements of the local plants.

The decreases probably will not become effective here for some time, but they will have to be considered on all new contracts secured for ships from the East. That they will also reach to every shipyard on the Pacific Coast was the sentiment expressed here today.

These cuts will total approximately $20,000 a week among the aggregate number of twin harbor ship workers, most of whom live in Long Beach.

The agreement between the eastern yards, said an official in a local shipbuilding plant today, means that the shipbuilders there can figure on the 10 per cent less labor cost in bidding for contracts of new ships.

The yards of the twin harbor are competing with eastern shipbuilding plants for the construction of eastern ships. This means that we must make the same cuts here, else we lose out, as our figures would be 10 per cent higher on the labor costs. This difference may not appear to be very much on a weekly basis, but it increases to surprising figures on the yearly consideration, and particularly on the cost per ship. The cut will not affect ships now contracted, for even though they have not yet been started it will apply to those only which are contracted for after March 12. On all vessels which we may secure contracts for under the new terms we also have to figure on the 10 per cent decrease in wages of the shipbuilders.

THE THINNEST MAN.

Walter R. Cole, the thinnest man in the world, has arrived in Long Beach for a stay of several months.

Mr. Cole, who is six feet tall, weighs but sixty pounds. He has the appetite of an athlete. Local physicians who have seen Mr. Cole express their amazement that a man so thin can live.

Introduced before the leading clinics of the world, Cole has baffled medical science, which has not been able to diagnose the illness that reduced his weight from 175 pounds to his present gravity of sixty pounds. When Cole was 18 years old he weighed 175 pounds. He was normal in every way.

Then the illness which reduced him to sixty pounds afflicted him. During the diminution of his poundage seventeen months elapsed. Cole is in truth a living skeleton. He is nothing but bones. By physicians and surgeons he is termed a "medical curiosity."

BUILD SYNAGOGUE.

Jews of Bay District Planning Handsome Edifice.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, March 9.—Showing tentative plans, which establish it as one of the most imposing edifices which Santa Monica Bay has boasted, the Jewish organization in Santa Monica announced today that a $10,000 synagogue will be erected in the near future at Marine and Washington Boulevard.

It has been estimated that there are about 400 Jewish families on the bay, but that only about 100 of them have been represented at the Jewish congregational gatherings because of lack of sufficient room.

Officers of the organization are M. Friedman, president; S. Saelman, vice-president; Ben Feinstein, secretary, and H. Fisher, treasurer.

RIVERSIDE SYMPHONY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, March 9.—The Riverside Symphony Orchestra made its bow to the public last night, the initial concert being given under the direction of Gustave Hilverkus. The most pretentious work presented by the organization was the first movement of Schubert's B Minor Symphony No. 8. Soloist with the symphony was Miss Anna Vognar, a young pianist of considerable promise.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, March 9.—While his return to health has not been as rapid as was hoped, John Burroughs, the naturalist, is now able to sit up and be wheeled about the grounds of Pasadena Hospital in a perambulating chair.

Mr. Burroughs has shown such improvement the last few days that Dr. Clara Barrus, his secretary and physician, is completing arrangements for the departure for his home in the East on March 25. He intends to spend his eighty-fourth birthday in New York.

LAKE TAHOE SAFE.

Lake Tahoe as a natural scenic spot and resort is now believed safe from further threats of damage from use of its water for reclaiming the Nevada desert, according to C. T. Bliss of Lake Tahoe, who is a visitor here. Mr. Bliss is manager of the Tahoe railway, steamers and travern.

"The Nevada Legislature has agreed to co-operate with California in preserving the lake; moreover the United States Reclamation Service has decided to build storage basins in the mountains on the Nevada side and conserve water for irrigating purposes that way, instead of seeking the water of Lake Tahoe. The people of California and of the whole country should feel elated that danger of destruction of Tahoe as a scenic and recreation spot is past."

PSUEDO-OFFICER CONVICTED.

After the longest trial in the history of the local justice court, Edward Lemke was found guilty of extortion by a jury in Judge Raymond G. Thompson's court early this morning. The complaining witness was Homer A. Palmer, who charged that Lemke, posing as an officer, collected $4.61 from him in lieu of arrest on a charge of "spooning."

Mr. Palmer had a young woman in his automobile with him and they had paused by the roadside in Altadena. At the trial, allegations were made that Lemke had posed as an officer of the law before other young motoring couples and had collected money from them. He will be sentenced tomorrow.

BRAIN IS CLEARING.

George A. Rawson, the young Seattle clubman and amateur athlete, unconscious more than two months following an amateur boxing bout at the Y.M.C.A. and upon whose brain a delicate operation was performed to remove a blood clot, is regaining both his physical health and his mind. He has just been brought to the winter home in Pasadena of his mother, Mrs. Eldred Tucker, from the Good Samaritan Hospital, Los Angeles. Since the operation, performed about three weeks ago, has been semiconscious and within the last few days has been able to talk rationally. It is now believed he will completely recover. Just before the operation his life was despaired of.

LOOT IN ORCHARD.

An Altadena ranch-hand, plowing in a lemon grove, has unearthed silver platters, spoons and other valuables. The soil which yielded this strange crop evidently had been used as a cache for burglar's loot. The ranch-hand turned the silverware over to the Pasadena police, who are endeavoring to ascertain its rightful ownership.

REDLANDS, March 9.—F. B. C. Mr. Eller is the cook for the prisoners and says that they are getting plenty of good, wholesome food, rightly cooked. He is also treating all the prisoners and says that he has been able to relieve some of the ailments that no doubt had much to do with their criminal tendencies.

Asked if he would go on a hunger strike, he replied, "Absolutely not. I am enjoying my work in the jail too much for that."

TWENTY PER POUND.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, March 9.—Justice J. B. Cox, marrying justice and terror of speeders, today inaugurated a new system of fines for heavy trucks, as a part of the campaign to stop overloading and the consequent breaking down of the highways.

Cox's new schedule provides a fine of $20 for each ton or part of ton the truck load is above the weight allowed by law. The first offender to pay under the new schedule was W. H. Schmidt of Whittier, who was two tons overweight. His fine of $40 was paid by Ralph Winger, representing the Standard Oil Company, Schmidt's employer. The conviction was under the Orange county ordinance, which sets a limit of 23,400 pounds for any truck load.

The schedule of weights prescribed by the ordinance are 700 pounds for every inch of surface for pneumatic tires, 650 pounds per inch on solid tires, and 600 pounds per inch on all others. One driver, charged with hauling a five-ton overload, is due to appear before Cox within a five

SERAPHS SIZZLE IN HOT SULPHUR

Getting Their Systems Full of Minerals.

Not to Mention Large Gobs of Hotel Grub.

Sam Crawford Still Able to Pickle the Pill.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ELSINORE, March 9.—This place is getting its annual dose of baseball, and the athletes are getting their annual dose of sulphur water, along with a rich mixture of other beneficial minerals.

Manager Red Killefer had twenty-four men in action today, the largest force which he has been able to mobolize this spring. This will be increased tomorrow when Lindimore and possibly McAuley may partake of their first work-out.

THE MISSING ONE.

As far as hearing any tidings from him, Vic Aldridge is as much lost as Charley Ross and the Democratic ticket in the last election. Tony Rego is remaining in Taft, and writing daily letters to find out what his status will be if he signs an Angel contract. He seems more concerned about his status than about his meal ticket. Nobody seems to know just what his status will be, but it is the concensus of opinion that his middle name will be mud as far as playing organized ball is concerned if he fails to sign a contract.

Aside from these two, all the Angels either are present or accounted for. Each man's heart seems to be in his work, and his hand in his grub. Mrs. Gardner's hired held is dispensing food with a lavish mit, and so far the beautiful waitresses have failed to pitch anything too hot for the boys to handle. As a receiver of three rectangular meals per day, every man on the team is a first-class backstop, and can take everything with a bare hand.

RED IS FAMOUS.

Almost any day out of work hours, Mr. Killefer can be seen adorning our main street, and as a result of his distinguished appearance, many think that Elsinore has a red-headed Mayor. Because of this, Mr. Willsey, the regular Mayor, would seem justified in chasing Red off the main street and down an alley.

Mr. Killefer is still filled with worldly ambition and original sin and as carnal-minded as ever. He dwells more on the pennant race than on the world to come. Also, he seems hopeful of the pennant prospects of the Angels.

LOOK BETTER.

It must be admitted that he has a likely looking squad. Red is widely known as a manager who can get maximum results out of minimum material. Two or three times he has taken a phantom team and kept right up around the money. Now he has something more tangible

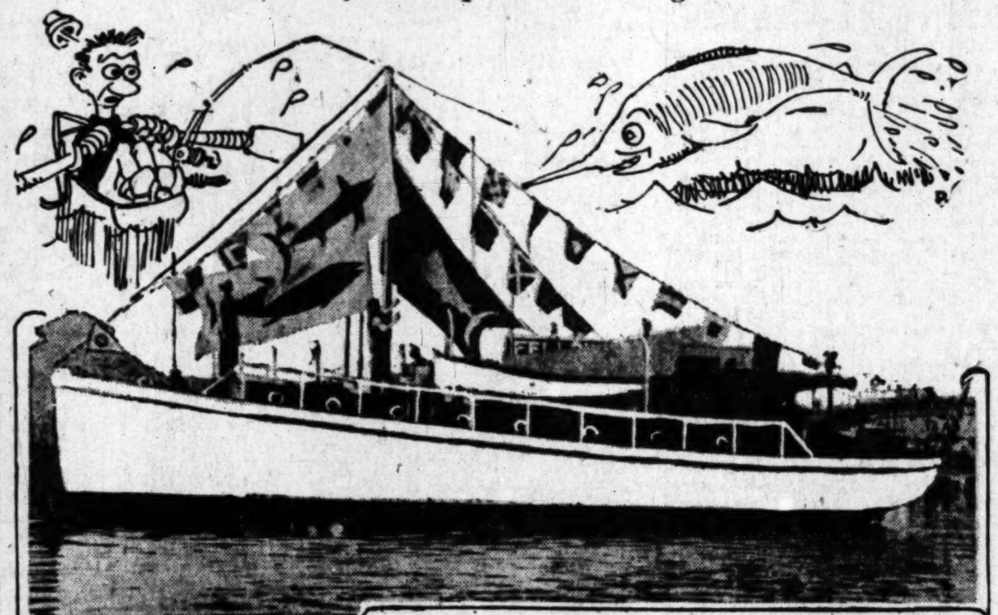
Zane Grey's Deep-Sea Fishing Smack.



Built to Battle Swordfish—and Do It Right.

When Zane Grey, the noted author, goes fishing, he goes fishing in style. Here is the Gladiator, a new sixty-foot cruiser built exclusively for swordfishing and nothing else, which was just launched from the Joe Fellows factory. Mr. Grey expects to make life miserable for all the swordfish in the vicinity of Catalina within the next couple of months. Below, R. C. Grey and members of the crew, just after the launching. Photos by Dr. J. A. Wiborn of the Tuna Club, Catalina.

Teddy Miller Stars in Hot Polo Scramble.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, March 9.—Achieving the rather unusual honor in polo of making every goal registered for a winning team, E. G. Miller was the star of this afternoon's match at the Coronado Country Club. The Midwicks defeated the Point Judith Tigers 5 to 3 in a spectacular match and the victory gives them permanent possession of the California challenge trophy. Midwick won legs on this trophy in 1915 and 1916.

Driving all of the five goals made by Midwick, Miller played a hard game as did Carleton Burke, who at back displayed cunning defense in turning away apparent scores for the Point Judith Tigers.

The first game of the Hotel Del Coronado cup will be played tomorrow, the Del Monte and the Wichita clubs being the contestants.

HOREMANS FORGES INTO THE CUE LEAD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT (Mich.) March 9.—Edouard Horemans, European 18.2 balk-line billiard champion, went into the lead in his 3600-point match with Welker Cochran of San Francisco today when, in the fifth block, he made the biggest run he has scored since coming to this country, 297 points. Cochran was leading by 280 points when the play began, but Horemans's high run, with others of 50, 132 and 97, enabled the Belgian, in spite of a run of 131 by Cochran, to lead at the conclusion of the block, 1500 to 1368.

LEU WINS CUE MATCH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 9.—William H. Leu of Rockford, defeated Harry Daw of Detroit, 125 to 54, in today's games for the national amateur pocket billiard title.

Earl Patterson of the C.A.A. went into second place in the national amateur pocket billiard tournament, by defeating Gus Gardner of New York, 125 to 113.

CHICAGO, March 9.—J. H. Shoemaker of New York defeated C. A. Vaughn of Chicago, 125 to 57, in tonight's play for the national amateur pocket billiard title. His victory throws four contestants into a tie for first place.

YALE MAKES RECORD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MIDDLETOWN (Ct.) March 9.—Yale's swimmers established another intercollegiate record last night when they swam the 160-yard relay in 1m. 16 4-5s. The former record was said to have been 1m. 21 2-5s., made by the University of Chicago.

SCOTT TO CAPTAIN.

BOSTON, March 9.—Everett Scott, veteran shortstop of the Boston Red Sox, will succeed Harry Hooper as captain of the team, according to dispatches received here from Arkansas, where the club is in spring training.

JOCKEY CLUB GIVES DATES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 9.—Dates for the local racing season have been agreed upon and will be announced after the meeting of the Jockey Club tomorrow afternoon. The dates as agreed upon follow:

Jamaica, May 7 to 26; Belmont Park, May 28 to June 17; Aqueduct, June 18 to July 8; Empire City, July 9 to July 30; Saratoga, August 1 to August 30; Belmont Park, September 1 to September 14; Aqueduct, September 15 to September 28; Jamaica, September 29 to October 12; Empire City, October 13 to October 26.

SWORDFISH ARE DOOMED.

Zane Grey Launches Boat That is Sure Death on "Gladiators of the Deep."

BY KAY OWE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN PEDRO, March 9.—When you get so enthused over fishing that you build a man-sized cruiser just to rush out and hook one particular type of fish—you are enthused.

With a large and expensive splash the "Gladiator," a sixty-foot battleship belonging to Zane Grey, rolled off the ways and into Wilmington harbor yesterday afternoon. It marks a new era in fishing enthusiasm. There have been whaleboats, catboats, rowboats and gunboats, but this is the first exclusive swordfish boat ever cast adrift on the briny deep.

MAKES THEM NERVOUS.

It seems that Zane Grey is an author in a sort of incidental way and a swordfishing demon first, last and all the rest of the time. For years on end Mr. Grey has journeyed to Catalina and made all the swordfish in the neighborhood extremely nervous. He has caught swordfish in all the approved ways, in ways that have not been approved of, and quite a number of ways of his own. At any rate he is sudden death on this type of sardine and would rather hook one than to get a report from his publishers that an extra edition of a couple of million copies of his latest book was going to press.

Consequently Zane Grey gave orders to Joe Fellows to get busy and turn out a boat that would catch swordfish and nothing else. Mr. Fellows followed orders to the dot and yesterday the result was launched. The new boat is really a remarkable affair. With the swordfishing angle constantly in view, many unique and interesting features were incorporated in its construction. It is sixty feet long, fourteen feet across and is full of hooks and lines, bait, gaffs and all that sort of thing, as well as offering food, clothing and shelter for a large party of swordfishing authorities.

MAY BE REBUILT.

While Zane Grey was in the east at the time of the launching, his brother, R. C. Grey, and Dr. J. A. Wiborn were on hand to witness the festivities and report to Zane by telegraph how the ship looked in water, instead of on dry land. Inside of a few weeks Mr. Grey hopes to be out here to give the "Gladiator" its trial trips. In case a halibut or barracuda is hooked on the first test, intead of a swordfish, the boat will probably be torn down and rebuilt.

While Mr. Grey expects to do most of his sailing in Catalina waters, it is very probable that a few long trips will be undertaken in search of new varieties of swordfish.

ED R. MAIER BACK FROM TRIP; SAWYER TRADE STILL HANGING; HUGHIE HIGH RUNS TO PLACE.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Ed R. Maier, owner of the Vernon baseball club, returned yesterday from his eastern trip, accompanied by his Fidus Achate, Dr. Stone. He was present at the yannigan game between High's and Long's teams yesterday afternoon at Vernon, and was well pleased with the way his lads showed up in their practice.

Mr. Maier kept a keen eye on First Sacker Locker, who was signed up by Manager Essick some few days ago. The gangling youth planted himself in the big chief's eye by his fielding and stick work.

DELIGHTED.

The Bengal owner was also delighted at the manner in which Charley Gorman cavorted around the short field. He also had a few words of praise for Pitcher McGraw, who, he said, should surely make good on the Coast.

In regard to the Fisher-Sawyer trade, the Tiger boss had nothing definite to give out. He had a long talk with Fisher in the Vernon dug-out after the game, and then got busy with the wires to Minneapolis. It is more than likely that the deal will be consummated today. Mr. Maier regards Sawyer as a great baseball asset, and predicted a great year for him in the Coast League, in case the comedian was secured.

HAS LITTLE FEAR.

As regards the Bengal short field, the Vernon magnate has little apprehension that the team will fall down in that particular spot. He declared that the Yankees will send Essick a shorstop about the time the season opens here, and that the man will be a tip-top fielder. The names of McNally and French were slyly hinted at. Either of these players is a dandy shortstop and would undoubtedly pan out well on the ground made famous by Johnny Mitchell.

When one mentions the Vernon heaving department, Owner Maier certainly bridles up, and well he may, for it is the consensus of ex-

Kansas City High School Team is Defeated.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KANSAS CITY, March 9.—The Los Angeles Athletic Club five, last year's champions, defeated the Concordia Seminary team of St. Louis, 28 to 21, tonight in the basketball tourney.

Despite a spectacular rally in the last five minutes of play the Northeast High School team of Kansas City was unable to overcome the lead of the Atlanta Athletic Club five and went out of the tournament on a 40 to 33 score.

The Lowe and Campbell team of Kansas City, eliminated Epsilon Eta of St. Louis from competition. The score was 38 to 36.

Warrensburg Normal, Warrensburg, Mo., was eliminated by the Des Moines College Athletic Club, 36 to 32.

Nevada University defeated the University of Tulsa, Tulsa, Okla., in a close game, 25 to 22.

Northwest Normal, Alva, Okla., was victor over Hallyards, St. Joseph, Mo., 37 to 20.

Other scores follow:

Des Moines College Athletic Club, Des Moines, Iowa, 32; Warrensburg State Normal, Warrensburg, Mo., 26.

The Southwestern College five from Winfield, Kan., defeated the Tabernacles of Kansas City, 33 to 31.

E. W. MORRIS DEAD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY, March 9.—E. W. Morris, University of California pitcher, died Monday from an attack caused by a ruptured appendix, it was learned today. Morris pitched in a game last Saturday and was taken ill that evening. He was a junior and this year was his first on the varsity baseball team.

MIDDIES TO BOX.

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) March 9.—Plans are being made for a big boxing tournament at the Naval Academy to be confined to midshipmen. Each class will have its own elimination tournament and then the class teams will do battle.

BABE RUTH IS KEEPING IT UP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 9.—Babe Ruth, the New York Americans' stellar batsman, had a busy day yesterday at the training camp at Shreveport, La., reports received today said. After qualifying in the morning practice as a sideline comedian, he coached the left-handed pitchers, and in the afternoon played first base and center field, and at bat got a home run and two singles. At the close of the day he relieved the bat boy.

Davy Bancroft, the New York Nationals' shortstop, who had been reported ill, appeared in practice at San Antonio, showing no physical handicaps.

SET NEW RECORD IN PARACHUTE LEAPING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, March 9.—A new record in parachute jumping was set today at Mather Field, when five aviators, Lieut. Eugene C. Battens, Sergt. Richard Thorne, Corp. Paul Conners and Privates Earl Woodgard and Alewis Hartner leaped from a De Haviland plane at an altitude of 2000 feet. Lieut. E. C. Kiel piloted the plane.

Double parachutes, one strapped to the chest and the other to the back, were used. Just before he jumped from the wing of the plane each man unfastened one parachute and the wind blew it open as the leap was made. The second parachute was opened when the man wanted to lessen the speed of his fall. All landed in safety.

Bears Grapple with Trojans on Next Saturday.

Out-of-Town Clashes Bring Four Squads Together.

Freshmen Are to Get at it Tomorrow Afternoon.

BY LEEPSON BOWNES.

While the University of California-University of Southern California track meet, scheduled for Saturday afternoon at Bovard Field, seems to be holding the limelight pretty well as far as the B.V.D.-wearers are concerned, there are a couple of other good meets on Saturday, and a pair of unusually good ones due to take place tomorrow.

The Saturday afternoon affairs, both out of town, are the Redlands-Pomona dual meet, which promises to be positively blood curdling, and the Occidental-Cal. Tech waltz, which probably will be very interesting, as the Tigers aren't going out of their class on this particular occasion. The Friday afternoon affairs, which promise to hold considerable interest, are the U.S.C. freshmen-Occidental freshmen dual meet at Bovard Field, and the Lincoln-L. A. High dual meet at Occidental.

Of the Friday contests, the Occidental-U.S.C. peagreen meet would have held tremendous interest were it not that several of the Trojan youngsters have been carted away to the hospital, and will not be able to start. In view of the absence of these athletes, it has been decided to run off a return meet on the fast Occidental track two weeks from tomorrow, to give them a chance to recuperate and get back in the running.

Against the terrible Tigers tomorrow, Coach Cromwell will be unable to use Neil Raney, demon sprinter and high hurdler; Walter Davis, who captured the high jump at 5ft. 8in. in the Trojan interclass meet, or Malcolm Patton, a tall colored boy, who has been showing signs of becoming a first-class distance man. Cromwell figures that with these point-grabbers out, the unbeaten Tiger frosh ought to have an easy time of it tomorrow, but he hopes to give them a thrill on March 25.

CHESS CRACKS IN TITLE PLAY.

Lasker and Capablanca Meet in Great Battle.

Both Experts Are in a Class by Themselves.

Purse of $10,000 Brings World's Best Together.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HAVANA, March 9.—The world's chess championship match, beginning here tomorrow, between Jose Capablanca of Cuba and Dr. Emmanuel Lasker, who won the title in 1894, recalls the interesting fact that although the game dates back for centuries the first credited world's championship was decided only seventy years ago. This was won by Prof. Anderssen of Breslau, in an international tournament of chess masters in London.

Paul Morphy, an American prodigy, was the next holder of the title, defeating Anderssen and other continental experts in Europe a few years later. Upon Morphy's retirement, W. Steinitz of Austria and the United States was acclaimed champion after defeating Anderssen in 1886 in a series of match games. Steinitz held the title until 1894, when Lasker defeated him in a match.

SOME CHESSER.

Lasker proved his superiority in matches with Marshall in 1907, Tarrasch 1908, Janowski 1909, and Schlechter and Janowski in 1910. Capablanca challenged in 1911, but the two experts were unable to agree upon terms for a match.

During the great war the small war game was obscured until brought back to prominence through an offer of a purse of $10,000 by a Havana club last year for a championship match between Lasker and Capablanca. It was reported that Lasker had yielded the title to the Cuban player because he lacked support for a match, but later he was prevailed upon to accept the Havana offer.

BEAT AMERICAN.

Capablanca, who has represented Cuba in Russia in the diplomatic service, possesses a record that earned him the right to challenge for world honors. In 1909 he disposed of Marshall, American champion, in a match, winning eight games, losing one and drawing fourteen. In 1911, the Cuban won the national tournament at New York and an international tournament at San Sebastian.

He captured the New York national tournament in 1913, and won a tournament against Russian experts in 1914. Capablanca overwhelmed Kostich, the Serbian master, in a match at Havana in 1919, winning five games in succession and causing his opponent to resign from further play. In the same year, Capablanca won the international tournament at Hastings, Eng.

YOUNT FAMILY ALMOST KILLED.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, March 9.—William Yount and Lloyd Yount, star track men of the University of Redlands, came near getting killed last night when an automobile driven by Ben Osbun, in which they were riding, skidded on a wet pavement and turned over. They escaped with a few cuts and bruises.

The machine was just behind a big bus that stopped suddenly. Osbun jammed on his brakes and when he did so the car skidded and then went over. Willard Barker, the fourth man in the car, was not injured. Osbun suffered a broken collarbone.

"BRICK" ELDRED ON WAY TO RAINIERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, March 9.—Ross (Brick) Eldred, centerfielder of the Seattle, Pacific Coast League club, who yesterday announced that he had been threatened with permanent suspension if he did not report to his club, stated today that he had received a telegram from Seattle instructing him to report to the team at Pomona, Cal., to open the season with a promise that he would receive a salary readjustment upon his return to Seattle. Eldred left this morning for Pomona.

GARDNER ABSENTEE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND, March 9.—Larry Gardner, veteran third baseman, was the only absentee when the champion Cleveland Indians donned their uniforms at the training camp today, according to advices from Dallas.

BOXING FINALS TONIGHT.

The finals for the elimination boxing contests will be held at the University of California, southern branch, tonight at 8 p.m. The contestants have each done away with one man and tonight should show some real class in the way of boxing. The men have been training hard and will be in good shape when the bell is sounded.

The fights are to be governed by the A.A.U. rules and will be of three rounds and three minutes to a round. The winners are to receive handsome cups which are being donated by several leading firms of the city.

Pat Higgins will be third man in the ring, DeWitt Van Court and Hal Roach will judge, Billy Coe timekeeper, Dan Tobey announcer and Al Knox, Jr., master of ceremonies.

The winners will be taken to Berkeley next month by Coach Einsig and will compete against California and probably Stanford. The card is: Glasser vs. Livingston (115 pounds,) Turner vs. Weiler (125,) Marston vs. Montgomery (135,) Evans vs. Heide (145,) Wyatt vs. Reynolds (158,) Mariscal vs. Schwarzkopf (175.)

ED R. MAIER BACK AGAIN.

pert opinion that Essick's chucking staff is unique in the annals of minor league baseball. Fortified with such a bunch, any one of the big league clubs could begin the season with buoyant hopes of filching the rag.

"Lead those Cubs to us" is the present slogan of the jungle babes, almost all of whom just now are ready for any old kind of strenuous play. The Bruins are scheduled for games next Saturday and Sunday, at Maier Park, with the Pacific Coast League champions, and, believe us, Bub, these encounters should fairly drizzle with baseball.

It looks very much just now as if Hughie High will run to the place in his ambition to cop the Yannigan muslin. He swung his best efforts yesterday in his hook-up with Tommy Long's babes, but got only a line of yawning doughnuts for his pains. Hughie's nine failed to cleat the rubber in the eight innings played. High protested time and again to Umpire Shellenback that Long's projectors were flirting with the emery, but the arbiter was so busy trying to find out when they were going to reopen the Tijuana races that the protest died a bornin'.

Charley Gorman's score suffered an awful bilge at the hands of Shellenback. Charley, on two different occasions, beat a throw to first base, throws that Earl Houck could have seen with his back to them and called safe, yet Charley was flicked out.

Both Alcock and Gorman are flitting around the short field in Mitchell fashion. It would not surprise some of the wiseacres to see Gorman holding down Mitchell's bailiwick when the season begins and from the way Charley has been playing this week, it would almost take a crackajack to dislodge him from Bill Essick's eyes.

"Wheezer" Dell was yesterday the sensation in the pep line. As he entered the clubhouse he grabbed hold of Shine and shook him like a jelly meringue shouting as he did, "Shine, I've been climbing telegraph poles all winter and I sure could strangle a bear just now." Shine shot back in his usual oily way, "Say, Wheeze, any time you take on a fit like that again, practice on your enemies and not your friends."

Oh, yes, in the yannigan game between the houses of Long and High, Tommy copped the berries, 3 to 0 in eight innings. Some of the crowd kicked about the short-inning game, but Essick shut them up by slipping out a few rain checks which had about a half inch of fungus on them. The real biffers yesterday were Truck Hannah, Morse, Gorman and Chadbourne, each of whom drew two swats. The score follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

ALEXANDER GIANTS TO TACKLE NORTHERNERS.

Alexander Park, Thirty-second street and Long Beach avenue is expected to be invaded by an overflow crowd, Saturday and Sunday, when the final games of the series between the Alexander Giants and the Halton-Diddiers club of Oakland are scheduled to be played. The series is for the California semi-pro championship. The Giants have two games to their credit, having trimmed the H and D outfit last Sunday at Oakland. One game is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, while a double-header is on the cards for Sunday. The advance sale on tickets is reported to be exceptionally heavy.

row afternoon, is referred to in hushed tones by both sides as the crucial affair of the city prep season. Neither Lincoln nor the Pioneers have been trimmed so far this season, and as far as can be ascertained from the outside, neither of them has the slightest idea of being trimmed tomorrow.

In the short races, Lincoln's dusky flyers, Stapler and Norman, seem to have the edge on Thompson and Olson. In the 440, Tony Parra and long-legged Stutz of Lincoln are to be backed up, it is understood, by Capt. Phil Orth. All three are good for 53s. on the Tiger track. Young and Sainservain will provide good competition. It is understood that Huston, the star Lincoln hurdler, will reappear after two weeks' absence. The competition between the two relay teams is likely to result in a new record.

Dean Cromwell's Trojan varsity is feeling fit to the last man, and promises the University of California squad a warm reception on Saturday. The U.S.C. athletes are hoping to sneak over a surprise package on the Bears in the sprints, and believe that Bill Isenhour and Moose Blalock have a chance to burst into the points in the short distances. Weakness in the distances and hurdles seems to be the only thing to keep the local space annihilators from a victory.

A good-sized proportion of the crowd will go out to Bovard Field particularly to see the 440 and 880-yard events, in which Schiller and Gwynn Wilson will take up their feud with Oxy Hendrixon and Pesky Sprott right where they dropped it last year. The relay likewise promises to be an exceptionally hard fought affair, with the local demons having a chance, for the first time in several years, to head off the invaders.

Out in the country the Redlands-Pomona combat is the only subject of conversation, and will continue so for some time after the last shot is fired. On the strength of their well-balanced aggregation of point-snatchers, the Claremont Sagebrushers are figured favorites over the Baptists, but some little upset on the dope might easily tip the final score over in favor of the Redlands outfit.

The struggle between Bill Yount and Charley Daggs in the hurdles will be titanic, Kilby and Lloyd Yount will have to hurry in the 440 to trim Payne and Wire of Pomona. Kilby may run the 880, and will be a favorite in that event. The Pomona milers and two-milers ought to gather in the points, and likewise the Sagehen weight heavers. Bill Yount will probably make about 25 points, but the odds are against his nosing out the Pomona aggregation.

Over at Paddock Field there seems to be a possibility that the Occidental varsity will find somebody they can lick in the Caltek squad. While the Tigers look terribly weak against such teams as Redlands and Pomona boast of, they aren't so bad that they can't win sometimes, and they ought to collect handsomely against the mathematicians from the Crown City.

The performance of Crissman, Tech's star sprinter, will be watched with interest, and the race between Clough of Tech and Martin of Occidental in the 440 ought to be worth going miles to see. The Pasadena athlete tore off a lap in 52⅘ last Saturday against S.B.U.C., and the Tiger pole vaulter can rip off a circuit in about that same time. Holly Fulton, Occidental's bandy-legged all-around athlete, ought to bowl over about 20 points in the course of the afternoon.

BENNY KAUFF ON WAY TO CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 9.—Outfielder Benny Kauff of the New York Giants departed from training quarters here yesterday for Chicago in response to a telegram requesting him to appear before Judge K. M. Landis, baseball arbiter.

Manager John McGraw of the Giants stated that while Kauff himself did not know just what led to the summons, it might be in connection with the reported affidavits that Heinie Zimmerman, ex-third sacker for the Giants, is alleged to have filed in New York purporting to implicate Kauff in a bribe deal on a game with the Chicago Cubs in 1919.

GORMAN TOO MANY FOR BOXER MOHA.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

KENOSHA (Wis.) March 9.—Bud Gorman, Kenosha heavyweight, outfought Bob Moha of Milwaukee here last night in the wind-up of Bill Frazier's boxing show at the Coliseum. Gorman's quick left did heavy damage and he outhit Moha in nearly every round, but was unable to put the steam behind them to put him to sleep. Moha steamed up in the ninth and tenth, but could not catch Gorman napping.

GUNBOAT KNOCKED OUT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 9.—Al Roberts of New York knocked out Gunboat Smith of California in the tenth round of a twelve-round match tonight.

A short right uppercut to the jaw ended the bout. Roberts, who outboxed his opponent from the start, scored a knockdown in the second round, on which Smith took a count of nine. The local pugilist fought cautiously, however, apparently content with outpointing the westerner. In the ninth round Smith was forced to take a count of seven, and when he answered the bell for the tenth round Roberts smothered him with rights and lefts.

That engine noise you can't explain

EVERY sound is music to your ear when the engine runs smoothly and sweetly. But how often a harsh, grating noise, a bird-like squeak or even heavy pounding spoils your trip!

Can you explain this engine noise as it jars on your ear? Poor lubrication causes 90% of engine trouble. Under the terrific heat of the engine 200° to 1000° F.—ordinary oil breaks down and forms great quantities of sediment.

Why have such worries? Sediment is reduced 86% when you use Veedol, the lubricant that resists heat. See the two bottles at the right. With Veedol in the engine, most serious engine troubles are prevented. Have your engine flushed out. Put in Veedol. Leading dealers have it in stock. Ask for a supply today.

Attractive to the Small Investor

A definite earning of better than 7 per cent on the amount invested, with a degree of security that is beyond all question, makes the Preferred stock of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation an unusually attractive investment for the small investor.

The surplus of this Corporation for payment of dividends for the year ended December 31st, 1920, was $1,045,923.00. This surplus should be greatly increased with the enlarged operation made possible by the sale of this Preferred Stock. Even the present operating surplus is, however, many times in excess of the amount necessary to pay the stipulated interest on the full issue of Preferred Stock.

The security may be regarded as sound as the very life of Los Angeles itself, for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation has been practically an integral part of Los Angeles for more than 50 years.

You can buy this Preferred Stock at $85.00 per share. Its par value is $100.00 per share Dividends are payable quarterly and are cumulative and not subject to normal Federal income Tax. The stock is free of taxes in California and enjoys priority over the Common Stock both as to assets and dividends.

Being non-callable it may be promptly converted into cash by the holder.

It is very unusual for the small investor to be given the opportunity to secure Preferred stock which carries such a large and definite earning capacity, and which is rendered secure by such a wide margin of safety.

Think of the Mattress

When the streets are deserted and the city sleeps and you—you are lying awake unable to relax into the sweet oblivion of sleep, think of the mattress on which you are lying.

Does your body have to take the contour of the sagging springs and the hard lumpy mattress? If it does then you know what it is that keeps you awake—you cannot relax and sleep depends upon complete relaxation.

And now you know what to do. Get one of Barker Bros.' Own-Make mattresses and springs—they conform to the contour of the body and do not force the body out of position trying to make it conform to the mattress.

Barker Bros.' Own-Make mattresses are built in airy, wholesome surroundings of clean new materials by men who have given unswerving attention to the sleep-producing qualities of the mattress.

We will be glad to show you the inside construction of our mattresses when you call. And explain to you why they are "sleep-makers."

Note: A SIMMONS METAL BED and a BARKER BROS.' OWN-MAKE MATTRESS is an ideal combination.

Barker Bros. are the largest retail distributors of Simmons Metal Beds in America. Many new and exclusive patterns now being shown on our third floor.

Strength of a Bank

The modern skyscraper is not a mere pile of masonry—without its invisible skeleton of steel, founded on rock, it would topple in the first strong wind.

The resources and strength of a banking institution cannot be stated or measured in dollars alone.

Its superstructure of integrity and experience, founded on the rock of sound, conservative business judgment, is its invisible steel framework.

Without this framework, no matter what the bulk and mass, stability is impossible. It is this skeleton of tested steel which has made possible the unusual growth and expansion of the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank.

ROCKY KANSAS GETS DECISION.

Loser Makes a Last Stand in His Home Town.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MILWAUKEE, March 9.—A left hook to the chin that sent Richie Mitchell to his knees in the fifth round, earned for Rocky Kansas a shade decision over the Milwaukee pride, in ten rounds here tonight.

The blow seemed a glancing one and Mitchell slid to his knees, but he took a nine count and when he arose drove Kansas into the ropes with a terrific right to the chin. Kansas went flying into the hemp but he caught the top strand and kept from falling.

It was one of the more brilliant moments in a fight that had 8500 fans yelling themselves hoarse throughout. Mitchell, fighting for the right to remain in the first flight of lightweights, was making his last stand before his home crowd and the courageous blonde displayed everything he had in stock. The more muscular Kansas rushed him about the ring, while Mitchell kept popping a left into his face to keep off a blinding attack.

TORE AFTER HIM.

Kansas, supremely confident after his recent one-round knockout over Mitchell, tore after him at the first bell. Mitchell, fighting cautiously, and displaying a better defense than he has shown in several fights, blocked well-directed lefts for the jaw, but his backward steps allowed the Buffalo boy to cop the session.

Mitchell assumed the aggressive in the second round and by some good work with his left-hand earned an even break. He was continually overshooting the mark with his right hand, and was unable to get the range of his shorter opponent, who was punishing Mitchell way across the ring and into the ropes with a left to the head. Bounding back, Mitchell fell into a clinch and saved himself.

WAS AWAY OFF.

Mitchell was away off color in the third and Kansas bounced him all over the ring. Towards the close of the round, Mitchell's popping left again came into play, and Kansas was forced to put on the reverse.

Mitchell was again on the defensive in the fourth, but his excellent blocking kept him out of danger, when a knockout seemed imminent. Kansas, playing his game wisely, forced Mitchell into corners, backed up against the post. Ritchie appeared lost and the most damaging punches of the scrap were landed when he was in this position.

BANNER ROUND.

The fifth was the banner round of the night. Kansas worked Mitchell into a corner, and coming out of an exchange, swung the left that made Mitchell wobble, and then go to his knees. He looked over to his corner for advice and smiled faintly as he listened to the count. At nine, he got up strong. Kansas, tearing in for the finishing punch, was met with a right hook that shot him into the ropes. There was a look of amazement on his hitherto confident face, as he took the wallop, and when he came out of it, he covered up for the first time in the fight.

From then on it was anybody's battle. Mitchell, still careful, resorted to his left almost exclusively. In the ninth, urged on by the shrieks of his thousands of followers, he shifted, brought his right to the chin, and took the offensive. He smashed Kansas on the chin with all the power he could command, but the squatty Italian lad took them on the whiskers, and plunged right in, seeking to put over the wallop.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Tex Rickard announced tonight that Rocky Kansas and Willie Jackson, lightweights, had been matched to meet in a fifteen-round bout here March 17. Jackson was substituted for Benny Leonard, who is ill.

GRAPPLERS ARE FIT AND READY.

and the fans were flocking for seats yesterday. The preliminaries will be between local amateurs, who are seen at every club meet, but they are good ones just the same. The fans are hoping that Charley Keppen may put on a few new ones some day.

George Retzer will be the third man in the ring tonight at the Los Angeles Athletic Club when Cal Farley and Walter Miller settle welterweight mat honors. Retzer was decided on yesterday when Charley Keppen dragged his skinned self to the club and settled down to business again—the first time since he tried to ride a bike into space last Sunday and massaged a post with his bean.

Johnny Huemerich and Calvin Patten, lightweights, and Russell Viss and Gus Coumas, welterweights, will figure in the preliminaries. They should put up two splendid matches, for all are of amateur championship caliber.

IN FINE SHAPE.

Farley has not done a great deal of work since his arrival from the cold country of the North. He came in such fine shape that he requires very little training. Yesterday and Monday he did some tall sprinting on the L.A.A.C. track and on Sunday he climbed up Mt. Lowe and down again.

Yesterday Farley's prized medals, proofs of his championship of the American Expeditionary Forces and his prowess in the inter-Allied games, were received at the club and placed on exhibition. They are an earnest that Farley is classy. A further indication of the same thing is his modesty. He is just the sort of grappler who is likely to pull a big surprise on an opponent and bring about a sudden finish, for this is to be a finish match.

IS CONFIDENT.

While he worked hard and looked tired and slightly worried yesterday, Miller maintained his air of supreme confidence and made it appear that he thinks there's nothing to it. It is altogether likely that the winner tonight will be pitted against Ted Thye, title claimant, about next month, hence no little importance attaches to the result of the Miller-Farley go.

with which to work. Looks as though the 1921 Los Angeles team will have more speed and punch than any yet commanded by Killefer, and, barring bad luck, he figures to have them in the race. However, he may find a harder battle on his hands, as some of the opposing clubs have put on a few pounds of added power.

Sam Crawford is taking to the spring practice with avidity, and after three days' work, is hitting the ball on a line in the same old way. Sam, with shouldered bat, was seen today making his way to the ball grounds a full hour earlier than some of the younger athletes. One would figure that Crawford had played ball so long that he wouldn't ever need any more practice. You wouldn't think there is anything about a baseball which Sam doesn't already know. And yet he gets out daily and studies the sphere, finds new beauties in it and knocks out fresh gobs of stuffing. Sam has devoted more study to the baseball than Luther Burbank has to the prickly pear, and yet his thirst for knowledge is unsatisfied.

CHAMPION EATERS.

Sandow Griggs and "Lefty" Thomas, charter members of the dining-room, have seen the squad grow until practically all tables are filled. They are further advanced in their training than most of the others, and Sandow can now bust his own suspenders with only a slight effort.

Doc Crandall, also is nicely browned, having changed from a salmon pink, and is buzzing the onion with a force to give increased power to that vegetable. Doc's younger brother, Arnold, also comes in for words of commendation. Arnold is about the same size as Doc, and fully as excitable. Although it is hard to imagine a southpaw in the Crandall family, with its poise and mental balance, Arnold is one, every place except in the head.

REAL PROSPECT.

Ed Bogart, recommended to the Angels by Lefty Thomas, looks like quite a find. He is hitting the ball as hard and accuratly as any man in camp, if not more so. A southpaw hitter, he seems able to place his drives just inside third or past first with equal facility.

The last couple of days, Killefer has been working out his Boy Scout infield with Anheir at first, Statz at second, Andrews at third and Atwood at short. Their work is marked by speed and enthusiasm. By next week Killefer should have his regular infield going at good speed.

President Powers is expected down Friday or Saturday, and Killefer expects to be able to show him something in the way of a strong and ambitious ball team.

Things are moving around here, and business seems brisk. Henry Clay Scott, the town telegrapher, always fast, is showing even greater speed than a year ago. Charley Hohman has sold his pool hall to Leonard Hudson, son of Charley Hudson, owner of the original garage, and is getting good play from the athletes on the southeast corner pocket.

Malcolm P. Sutherland has sold his truck and become chauffeur of a cafe de luxe, Mr. Sutherland formerly was in the trucking business, but when he was unable to collect any money from the athletes for hauling them to the phoney dance at the Hotel Lucerne, he became discouraged and disposed of his truck. Although prospering, he can't forget the money he didn't collect on that tragic night, and sometimes mentions it aloud.

Put Yourself in His Place

The other night 10,000 Los Angelans hurried in autos, on street cars and on foot to a fire in the apartment-house district near Seventh and Bixel.

Several bungalows burned down. Spectators were impressed by the evident distress of one man who was excitedly telling a group of people around him that he had not a dollar of insurance. "Foolish man," you say.

Quite true. But how about you? Put yourself in his place. What would it mean to you if you were standing helpless, watching your home or place of business burn? Would it mean DISASTER? Or would you be able to philosophically view the smouldering ruins of your property with your mind occupied with plans for REBUILDING made possible by your fire insurance?

You cannot afford to neglect your fire insurance another day. Let us assist you in securing that fire protection your own good sense warns you to buy.

ELSINORE FARM LANDS

Elsinore is seventy miles from Los Angeles, on a great fresh water lake, beneath the mountains. These farms lie close to the lake shore, and only ten minutes from a prosperous town. State highway and railroad pass through the property. All of the out-of-door sports—boating, bathing, fishing—are here. Wonderful mineral springs. A tourist and recreation center as well as a farming district.

Climate, Soil and Water Are Right

Farm Bureau experts will prove to you that the soil on our South Elsinore Farms is super-fertile. Practical farmers on this property will demonstrate that the Climate provides a LONGER growing day and brings EARLIER and BETTER yields. The water supply, from our own wells, is far in excess of any possible demand.

There's a splendid income from these farms. And the investment return is great. Matured groves sell in this district for $2000 an acre and up. We sell ten, twenty and forty-acre pieces, NOW, for $375 to $450.

This is the planting season. Neighbors will set out your trees and look after them if you wish.

Ten Per Cent Cash Buys Your Farm

A ten per cent cash payment gives you a farm. $375 buys ten acres. Balance in easy annual installments. Peaches, apricots, olives, oranges, grapefruit, walnuts, almonds, grapes and alfalfa are among the best money-making crops.

Many experienced men predict that in ten years this will be the highest priced land in Southern California. The available acreage is limited.

All facts and photographs at our office, and a splendid booklet, "Fulfillment," issued by the Elsinore Chamber of Commerce.

LEAD IN CHESTER FILM.

TOM GALLERY TO BE FEATURED BY VITAGRAPH.

By Grace Kingsley.

There's no keeping a good man down. Especially, one might add, when that man is an Irishman, and never was that axiom better exemplified than in the case of that young actor, Tom Gallery.

Though Mr. Gallery has been in pictures only a little over a year, he has been playing leads almost from the first. And now comes the announcement that he has signed up with Vitagraph to play the star role in the picturization of George Randolph Chester's story, "Wallingford's Son."

The author and his wife, Lillian E. Chester, will codirect, filming to commence next week. The Chesters arrived here a short time ago for this purpose, and are taking a house in order that they may work in peace and quiet during the evenings on continuity and other matters connected with the picture.

Mr. Gallery is the husband of Zasu Pitts, well known to picturedom, and it was as her leading man that he first became acquainted with her. Young Gallery made a hit with the star as well as with the fans, with the result the pair were married a few months ago. Miss Pitts has retired into private life temporarily, but expects to resume work a little later on.

Of late Mr. Gallery has been appearing in pictures with Marshall Neilan and other well-known producers.

Keaton Wedding in June.

Among the joyful June weddings will be that of Buster Keaton, Metro comedian, and Natalia Talmadge, youngest of the three famous sisters who are prominent on the screen. The latter part of April will see Keaton on his way to New York to arrange for the wedding.

In the meantime his fiancee keeps him cheered up with loving telegrams. He is convalescing at the hospital from a fractured leg.

ARTHUR CAREW AND WIFE, FILM STARS.

That Arthur Edmund Carew, featured film favorite, and his brilliant wife, Irene Pavloska, will co-star in picture productions to be financed by a group of San Francisco bankers, was the report which emanated from the Bay City last night.

Mme. Pavloska at present is starring at Philharmonic Auditorium in the first of the California Grand Opera Company's offerings, "Iolanthe," while Arthur Carew is appearing in "Monna Vanna" at Egan's Little Theater.

The Pavloska-Carew productions will be made at San Jose, at the newly erected studios, according to present plans. The first story to be made by the pair is a famous one and much time will be consumed in its production.

Mme. Pavloska recently refused a contract with the Chicago Grand Opera Company, an organization of which she was a member for some time, in order that she might remain here with her husband.

Carmel Myers Welcomes Husband.

Probably there isn't a happier young woman in town today than Carmel Myers, otherwise Mrs. I. B. Kornblum, who yesterday welcomed her young husband, who has arrived from New York to visit her.

Mr. and Mrs. Kornblum were married in New York a year and a half ago, but their secret has only just been discovered. The young man is the composer of "Blue Eyes," a successful musical comedy now playing at the Casino, in New York, with Lew Fields and Mollie King as stars.

Mr. Kornblum will remain here about two months, during which time he and Zion Myers, who assisted him in writing "Blue Eyes," will collaborate on another musical comedy. Mr. Myers will arrive in course of a fortnight.

Will Rogers Fixes it.

You can't get ahead of Will Rogers. Not even if you're a tax collector. A few years ago, Rogers made out his income tax paper, but inadvertently failed to mention an exemption to which he was entitled. He wrote afterward to government officials, and they admitted he was entitled to a rebate, but somehow he never got it.

In making out his income tax papers this year, he included the amount of the exemption in his "bad debts."

Mrs. Theodore Kosloff Arrives.

Arriving in town yesterday was Mrs. Theodore Kosloff, wife of the noted Russian dancer. She was accompanied by their little 7-year-old daughter, who has been an invalid almost since birth, her limbs being paralyzed.

Mme. Kosloff, before retiring to private life, was herself a noted French dancer. It is likely, she hinted yesterday, that she will again go into professional life, but probably this time in drama.

The Kosloffs have been separated during the past five years, time which Theodore Kosloff has spent in this country. Mme. Kosloff remained in England with her child. Both declare this will be the last separation they will ever endure.

"We have hopes, still," said Mr. Kosloff, "that California and medical skill may heal our baby. At any rate, no stone will be left unturned to that end."

Mr. Kosloff took his wife and child to his palatial home on Gardner street, in Hollywood, immediately on their arrival. He fairly wept, in the expansive Russian way, over the reunion, especially with his little invalid daughter.

Nevertheless he declared himself "the happiest man in Los Angeles."

"But I can do better than that," declared Mrs. Kosloff, "I'm the happiest woman in the world."

Harold Lloyd Expands.

Harold Lloyd has discarded the custard pie, and has thrown the soft brick into the junk pile, as was announced some time ago. The first result of that resolution is a new 4000-foot comedy entitled "Now or Never," which will be seen at Grauman's next week.

Mrs. Hatton Comes Back.

Mrs. Raymond Hatton, known professionally before her marriage as Frances Roberts, has returned to the screen under the name of Frances Hatton. She recently played a part with Shirley Mason in a Fox feature, and at present is supporting Will Rogers in his current Goldwyn feature, entitled "Doubling for Romeo."

Tourneur Commences.

Maurice Tourneur has commenced work at Ince Studio on his latest picture, "Foolish Matrons," by Donn Byrne. Playing leading roles are Hobart Bosworth, Kathleen Kirkham, Doris May and Wallace MacDonald.

In this picture Mr. Bosworth portrays a sympathetic part—almost the first of his picture career—while Kathleen Kirkham, who has ruined more (picture story) homes than any lady in films, is a perfectly good girl.

Doris May, who usually plays the sun-kissed ingenue picking flowers for her grandmother, starts out the same way in "Foolish Matrons," but has a hectic career.

Adding to the Festive Merriment on Stage and Screen.

In Mirthful Presentations.

Edna Purviance, playing the leading feminine role in Charlie Chaplin's picture, "The Kid," at the Kinema, and Fannie Usher, in amusing sketch at the Orpheum.

REVIEWS.

NOTABLE REALISM.

"FOUR HORSEMEN" VIVID IN SCENES AND PEOPLE.

By Edwin Schallert.

The harvest of large expenditures in picture-making is apparently being reaped with great eclat, judging by another brilliant first attendance which witnessed the premier showing of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" last night at the Mission Theater. This is the chief spectacular contribution of Metro studios to the season's film program. Its debut was the signal for an attendance composed of prominent film people, who were anxious to view the first notable venture of that combination of youthful talent, Rex Ingram and June Mathis, who, respectively directed and adapted the famous novel by the Spanish Writer, Ibanez.

In the realism of its characters and the quality of its "atmosphere," the "Four Horsemen" reflects superlative credit on its makers. An interest that would otherwise be remote, is pertinent simply through an accuracy of delineation, that causes you to fall under the spell of actuality. The feature bears the stamp of authority which grows out of the fact that its represents expert work, not the experting of one or a few, but of many.

The scenes in the Argentine and those in Paris will positively take you to those places. The characters are so typical that you know their viewpoint even before this is expressed.

Such magnetic interpreters as Rudolph Valentino, Alice Terry, Josef Swickard, Pomeroy Cannon and John Sainpolis, immediately claim your attention and hold it through force of personality. The elegant Parisian salons, the sordid Argentine cafe, in their enriched color and life, hold a fascination for the eye, because there is no confusion in their detail.

The theme of the Ibanez story assumes the form of an adamant idealism. It demands the last drop of the blood of sacrifice. The idea of expiation on the part of Julio for his misspent life is paramount over the glittering symbolism of the Four Horsemen. For all practical purposes the story becomes essentially the tragedy of Julio.

Though the plot is solid in its logic and convincing as to its outcome the bigness of the climax tapers off to a personal evolution which seems of slight caliber after the larger events that are portrayed in the actual battle scenes. The final unfoldment shows a tendency to drag, and for picture purposes it would have seemed better to blend the story of Julio with the big flare of conflict. The issue of the war as film material has been negatived by the treatment, however. And while the feature covers ground made familiar by Griffith's "Hearts of the World" it does do this in an unwarlike and therefore a now more acceptable manner.

In the interpretation of Julio Valentino has assumed a place among the most dominant romantic actors of the screen. He has set forth an ideal portrait of selfish, extravagant youth, with the finer soul qualities waiting the moment for their revealing. Alice Terry is emotionally triumphant in her role. Much may be expected from her in the intense portrayal of feeling, highly spiritualized. Sainpolis is truly distinguished as Etienne Laurier. Josef Swickard is admirable in depicting the men torn with unfulfilled patriotic longings. Pomeroy Cannon is a fine old devil of an Argentine grandee who raises his hairs according to the dictates of the flesh. Others who deserve special mention are Allan Hale, Stuart Holmes, Virginia Warwick and Bridgette Clark.

Extra Session Here.

Irene Franklin, with Burton Green, has been booked for the Orpheum circuit, with four weeks in Los Angeles, next summer. This is the longest time an act has ever played the Orpheum in one season. The engagement here is to be broken into two fortnights, six weeks apart, during which interval the two will visit Honolulu.

Musical Chowmein.

Some little musical chowmein that Ed Armstrong is serving to patrons this week at the Burbank Theater. The name of the show is "Wang-Wang" and although you might think it sounds like somebody is being whacked, the name is really oriental.

Novelty scenery and costumes make the production particularly inviting. There are some effective numbers by Mr. Armstrong, Rooky Lewis, Irene Brooks, Violet Mansfield, Billy Riddle, Gwendolyn Evans, the Burbank Trio and others. These include the thirty-six baby dolls, of course.

Chaplin Film Brings Joy.

Charles Chaplin's picture, "The Kid," has been enjoying a very successful run at the Kinema Theater. The downtown showing has attracted crowds of people.

Chaplin's comedy is fascinating to the nth degree in this film, and he is given remarkable support by the kid actor, Jackie Coogan.

It has been estimated that the picture will show to more than 1,000,000 persons during a single week in this country, owing to the many releases of the film and its unusual vogue.

Mary MacLaren in Cast.

Announcement is made by the Ambassador Theater of the including of Mary MacLaren, the picture star, in the production of the one-act thriller, "Fancy Free" by Stanley Houghton. This is to be given under Frank Egan's direction next week. Kathleen Clifford will play a prominent role.

NO GOLD BRICK "BUYER" ON LIST.

Disabled Veterans Home Fund in Need of Large Sums.

Bronze and Silver Trophies Find Ready Sale.

Aid Promised by Physicians, Dentists and Druggists.

Do you belong to the bronze, silver or gold-plated "brick" class of patriots?

This is the query which the campaign directors for the Disabled Veterans' Home Fund are putting to the general public this week.

Already many individuals have qualified for the bronze trophies, priced at $50 each, while the silver-plated "bricks" at $100 are finding many purchasers, among individuals as well as among clubs and organizations. But the gold-plated bricks at $1000 each are as yet without any buyers, and the campaign committee is anxious to start its "gold-brick" enrollment as soon as possible.

Organizations and clubs of the city and near-by communities are arranging to enter their subscriptions to the campaign as a unit, and are setting as their goals the achievement of one of these attractive souvenir "bricks," which have been secured through the courtesy of George E. Feagans, one of the trustees of the fund. The bricks are miniature in size and each bears an appropriate inscription. In addition to serving as a reminder of the patriotic impulse that prompts their purchase, the trophies are serviceable and decorative as paper weights.

LARGER SUMS NEEDED.

While the miniature terra cotta bricks, sold during the first week of the campaign, which closed last night, brought in a fine total, it will require the larger subscriptions, the sale of many of the bronze, silver and gold-plated bricks, and the aid of many benefits, to carry the campaign to its goal of $300,000.

Yesterday the Dentists' Association, Druggists' Association and Physicians' Association enlisted to aid in the campaign. J. H. Wolfe, representing the members, announced yesterday that these organizations will appoint their own committees for this special service and will report their subscriptions as a unit.

The Y.M.C.A. has designated Saturday as its special day and through its campaign and personal activities the association expects to roll-up a generous fund by Saturday midnight.

A number of additional clubs have sent reports of campaign activities on behalf of the Disabled Veterans' Home Fund, among these being the City Club, the Cosmos Club and the Woman's Lyric Club, each of which has set one of the special bricks as a goal.

ENTERTAINMENTS SOON.

With this second week of the campaign will be centered primarily on the securing of subscriptions for larger sums, the sale of the higher-priced bricks, and the continuation of the street sale of the souvenir bricks at $1, $5 and $10, preparations are being made for the third week of the campaign. There will be featured a number of entertainments and benefit programs. A mammoth vaudeville entertainment is being arranged, details of which will be announced later.

The New Symphony Theater, through the courtesy of Thomas H. Ince and Dr. H. B. Breckwedel, will give a special benefit performance of "Lying Lips," on the morning of the 19th inst. Preceding the showing of the film, there will be a special program presented, introducing many novel features. This benefit will be given under the auspices of the League of American Penwomen. Tickets are on sale at the campaign headquarters, 215 Coulter Building, on the mornings before 10:30 o'clock at the New Symphony Theater box office, priced at $1, plus war tax.

PLANE HITS AUTO; HURTS TWO BADLY.

Father and Son in Car at Aviation Field Victims; Latter May Die.

Pinned beneath the wreckage of an automobile when it was struck by an airplane at the Mercury Aviation Field at Wilshire Boulevard and Crescent avenue yesterday, Albert Webb, Jr., of 1331 Westmoreland avenue, himself an aviator, was probably fatally hurt, and his father, Albert Webb, Sr., a local broker, was painfully injured. Pilot E. L. Remelin, who was driving the airplane and his two passengers, Miss Adeline Watts and E. G. Henry, escaped without injury, although the airplane was wrecked.

At the Hollywood Receiving Hospital where both of the Webbs were rushed for treatment, Albert Webb, Jr., was found to be suffering from a fracture of the skull and a dislocated shoulder blade, as well as possible internal injuries. He was removed to the Good Samaritan Hospital. Albert Webb, Sr., was treated for cuts and bruises, and was taken to his home.

According to the police who investigated the peculiar accident, the Webb automobile was driven onto the field just as Remelin was making a landing with his airplane. The wheels of the plane struck the automobile and tore away the top and sent the machine crashing into a mass of wreckage some distance away. The airplane, which was only a few feet from the groupnd, took a nose dive to the earth and was wrecked. On account of the short fall, the pilot and passengers were not injured. When assistance reached the automobile, Albert Webb, Jr., was unconscious and his father was attempting to extricate himself and his son from the wreckage.

BURGLARY DATES NAMED

Three Charges Made Against Artist Who Came from Argentina.

Alberta C. Ballate, who says he is an artist and was born in Argentina, was arrested yesterday by Detective Sergeants Carr and Hickey on three charges of burglary. He was arraigned before Justice Brown, and was committed to the County Jail in lieu of $3000 bail. He is accused of burglary of the apartments of August Springer, 121 South Bunker Hill avenue, on February 19; the apartments of Arthur Tilton, 504 South Figueroa street, on February 28, and the residence of J. W. Myers, 1553 West Temple street, on the 5th inst.

TRIES HERO ACT; LANDS IN JAIL.

Charles Harper May Have to Face Mann Act Charge.

Police Charge He Sent Fake Kidnaping Message.

Attempts to Get Money from Mother of Sweetheart?

Because Charles Harper, 38 years of age, is reported to have attempted to make himself a hero in the eyes of Mrs. Elizabeth Blake of 117 Carr avenue, Eldorado, Kan., he is now in the City Jail on a felony complaint, and according to the police, will have to face a charge under the Mann Act. Harper was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Police Detectives King and Oaks in a downtown rooming-house.

"Send me $100 at once, your daughter has been kidnaped by Italians, and I am trying to get her back."

This is what Harper is said by the police to have telegraphed to Mrs. Blake some time ago, and it was this message, returned to the local authorities, that landed Harper in jail.

The whole story, according to Detectives King and Oaks, began when Harper ran away with Nellie Blake almost two years ago. The couple came to this city and lived as man and wife, although the police say they were not married. Some time ago the woman, according to the authorities, left Harper.

In a long letter, Harper is said by the police detectives to have explained to Mrs. Blake that her daughter was kidnaped by Italians, but that after a struggle, in which many shots were fired, he recovered the young woman. Following the letter a telegram was received by Mrs. Blake, stating that the girl was gone again, and that Harper needed $100 to continue the search. Then he was arrested.

Detectives King and Oaks also assert that the prisoner caused a complaint to be issued in a northern city for another suitor, with whom the woman is said to have eloped when she left Harper. The officers stated yesterday that they do not know the whereabouts of Miss Blake, and if she can not be located they will turn Harper over to the Federal authorities for prosecution.

ACCUSED OF PECULATION IN DAKOTA.

Former Store Manager Held Here as Fugitive; Denies Knowledge of Charges.

Charged with having embezzled $18,000 from a department store at Gaystown, S. D., of which he was manager, Irvin Z. Reed, 33 years of age, was arrested late yesterday afternoon in the Pacific Electric station by Police Detectives McMahon and Hurt. He is held in the City Jail and the Sheriff at Sioux City, Iowa, where the complaint was issued, has been notified. Reed denies any knowledge of the charge and yesterday refused to make any statement.

Detectives Hurt and McMahon stated that Reed left Gaystown several months ago, came to this city and secured employment. The officers understand he has a wife and two children at Sioux City.

Facts and Fancies Met in Realm of Feminine Fashion.

THE NEW.

IN STORES AND HOMES.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

By Olive Gray.

Up-to-Datest:

Coral color to lighten the somewhat dull gray tones which are in vogue for millinery and dress.

Coral sprays, so natural that the reefs of old ocean would welcome them as their own, are among the hat trimmings for spring and summer.

"Harding blue" has a rival in "Grace Coolidge gray" in the field couturial.

A revival of the parasol is predicted for spring and summer, and the new shapes and charming, bright tints of these sun-sols argue well for their use, if for nothing more than accessories to the costume.

Now is the Time to Buy:

Costume necklaces for lending the final brilliant touch to the street, afternoon or sports dress. New and fascinating numbers are arriving daily at stores which lead in such accessories.

Notions for less in the semi-annual sale at that old reliable store where the notion sales are an event of real importance.

The tailored hat for wear with first spring suits. Always safe and dependable beyond the passing whims of other millinery, tailored chapeau are a necessary part of every well-dressed woman's wardrobe.

The Where of Duvetyne.

You never can tell where duvetyne will next "break out!" It has sounded its note in almost every department of feminine attire, from coats to negligees, from separate skirts to hats, and now comes duvetyne as a covering for parasols! This velvety fabric seems scarcely appropriate for this latest use, but no doubt we shall accept it here as elsewhere.

A Coat Fad.

The fantastic fads of coats is beyond surprising us, especially as regards linings. Coats of heavy weave and even of fur have long sought alliance with diaphanous chiffons, Georgettes and laces, and now wraps of silk and lace, of silk voile and Georgette have taken to their hearts, linings of velvet, duvetyne and fur. Thus, all our established notions as to material propriety have again been revised, and, as is usual, when fashion dictates, we hasten to own that the new plans are sensible after all.

Fullness.

Skirts of dresses are indisputably fuller, whether cut circular or merely straight. Suits, however, especially those strictly tailored, are still builded upon quite slender lines. In the latter, if there is fullness it is in the way of let-in pleats, corded or shirred panels and other unobtrusive devices, rather than in obvious width.

"Piano Key Trimming."

Would you ever guess what such a trimming might be? You pass? It is fluted grosgrain ribbon, set upon the edge of the coat, tunic or skirt. This trim was introduced by one of the leading American couturiers and is becoming popular.

A Spring Fancy.

"In the spring a young man's fancy may turn towards thoughts of love," but many a woman's fancy turns toward thoughts of new furnishings for the home. The new widely braided rag rugs recently shown for the first time are in colors which make them especially interesting for the new season. Lovely lavenders, apricot tints and shades of blue are among the leaders in these always refreshing floor coverings. Many come in cottons, which give a cool and summery effect.

Eastery.

The Easter gift has taken on new charm this season. Even the tiny bandboxes that house the boutonnieres, always appropriate gifties, are embellished with Easter emblems such as downy chicks, colored eggs in outline, rabbits emerging from unexpected places in the grass or from out flower petals.

Silver Striped.

The newest silk, or more properly I should say, one among the newest, is the silver metallic striped taffeta. In lovely shades of pastel blue, rose, yellow and green, this silk is lovely beyond words. To combine with plain taffeta in a corresponding shade, or to use alone in creating a dance frock or an evening gown, this silk is excellent, possessing as it does several of the season's requisites.

Training Trains.

Trains, unless taken in hand before long, will become so obstreperous that never again may we count upon finding them where they belong—or where they used to belong. Long or short, draped or plain, those saucy little addenda have taken to disporting themselves at either side of the skirt, or both sides; to emerging from underneath the tunic or the subskirt; to playing that they are girdles or sashes, or the reverse of what these accessories were intended from the beginning, to be trains.

Moreover trains sometimes are at the same time head dresses, neck scarves, shoulder drapes. As a matter of fact there is no restraining the train within the boundaries heretofore considered as its own. In shape, and fabric, the train dominates the sartorial realm, a law unto itself.

Within Fashion's Pale.

Sponged chiffons are used to trim serge dresses.

Colored filet and colored lace are largely shown.

The unfitted effect is prevailing.

Smart slipover blouses are made of novelty piques.

Taffeta dancing frocks have bouffant draperies.

Draped afternoon gowns are trimmed with fringe.

Buff foulard with printed design in black is a favorite.

The rounded neck line is a feature of spring dresses.

Silver embroidery is used on serge and crepe dresses.

Tailored gowns are trimmed with narrow, tinted Val. lace.

Attractive guimpes and filets are made of colored organdie.

Green is extremely smart for street and evening wear.

Narrow silk fringe is used on net.

The pointed tunic will be much worn.

Sleeves are wide from elbow to wrist.

A few dresses in black moire are shown.

Serge dresses are trimmed with wax voile.

The waistline is normal, and is rather loose.

Shrimp pink lace and chiffon are greatly used.

A great deal of flared fullness is seen in skirts.

Slavonian Twist Avails Naught in Dry Law Case.

A new angle of the dry law was presented yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Long, when the release of John and Marie Belletivich, who conduct a place at College street and North Broadway, was sought on the ground of the peculiar method of conducting what they termed a Slavonian boarding-house.

It was stated that the establishment is run on a co-operative plan, that food and wine are furnished the boarders, and at the end of the month each guest pays his proportionate amount of the bill. This, it was urged, is not a sale of wine under the law. But Commissioner Long held the pair for the grand jury.

When the raid was made on the place, twenty barrels of wine were confiscated, with a number of jugs and bottles of the stuff.

NEXT DRINK TO COST SIX MONTHS IN JAIL.

The next drink for O. L. Little, who pleaded guilty to driving an automobile while intoxicated, will cost him six months in the County Jail, it was announced yesterday by Judge Willis. He was released on probation for one year, but was reminded he was lucky to be alive after drinking "the kind of stuff that is served nowadays."

TO CUT FARM PAY SCALE.

Southern California Bureaus Planning Reduction as Living Cost Falls.

Figures compiled by the Wage Scale Committee of the Southern California farm bureaus show that the cost of living in Southern California has decreased 25 per cent during the past six months.

This report, submitted yesterday, precedes action by the committee, to be taken at a meeting of representatives from the counties of the south, on a universal wage scale for citrus and deciduous fruit and general farming industries. The scale will be adopted to conform with the lower cost of living.

"With the heavy losses suffered in the lemon industry and the reduction of profits in the orange shipments," declared Robert W. Hodgson, Los Angeles County Farm Adviser, "it is necessary for growers to prune all possible items in the cost of production.

"Labor is one of the largest factors in raising lemons and oranges. During the past two or three years the wage situation has been unduly and artificially high. One reason for this was the fact that growers were competing against each other for labor which has been scarce. The condition is now radically changed and there is at present a surplus of labor.

"The new universal wage scale will be based upon the cost of living and will form an equitable adjustment both for the worker and grower."

It is stated that the cost of living for Mexican workers in the citrus belt has decreased an even greater percentage. The report shows that clothing prices have come down from 25 per cent to 33⅓ per cent throughout the country in the past few months.

HUNTS UP CONSTABLE WHO LOANED HIM FINE.

L. S. Howard, a young man of 8900 Grape street, Latin Station, hunted up Constable George Lyons yesterday to pay the latter $5 advanced in Justice Brown's court for a fine for violating the State laws regarding lights on a motorcycle. When the young man was fined, he happened to be without enough to pay and the constable advanced the money.

NEARLY CAUGHT UP ON ORDERS.

Five Working Days Will Meet Call for Gas Services.

Corporation's Report Shows Struggle to Expand.

Mains Enough and Plenty of Flow for Next Winter.

That the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation is rapidly wiping out its list of unfilled orders for gas service connections is shown in a report submitted to the Board of Public Utilities yesterday by Vice-President William Baurhyte of the gas company. The report also sets forth that the company will spend during the coming summer and fall $4,500,000 in plant extensions, including generating and compression equipment, thus insuring the public, Vice-President Baurhyte says, that ample and adequate service will be rendered during the period of greatest demand for gas next winter.

The figures submitted by the gas company yesterday show that the company has been and is making every effort to serve the city. Far from "lying down" in the face of the attacks of Hearst's Examiner on behalf of Public Service Commissioner John R. Haynes and the other municipal ownership advocates who have been making every effort to discredit the company, the corporation is preparing to contest the assertion that it is without legal right to operate in the city.

Officials of the company say that at the proper time the corporation will show that it has ample authority under the law to operate in the city, and it is expected that it will be prepared to defend these rights in the courts should the Examiner's pre-election clamor compel city officials to carry the fight against the public utilities corporation that far.

In the report submitted yesterday, Vice-President Baurhyte shows that 49.36 miles of new gas mains were laid during 1919 and 4222 new services installed; during 1920 70.61 miles of new mains laid and 10,262 services installed. Thus far this year 11.59 miles of mains have been laid and 1590 services installed.

The report tells of the labor and material shortage which confronted the gas and all other utilities and manufacturing corporations during the past two years, and shows the speeding up of the work during the last few months, due to the receipt of large quantities of pipe.

"The number of unfilled service orders," the report says, "which reached a maximum of around 1700 in November last, has been reduced to less than 300 or hardly five days' work at the present rate of laying."

DETAIL MEN TO CLEAN UP IN LOOTERS' WAKE.

MAIL ROBBERS PROVE CLEVERNESS BY TAKING NOTHING TO IDENTIFY THEM.

Six clerks were detailed yesterday by Postmaster Brown to assist in the final clearing up of the remains of the contents of the twelve sealed pouches of mail that were stolen last Thursday night, while en route to the Santa Fe station. The work will require another week.

In the meantime efforts have been made to secure information from the senders of the registered packages, 900 in number, which were looted by the thieves. The robbers left the signatures and addresses and they have been communicated with.

Under the postoffice laws, the limit of the responsibility of the department is fixed at $50 for each letter. The most of the losses will be much less than this, and the value of the inclosed remittance will be paid, but not in excess of $50.

The cleverness of the thieves is indicated by the fact that they took nothing that will serve to identify them. After the money had been removed from the envelopes, they were destroyed, and the letters torn into pieces. Money orders were not touched, except to tear them up. Checks, drafts, etc. were similarly treated.

The loss of Liberty Bonds is considerable, but those owned by the banks were insured, as well as the cash belonging to these institutions. The unregistered bonds, the amount of which is not yet known, can be used for the purposes of barter and sale, but the registered bonds are useless for either.

SUES FOR BROKEN LEG.

Tenant Says Landlord Left Auto Too Close to His House.

Francisco Martella boarded with Tony Belletich. The latter had an automobile and used a shed adjoining the house as a garage. There was no partition between the living quarters and the shed. One night, the automobile caught fire. In the excitement of the moment, Martella jumped out of a window of the house and his leg was broken. Incidentally, another boarder was badly burned and a baby was fatally injured.

Martella is now seeking in Judge Valentine's court to recover $10,000 damages. He asserts that the defendant, knowing the automobile was there, assumed liability. The defendant sets up that Martella was aware of the proximity of the automobile and assumed the risk.

How Do Customers Judge Your Firm?

Just as the manner and appearance of your employees command respect or disapproval from outsiders, so your office equipment tells the visitor whether or not to expect an orderly, reliable and established business organization.

Accustomed as you are to your surroundings, just try for a moment to see them through the critical eyes of a business prospect. Are you satisfied or does it leave you with some misgivings?

"Good people"—so goes the silent message from office to caller when you are equipped with ART METAL Filing Cases, Fire Proof Safes, Desks, and the proper kind of desk accessories.

ART METAL Office Fixtures, steel or wood, besides comprising the most complete line of office equipment manufactured, are outstandingly the best from a standpoint of design and of utility.

Perhaps the appearance of your office could be improved. A desk added, or a modern filing case for your records may help your particular business to run smoothly and assist in favorably impressing the visiting "outsider."

The H. S. Crocker Company maintains a complete stock of ART METAL Fixtures ready for your inspection.

SUICIDE PATROL SURVIVOR HERE.

Noted Aviator, Lately Lost on Border, Visits Kin.

Met Hard Luck in Effort to Cut Sea-to-Sea Record.

Forced Down in Mexico; Six Days Absent in Wilds.

Lieut. Alexander Pearson, Jr., daring transcontinental aviator, who recently has been reading the warm praises of obituary writers, who gave him up as dead last month when he was lost for six days in the region called "suicide patrol," along the Mexican border, while attempting a cross-country flight, yesterday stopped over in Los Angeles while en route from Douglas, Ariz., to Portland, Or., on a leave of absence.

Although his last experience provided thrills enough for half a dozen men, Lieut. Pearson, an upstanding, broad-shouldered, sandy-haired youth of 25 years, has not had his fill of the flying game. At least he so indicated to his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stauffer, Huntley Apartments, who urged him to rest on his laurels and be a live hero instead of running more risks.

"What is your next stunt going to be?" he was asked.

"He's carrying around a picture of a mighty pretty young lady in his traveling bag," hurriedly supplied his uncle, "but he denies that he plans a flier in matrimony."

Lieut. Pearson looks none the worse for his narrow escape last month. He assumes the attitude that it was all in the line of duty and modestly shies clear of the subject, although he admits he was greatly disappointed in not getting to try to lower his own record made in 1919. Then he made a round-trip flight across the United States in less than forty-nine hours of flying time and headed the list of Army aviators, sharing first honors with "Flying Parson" Maynard, whose elapsed time was slightly less, but whose actual flying time was greater than Lieut. Pearson's.

Engine trouble was the cause of the young aviator's difficulties last month. He was forced to land on Mexican soil, south of Brewster county, Texas. Believing himself north of the Rio Grande, he spent three days wandering in the wilderness until, half famished, he met two beaver trappers who escorted him back to civilization after a six-day absence, during which his friends gave up all hope for his safety.

TIMES ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE.

Next Sunday's Table of Contents.

Next Sunday's issue of The Times Illustrated Magazine will contain the following carefully selected short stories and articles, in addition to the five regular departments:

"The Bull Called Emily," a screamingly funny story by Irvin S. Cobb.

"Into the Light," by Georgia Maxwell. A striking character study.

"For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," by May Edington. A rollicking romance. One of the famous blue-ribbon series of short stories by the masters of modern fiction.

NONFICTION.

"The Elfin Forests of California," by Francis M. Fultz. An illuminating article dealing with the sturdy lovers of nature who got out into the wilds to make their homes close to Mother Nature's bosom.

"Queen Mary and the Famous Casket Letters," by James Main Dixon. An authoritative and scholarly presentation of historic facts regarding Scotland's tragic Queen.

DEPARTMENTS.

John Steven McGroarty is again conducting the editorial page of The Times Illustrated Magazine. His little essays dealing with the kindly folk of the green Verdugo Hills fairly sparkle with wit, humor, wisdom and philosophy. Read them and chuckle.

"Care of the Body." Conducted by Harry Ellington Brook, N.D. A department devoted to diet and health.

Cartoons. The most expressive example of the cartoonist's art dealing witn current events.

Good Short Stories from Everywhere. Brief, snappy tales reflecting the wit and humor of the day.

"The How in Houses." A department devoted to the very latest methods of furnishing and decorating the home.

"The Married Life of Helen and Warren." America's best-known married couple. By Mabel Herbert Urner.

WILL TALK TO LEGION.

Federal Judge, Pastor and Chamber of Commerce Head to Speak.

An open forum meeting with a business man, a minister and a Federal judge as the principal speakers is to be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the headquarters of Los Angeles Post, No. 8, American Legion, in the Washington Building. Addresses dealing with the American Legion, its purposes, past, present and future, will be delivered by Sylvester L. Weaver, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher and U. S. District Judge Bledsoe.

Though the Legion Weekly, official publication of Post No. 8, has always voiced the concerted opinion of the post officials on subjects discussed in its pages, the Excutive Committee of the post called a special meeting yesterday and passed a resolution declaring that an editorial that appeared in its issue of March 5 represented the personal opinion of Eugene N. Edwards, the post adjutant. The editorial criticised the Examiner's attack on Bullock's and the committee says it feels that the post ought not to take sides in a controversy with which it has nothing to do.

NEW RADIO CLASS.

A new class in wireless telegraphy and radio will be started at the Lincoln High School Monday night. The class will meet each Monday, Wednesday and Friday night. A wireless expert who served in France with the American Army will be in charge of the class. The class is being conducted as a part of the vocational training of the city school system, and is free to everyone in the city.

DROP FIGHT FOR OUSTING OF CHINESE.

Neighbors of Chung, After Attempt to Evict Him, File Petition in His Favor.

Throughout Chinatown yesterday the news was flashed.

Chung wins!

In many bowls of tea was drunk the health of Thomas A. Chung.

Why?

Chung bought a house on Abbott Place, Highland Park.

Neighbors threatened and stormed and protested.

They finally asked the City Council to open Abbott Place from Avenue 54 to Avenue 56.

If this had been done, Chung's house would have been swept into oblivion.

The City Council was startled yesterday when a huge petition was presented by the Abbott Place residents, asking that their own proceedings to open the street and eliminate Chung's property be abandoned.

"What's the matter?" said the Councilmen. "The people out in Highland Park must have changed their minds."

Chung was silent yesterday as to the methods he used to bring about this shifting of attitude on the part of his neighbors.

"I stay," said Chung. "Get that?"

FOUR GET PETITIONS.

Mallard, Purcell and Lenox Aspire to Council; Coyne Also Filer.

Four addition candidates, three for the Council and one for the Board of Education, took out nomination papers yesterday for the May 3 city primaries, making the total number to date twenty-eight. Those who secured blank petitions yesterday from City Clerk Shontz were Walter Mallard, incumbent; Frank Purcell and Andrew J. Lenox, all for the City Council, and D. Joseph Coyne for the Board of Education. Mr. Coyne is now president of the Social Service Commission.

Candidates have until April 2, inclusive, to file filled petitions with the City Clerk in order to secure places on the ballot at the primaries.

George E. Cryer, who is expected to be a candidate for Mayor, had not taken out his petition papers up to 5 p.m. yesterday.

YBARRA SOUNDS KNELL OF VICE.

New Governor Will Put "Lid" on Baja California.

Wants Imperial Valley Folks to Live in Harmony.

Will Not Promise Capital is to Stay at Mexicali.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, March 9.—Promotion of more cordial relations between the American and Mexican citizens of Imperial Valley, inauguration of a more constructive policy of government and the suppression of vice were the outstanding points made by Epigmenio Ybarra upon his arrival in this city this morning to take over the office of Governor of the northern district of Lower California. The transfer of official power will be consummated tomorrow at Mexicali.

"There isn't a reason in the world why Americans and Mexicans, may not share the blessings of this splendid valley in peace and harmony," Mr. Ybarra said. "My constant aim will be to promote friendship and a neighborly, cordial feeling as well as satisfactory business relations.

"All Mexico is fired with the spirit of progress. Ambition has seized her people and they are going ahead with education, home-making and peaceful pursuits until they have reached the high plane long desired by Mexico's patriots and best citizens."

MET BY OFFICIALS.

Upon his arrival here from Los Angeles Mr. Ybarra was met by a number of officials and friends from Mexicali, with whom he had breakfast in Calexico before calling upon Gov. Balarezo at the executive offices in Mexicali.

When questioned regarding the possibility of a change of the location of the district capital to Ensenada, as has been forecasted as a possibility under Ybarra's administration. The new Governor said that such a change would be governed altogether by conditions and that he would have to familiarize himself with existing circumstances before he would give an answer. His reply was considered by some of those who heard it to be an admission that he has heard of the proposal and does not look upon it with disfavor.

NO MORE GAMBLING.

Open gambling and licensed vice are gone forever from the district, Mr. Ybarra said, and his expressed attitude in this connection left no doubt of his sincerity in the minds of his auditors.

"The policy of the administration in the northern district, identical with that of the Federal government, will be to prohibit and discourage vice," he said. "The lives and morals of the people and their advancement mean more to my country than the revenues derived from licensed vice."

The program for the reception of the new official, will continue until the end of the week, ending Saturday night with a ball at the Mexicali schoolhouse at which military, civil and social leaders of the entire district will be present.

BIG WOODS ATTRACT.

Resort Revenues May Soon Pay Entire Cost of Handling Reserve.

Use of the national forests for recreational purposes is increasing rapidly, it is indicated by a statement made yesterday by Supervisor Allen of the local reserve that there has been a total of 1329 permits for summer residences and commercial resorts issued to date this season.

The revenue from this one item alone amounts to approximately $22,000 a year, Mr. Allen said. It is believed that within a few years the revenues obtained from the various recreational settlements within the Angeles forest will pay the entire cost of protection and administration.

Col. W. B. Greeley, chief of the Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, in his annual report cites the situation in the local forest as an example of the uses to which the big woods may be put, both as a center of recreation and a source of revenue to the government.

FOR CHARLES L. MYERS.

Masons to Conduct Funeral of Labor Temple Officer.

Masonic funeral rites will be conducted Saturday at the Labor Temple for Charles L. Myers, secretary-treasurer of the Central Labor Council, who died at his home at 1483 Scott street Tuesday night after an illness of two months.

The body will lie in state at the Labor Temple from 11 o'clock tomorrow morning until 1:30 in the afternoon, when regular services will begin. Masonic services will follow at 3:30 at the Los Angeles Crematory.

Mr. Myers, who was also a member of the City Planning Commission, was a member of the Southgate Lodge of A. F. and A. M.

Born in Louisville, O., in 1886, Mr. Myers moved to Los Angeles in 1906. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Myers, two sons, Louis and Charles L. Myers, Jr., three brothers, Joseph and William Myers of Cleveland, and Louis E. Myers of Valparaiso, and one sister, Mrs. Clyde Harper of Trinidad.

SETTING FAST PACE.

Stamp Sales Here Promise Four-million-dollar Total for Year.

With daily stamp sales averaging about $15,000, which is far and away above anything ever before reported in this city, Los Angeles is setting a fast pace in the prosperity race.

When the daily transactions reached this point soon after the new year, the local postoffice officials thought it due to some temporary cause that would disappear with time, but they were mistaken. The high average is being maintained and, if kept up, will lift the Los Angeles office into the $4,000,000-a-year class.

If there be any slowing up of business in this city it is not distinguishable at the postoffice, an unfailing barometer of commercial conditions.

HOW WOMEN AVOID SURGICAL OPERATIONS

Every Woman Should Give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Trial First

Chicago, Ill.—"I was in bed with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A druggist's wife told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 22 bottles, never missing a dose and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I have a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It is the gospel truth and I will write to any one who wants a personal letter."—Mrs. E. H. Haydock, 6824 St. Lawrence Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A Vermont woman adds her testimony to the long line of those fortunate women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after it had been decided an operation was necessary:

Burlington, Vt.—"I suffered with female trouble, and had a number of doctors who said that I would never be any better until I had an operation. I was so bad I could hardly walk across the floor and could not do a thing. My sister-in-law induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it certainly has helped me wonderfully. I keep house and do my work and have a small child. I have recommended Vegetable Compound to a number of my friends and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. H. R. Sharon, Apple Tree Point Farm, Burlington, Vt.

In hospitals are many women who are there for surgical operations, and there is nothing a woman dreads more than the thought of an operation, and the long weary months of recovery and restoration to strength if it is successful.

It is very true that female troubles may through neglect reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing ailments first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. In fact, many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Traeger Takes Oath, Declares Politics Are Barred.

Declaration of Principles Gets Board's Approval.

Ousted Sheriff Takes Case to Appelate Court.

William I. Traeger, ex-football coach and lawyer, who yesterday took the oath as Sheriff of Los Angeles county, following his appointment by the Supervisors to succeed John C. Cline, ousted after a court trial, starts out with the promise not to have a political machine.

Sheriff Traeger's policy "boss" will be Supervisor Cogswell, chairman of the committee having in charge the County Jail and the Sheriff's office. Sheriff Traeger will consult Supervisor Cogswell and when necessity arises, he may consult the entire Board of Supervisors, he stated yesterday.

Judge York administered the oath to Sheriff Traeger in the Supervisors' rooms, after Judge Monroe's ouster judgment was entered by County Clerk Lampton. Friends of Sheriff Traeger were present. His declaration of principles was read first, then followed a talk to the new Sheriff, after he was appointed on the motion of Supervisor Cogswell and the choice was made unanimous on the motion of Supervisor McClellan.

Chairman Dodge informed Sheriff Traeger that until relief is afforded by the Legislature, he will have to finance the expense of transporting prisoners to the various institutions. Regarding a new jail, Chairman Dodge stated that he believes the city and county can get together on this proposition.

The Sheriff has the authority to appoint only 760 special deputies, it was pointed out, it being stated further that all old badges must be turned in, and the county will furnish new badges.

"The Sheriff should have no friends," said Mr. Dodge. "He will have the hearty support of the Board of Supervisors."

It was also impressed upon Sheriff Traeger by the Supervisors, that it is not necessary that he employ private counsel, as the County Counsel is at his service at any time.

Sheriff Traeger promised to abide by his pledge and declared that he will begin an investigation of things in his office with the view of producing the best results.

A petition for a writ of review was filed in the District Court of Appeal yesterday in behalf of Mr. Cline, the ousted Sheriff.

The document reviews the accusations against him filed by Chairman Dodge of the Board of Supervisors and the action of Judge Monroe in removing him from office.

It is asserted that the accusations did not state facts sufficient to constitute proper grounds for the removal of Mr. Cline, that the demurrer and motion to strike filed on behalf of him were overruled unlawfully by Judge Monroe; that the court refused to allow the case to be transferred to a judge of another department more qualified to act, that the evidence in the hearing failed to sustain any accusation; that the court admitted incompetent evidence, and had no legal right to enter the ouster decree and was without jurisdiction in the matter.

The petitioner asks that all proceedings be stayed until the District Court of Appeal reviews the case.

By the ending of the boarders' tank, more room will be available. It will take about two weeks to build new cells, it was stated. A building adjoining the jail, now owned by the county and once used for juveniles, may be used for trusties and short-term prisoners. Beginning today there will be no boarders' tank and the food given the prisoners will be paid for directly by the county.

Supervisor Bean will confer with Sheriff Traeger today to formulate plans for changes in the jail. F. W. Fuller, chief steward of the County Hospital, yesterday outlined a plan to organize the food system of the jail.

The Sheriff announced that the law allows 700 special deputies and that he is making arrangements to swear in as deputies those who are entitled to be appointed.

Former Sheriff Cline turned over his office to Sheriff Traeger yesterday morning, County Auditor Payne checking over all books.

Says Husband Kicked Stove When He Lost

Charles Hartline, who was ordered by Judge Summerfield yesterday to pay his wife, Bessie Hartline, $35 a month for the support of their child, was a poor loser, his wife told the court.

When he lost at cards, she said, he kicked over the stove, tipped over a box, jerked the sewing machine, spilled the dirt out of a fern pot and snatched the tablecloth from the dining-room table.

Mr. Hartline said he was out of work. Mrs. Hartline admitted she had $300 in a bank.

"Uncle Mose" Loewenstein, president of the Sunshine Helping Hand Club, has found many new members for his organization since he opened his carnival at Prager Park. In one corner of his "country store" a clerk is kept busy enrolling those interested in his charities.

Nearly every member of the big show company that is presenting the carnival for "Uncle Mose" has been enrolled. This includes employees of all kinds and positions. The executives set the ball rolling and the employees followed suit in rapid order.

Every afternoon and night he enrolls many of the visiting public, who have heard about his work and understand that he is giving the carnival to raise funds to give 50,000 poor children a May Day outing.

CASE AGAINST LEE DROPPED.

Mr. Lee at the same time showed due regard for the authority of the bishop and opened the way for him to close the matter upon accepting his explanation.

SUBMIT TO BISHOP.

The canons of the Episcopal church require that when a clergyman is requested to perform a marriage ceremony where either party has been divorced, the whole subject shall be submitted to the bishop for his decision and that no action shall be taken in such a case without the consent of the bishop.

The canons further require that "satisfactory evidence touching the facts in the case, including a copy of the court's decree and record, if practicable, together with other matter, shall be laid before the bishop."

These requirements were not complied with by Dr. Lee in the case of Mr. DuPont, who had been divorced. However, Mr. Lee's explanation of his failure to comply has been taken as satisfactory by both the bishop and the standing committee.

The letter of the committee to Bishop Johnson follows:

"We have carefully considered the several letters which have passed directly and indirectly between yourself and the Rev. Baker P. Lee with reference to the remarriage, after divorce, of Mr. Alfred I. DuPont.

RECOGNIZES FAILURE.

"Mr. Lee recognizes the fact that before the solemnization of the marriage of Mr. DuPont he had failed, through a misunderstanding, to submit to the bishop the satisfactory evidence required by the canons. He affirms that he believed that he was justified in his action, under the canon, by the statement of Mr. DuPont. But, as in your communication to him you properly observe, this amounted merely to an ex parte statement and would have been insufficient had it been submitted to the ecclesiastical authority in the beginning, as a basis for action, and therefore, this is no sense establishes a precedent, and since these are the essential facts, there appears to be no occasion for further action in the matter, but we are emphatic in our opinion that such action on your part would not carry the slightest implication that any clergyman might disregard the direct letter of the canon, requiring a submission of all evidence regarding a divorced party to a marriage, to the bishop.

"We reiterate the above statement in order that no clergyman may misunderstand the closing of a most unfortunate incident.

GRAND JURY LOOKS INTO CLINE CASE.

County Counsel Called as Witness; Gets Letter from District Attorney.

With the calling before the county grand jury yesterday of County Counsel Hill, who prosecuted the ouster proceedings against former Sheriff Cline, it is understood that the official acts of the former Sheriff were a matter of investigation by the inquisitorial body. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stafford, who conducts grand jury investigations, declined to comment upon the case. It is understood, however, that other witnesses will be called.

In this connection, Mr. Hill issued the following statement yesterday:

"The jurisdiction of the County Counsel's office in reference to the charges against John C. Cline, is limited to civil matters. We have succeeded in removing Mr. Cline. He is now out and the proceeding against him is at an end. I have not, at any time during this entire case, entertained any personal feelings against Mr. Cline, but have simply sought to discharge my official duties.'

"Yesterday I received a letter from the District Attorney's office advising me that I would be requested to appear before the grand jury today for the purpose of detailing the acts and conduct of Sheriff Cline which might be of a criminal nature. My appearance before the grand jury, therefore, is in response to this request from the District Attorney."

WOMAN CLUB LEADER WINS ALIMONY FIGHT.

MRS. MARY C. DEMUND TELLS OF CRUELTY; TWO OTHER CASES AT PHOENIX.

The marital troubles of Mrs. Mary C. DeMund, well-known Los Angeles club woman, and two other Southern California couples, were given an airing in Arizona courts yesterday, to the decided advantage of two of the three women involved.

Mrs. DeMund, who is seeking divorce on the grounds of cruelty, including more than 100 specific charges, scored a victory when the court at Phoenix allowed her temporary alimony of $300 a month and $2000 in attorney's fees, to be paid by Charles E. DeMund, well-known business man of the Southwest, and part owner of the Phoenix flour mills. The trial of the case was set for April 2. It was stated that a property settlement has been reached and J. W. Crenshaw, who was acting as temporary receiver for the joint estate, was discharged. Mrs. DeMund originally asked for $1000 a month alimony, and said her husband's estate is worth more than $300,000. Mr. DeMund's answer to the complaint denied the charges of cruelty, and asserted the estate is not community property. Mrs. DeMund was well known here as the president of the Sunshine Society.

The second victory was scored by Mrs. Velma V. George, when the Phoenix court modified the divorce obtained by Walter L. George while Mrs. George lived in Los Angeles and gave her $50 a month for the support of a child and attorney's fees. Mrs. George charged that the divorce had been obtained by fraud and demanded one-half of the community property and $100 a month alimony.

The third case was that of C. E. Rice of Phoenix, who married Lena B. Rice in Ventura in July, 1912. In his complaint Mr. Rice charged that Mrs. Rice left him in Lindsey, Cal., and refused to return.

ADMITS INSOLVENCY.

The Gates-Kelly Automotive Company, 132 West Sixteenth street, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday, giving the liabilities as $20,807.57, and the assets as $15,130. Of the debts, $12,000 is said to be unsecured, and of the assets, $10,000 is the listed value of the stock in trade.

"BLUE-SKY" LAW TEETH SINK IN.

First Conviction in County for Sales of Stock.

Former President of Arizona Company Will Appeal.

Says He Disposed of His Own, Not Corporation Shares.

The first conviction ever secured in this county under the blue sky law or Corporate Securities Act was obtained yesterday when a jury in Judge Houser's court found Emil Spitzer, former president of the Pacific Toy Company of Arizona, guilty of selling stock in the corporation here without a permit from the Corporation Commissioner.

Mr. Spitzer, who will come before the court tomorrow for sentence, will take an appeal. He was found guilty of having sold 425 shares of stock in the Pacific Toy Company to P. H. Joyce at par, $10 per share. He contended that it was private stock which he sold, and that he had a right to market his personal holdings without a permit. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark, who prosecuted the case, maintained that it was stock of the corporation which figured in the deal.

Deputy Corporation Commissioner North, who swore to the complaint against Mr. Spitzer, says that now that the "teeth" of the blue sky law have been bared, other prosecutions will follow in this county.

"This is the first time," declared Mr. North, "that the commission has directed a prosecution here against a violator of the Corporate Securities Act. Hitherto there has been some question among certain men of law as to the constitutionality of this act, and certain of these men have displayed confidence in the idea that the commission would seldom enforce it. The commission will not dally with fly-by-night sellers of stock who attempt to make Los Angeles their dumping ground."

"There are many persons in Los Angeles who are continually preying upon the credulity of people who have come into a little money, and who, in seeking some safe nvestment, are persuaded to buy shares of stock in some company organized in some other State. The Spitzer case was the first time the commission has acted in court, but it will not be the last, as there are several other cases now pending."

JUROR'S QUESTION NO CAUSE FOR NEW TRIAL.

NONSUIT MOTION ALSO DENIED IN CASE GROWING FROM CHURCH WRECKING.

On the ground that he had been approached by a woman juror trying the case of F. D. Mathews against the Hill Street Fireproof Building Company and others, and asked how soon they expected to get through with the case, Attorney Frank James moved in Judge Crail's court yesterday for a new trial.

It appeared that when the juror, Mrs. Edward Double, asked the question, Attorney Tracy Pace, standing with Mr. James, replied:

"As soon as the other side gets through asking foolish questions."

The court denied the motion. Subsequently, when the plaintiff's case was completed, the defendants' motion for a nonsuit was denied. Judge Crail cautioned the jury about expressing any opinion during the trial of the case.

Mr. Mathews, who got the contract for the demolition of the Methodist Church at Sixth and Hill streets, asks $88,000 damages, contending that lumber he had piled up ready to be sold had been dumped into the cellar of the church by agents of the defendants, and its value depreciated.

PREDICTS PLENTIFUL RAIN.

Weather Expert Points to Many Other Years That Made Good Late.

The scarcity of rainfall in Southern California this season is no cause for alarm, according to Dr. Ford Carpenter of the department of meteorology and aeronautics of the Chamber of Commerce, who completed yesterday a table of figures showing that during nine previous seasons the precipitation has been smaller than that of the present season.

"Though during those nine past seasons, dating back to 1881, the rainfall was very light up to March 10 of each year, in every instance the rainfall after March 10 of each year proved to be generous," said Dr. Carpenter.

"The rainfall from now on will be of great benefit to all crops. In the past the precipitation has occurred from heavy snows, but the run-off has not been very great, though a considerable amount of water is stored in the mountains at present. The water that is stored in the mountain areas is very valuable to the agricultural regions. It has not been visited by the drying, hot winds that are usually prevalent at this time and which evaporate the mountain snows.

"Though there is such a wide diversity in rainfalls of the various seasons, I am thoroughly convinced that, though this season has been a dry one, Southern California will be visited yet by bountiful rains at the most opportune time. Though the rainfall has been deficient, there is no cause for alarm."

In Dr. Carpenter's statistical table, Los Angeles is found to have had this year a seasonal precipitation, up to March 10, inclusive, of less than 7.04 inches. This is a deficient precipitation, yet in nine other seasons it has been even smaller.

During the season of 1881-2, though on March 10 the season rainfall was only 5.31 inches, at the end of the season the figure had increased to 10.40 inches. During the season of 1893-4, the driest in the history of California, though the figure was but 6.39 inches on March 10, at the end of the season the figure also had slightly increased.

During the season of 1882-3, the rainfall figures up to March 10 were the same as the figures of the present season to date. In that year, following March 10, five more inches of rainfall were registered at the end of the season.

The complete tabulation of the nine dry years, compiled from records March 10 was 65 per cent; after March 10 of each year the average was 35 per cent.

The complete tabulation of the nondry years, compiled from records of the United States Weather Bureau by Dr. Carpenter, is as follows:

TAX EXPERTS IN QUANDARY.

High Costs of Government to Continue for Years.

No One Now Thinks of Making Tariff Bear Burden.

Income Receipts Wonderfully Increased.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 9.—An increase in customs revenue may offset partly the elimination of objectionable taxes. It is considered doubtful, however, whether the additional revenue from a protective tariff will represent a substantial sum when compared with the possible $1,000,000,000 loss in revenue from the repeal of the excess profits tax and various miscellaneous taxes.

War conditions reaching in the mounting of government expenditures to hitherto undreamed of heights have caused a marked change in the position occupied by the tariff as a revenue producer.

There was a time when revenues from customs constituted about half the total ordinary receipts. In the fiscal year 1920 customs receipts amounted to only about one-twentieth of the total, although the total customs revenue was almost as great as it ever had been in the history of the country.

HIGH COSTS CONTINUE.

With expenditures certain to continue during the next few years on a scale four or five times as great as in the period just before the war duties on imports will represent only a fraction of the total necessary to maintain the government.

The income tax which formerly furnished only a small part of the revenues has become the chief revenue producer. In the fiscal year 1914, when the total ordinary receipts amounted to $734,673,168, only about 8 per cent, or $60,710,196, was obtained from income taxes. During the fiscal years 1918, 1919 and 1920, a total of $9,385,000,000, or 60 per cent of the total ordinary receipts, was derived from income and profits taxes.

While there is a movement toward the substitution of a sales tax for various forms of income tax, no one has any thought of again making the tariff bear the chief burden.

Some of the more ardent protectionists predicted a few months ago that when the new Republican tariff law is drafted it would yield $1,000,000,000 annually.

PREDICTION DISCOUNTED.

This prediction has now been discounted to such an extent that few Republicans undertake to estimate more than a maximum of $600,000,000. Even this figure is regarded as too high by many authorities, Representative Good of Iowa, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, expressing the belief that not much more than $400,000,000 can be expected.

The difficulty in estimating the probable yield of a new protective tariff law lies in the fact that a tariff with duties high enough to protect American industries will keep out competing commodities. While an arbitrary increase in rates of duty might show the possibility of increasing the total customs revenue to $1,000,000,000 annually if the present volume of imports continued to come in, the actual effect might be to decrease imports to such an extent as to cause only a comparatively small net additional yield.

INFLATED VALUES.

Another uncertain element is the fact that duties collected during the past two years have been based on greatly inflated war values. As prices decline the customs revenue will fall accordingly. Most of the increase in value of imports during the war years was due to inflated prices rather than to actual increase in the volume of merchandise.

In 1908 the total value of imports was $1,250,000,000. In 1920 it was more than $5,000,000,000. In 1908 45 per cent of imports came in free of duty. In 1920 more than 75 per cent came in free of duty. In 1908 the average ad valorem rate on all imports was 22 per cent. In 1920 it was less than 6¼ per cent.

To have increased duties in the fiscal year 1920 so that an additional $700,000,000 would be obtained, thus making the total in the neighborhood of $1,000,000,000, would have meant increasing duties to produce an average ad valorem of 20 per cent on all imports dutiable and nondutiable. To obtain the total of $1,000,000,000 thus would mean the trebling of the average import duties without disturbing the volume of imports.

A possible way of greatly increasing tariff revenue would be to place heavy duties upon such articles of necessity as tea, coffee and sugar. Such action, which would be similar to the practice followed by Great Britain, would mean an increase in the cost of living, and does not seem to be in prospect. Political considerations are likely to prevent a tax upon the breakfast table such as would be involved in this plan.

GOODWILL MESSAGES ARE MADE PUBLIC.

FRENCH FELICITATION TO HARDING SOUNDS NOTE OF POLITICAL CO-OPERATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Messages of fecilitation exchanged by President Harding and foreign rulers, expressing hopes for peace and friendship, were made public today.

A note of economic, as well as political co-operation was sounded in the exchange between Mr. Harding and President Millerand of France, while most of the messages that passed with South and Central American presidents voiced a renewed pledge of Pan-American solidarity. The message reported in press dispatches as having been sent by King George of Great Britain and the President's reply were omitted from the list given out.

In addition to President Millerand, those whose congratulatory expressions were included in the announcement were King Albert of Belgium, King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, King Gustaf of Sweden, King Boris of Bulgaria, Sultan Ahmed Dhadjar of Persia, President Pessoa of Brazil, President Melendez of Salvador, President Gondra of Paraguay, President Acosta of Costa Rica, President Bustillos of Venezuela, President Suarez of Colombia, President Porras of Panama, President Brum of Uruguay, President Menocal of Cuba and President Saavedra of Bolivia.

After recalling the trials through which France and the United States had passed, President Millerand's message said:

"The solidarity of France and the United States, which so powerfully contributed to their common victory, also will prove their safeguard during peace. The political or economic weakening of either republic would mean impairment of the other. Their interest, as well as their sentiment, bids them to stand by each other, and thus we are sure will be perpetuated the noble traditions which nearly for a century and a half have associated our two great democracies for the common good of mankind."

Mr. Harding replied:

"I thank you sincerely for the cordiality of your appreciated telegram of congratulations and good wishes and assure you of my abiding friendship for the French republic and of my very genuine wish for the continued promotion of its welfare and the further strengthening, if possible, of the ties by which the two countries are bound in historical and fraternal friendship."

CONTRAST OF PAST AND FUTURE.

Taft Condemns Wilson's Dictatorship, His Personally Ruled Cabinet and Socialistic Tendencies; Predicts Teamwork of Harding Will Show Benefits.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

Estimates of Mr. Wilson's administration now are too near to be just. Some general remarks, however, may be ventured as to the contrast between what has been and what is to be.

Mr. Wilson in his "New Freedom" expressed confidence that he understood social conditions needed reforms, knew how to remedy them and that his predecessors did not. His administration was remarkable for his felicitous addresses in pointing out evils and in stating his ideals for removing them. These gave him popular strength until the later years of his second term. During the war his apt, simple, trenchant and compelling statement of our cause stirred and satisfied the deep patriotism of the people. Yet at other times sudden thought of epigrammatic phrase would lure him into infelicity.

A conspicuous feature of Mr. Wilson's administration was its partisanship, even under the heavy stress of war. So strong an adherent of his own views was he that when required by law to appoint an impartial or bipartisan board he found it difficult to give the side opposing his view fair representation.

Mr. Wilson occupied the whole of the stage in his administration. With exceptions, his Cabinet selections have not obstructed the public view of him by their personality, activity and ability. He has been singularly recluse from contact with those sharing responsibility of government with him.

FULFILLMENT LACKING.

The stress of Mr. Wilson's course of action has been in announcement of purposes and not in their effective fulfillment. Even the legislation which he projected often contained more recitals of high purpose than practical provisions for carrying it out. Before he became President the "Seven Sisters" which he put into the New Jersey law were hailed by him as a solution of the trust question. Yet, after their enactment into law, they lay dormant for years, with not as much as a single prosecution brought under them, and now they have been quietly amended out of life without a single mourner. The Trade Commission Act and similar legislation, which was to free all interstate business from chicane and conspiracy, has achieved something perhaps, but there is doubt whether its meddling has done more harm than good. The Clayton Act, with its recitals, was hailed as taking unions out of the jurisdiction of the courts in the prosecution of what they deem their rights, but which often are wrongs against others. The Supreme Court holds otherwise and labor unions are left subject to remedial process as other voluntary organizations, as indeed they should be.

The great constructive measure which Mr. Wilson, with Mr. Bryan's aid, put through was the Federal Banking Reserve Act. He did not originate it. Mr. Aldrich did that. But Mr. Wilson did put it through, and without him it would not have become law. The benefit derived from it cannot be overstated, and he is entitled to the credit for it.

Between the tariff legislation enacted promptly after Mr. Wilson came in, and the beginning of the European war, however, beginning hard times confronted us. The European war, howover, beginning in 1914, destroyed all possibility of foreign competition in our markets and created a demand for the products of this country the benefits from which no tariff policy could minimize.

Mr. Wilson's failure to make earlier preparation for war, hesitations and the delay over the Lusitania, the unsatisfactory result of our Mexican intervention, the failure to practice economy or to adopt a budget or to become interested in it, the inefficiency of the Postoffice Department, and, indeed, in other departments, due to a lack of interest in the quiet details of government as compared with political publicity, will all figure in the estimate of future critics.

PERFORMED HUGE TASK.

Under Mr. Wilson's government, the United States performed a huge task. Within eighteen months it raised, equipped, trained, and sent overseas an army of 2,000,000 men, and had in readiness on this side 2,000,000 more. It put 1,000,000 men in the trenches, and by the mettle of their fighting and the potential force of the men behind it, added the weight to the Allies' blow which was needed to end the war. The United States further not only financed its own preparation and campaign, but it raised and loaned to its allies $10,000,000,000.

Was this due to the inspiration and executive force of Mr. Wilson, or was he carried along into the great consummation by the genius, aggressive energy and demand of the American people? Did he lead, as some national executive did, or did he hesitate and delay in his actions and decisions so that the glorious result was achieved without credit to his leadership? In the last two elections the American people seem to have decided this issue adversely to him; but it remains for the consideration and calmer conclusion of history.

Mr. Wilson has manifested at times Socialistic tendencies; he has refused at times to hear at all the representatives of capital, while Mr. Gompers and his friends have always had access to him. His forcing through the Adamson law is a humiliating page in the history of Congressional page in the history of Congressional small body of men performing a function indispensable to the life of the country "held Congress up," rejected arbitration and demanded and received its own price. This was pure sovietism.

FORGOT POLICY.

Mr. Wilson in his book, "Congressional Government," warned all against the foolish policy of haste in turning over the government of the Philippines to the natives and insisted that self-government could only be learned by them after long years of useful and beneficent government under the guidance of the United States.

On his accession to power he at once departed from this policy and favored independence in the near future. He abruptly removed a most able and experienced Governor-General and put in a Tammany politician, who, with his sanction, proceeded to drive back to America the American heads of a most excellent colonial service. He turned the government completely over to Filipino politicians and the inefficiency and danger to the Philippine public attending this change will probably make action by the new administration immediately necessary.

Mr. Wilson's policy as to the League of Nations is the most striking chapter in his career. Those who sympathized deeply with him and commended his going abroad, his strenuous effort to bring about a League of Nations and his high conception of our duty as a member of the family of nations are likely strongly to condemn his wrecking of the League by his unreasonable refusal to accept the Republican reservations and to enter the League with them. His action in this made the difference between success and failure for him and, what is more important, it delayed for years, the world's recovery from the war.

Mr. Wilson's Presidency is remarkable for the absolute rule that he had expressed over the government and his party in Congress. He has shown great ability in maintaining it. Few men have had as strong personality, as stern a purpose to control and as great success in that regard. This, in itself, will distinguish his administration.

Whether his exercise of such power has been beneficial to the country or not will continue to form the subject of discussion.

THE NEW ADMINISTRATION.

And now the Republican administration? We can foresee some of its characteristics. It was not heralded by a proclamation of its intended victorious accomplishments. The head is modest and has only assured us of his earnest effort to meet the expectations of the people who elected him. He seeks counsel and has the fullest conferences. His Cabinet is in contrast to that of Mr. Wilson. It has unusually strong men. Mr. Harding, in inviting them into it, said to them that he proposes to give them wide discretion. He has selected men of such ability that he can trust them to run their departments and to decide what is to be brought to his attention. The rule of action in Mr. Wilson's administration seemed to be that nothing of importance could be decided by a Cabinet member without reference to him—an unsound method of executive work leading to hesitation and delay.

Mr. Harding faces difficult questions. The first is as to a League or association of nations. This he and Mr. Hughes will at once take up, and the world will watch with anxious interest the outcome. The optimistic believe the conditions are ripe for an agreement which will steady the world and will give to the United States a great and constant part to play in using her influence and power to compose international difficulties.

The situation in part created by Mr. Wilson's watchful-waiting policy of actual intervention in Mexico is, after eight years of anarchy and suffering, showing, we may hope, some signs of betterment; but Mexico will be a source of constant anxiety to Mr. Harding.

Mr. Wilson's policy where, as in the railroads, he could direct matters, was to turn over to organized labor large control of the controversies between labor and capital. Employers were obliged to submit to this in view of the war and the pressing necessity for production. Now the demand for production has been much reduced, business is halting, prices are falling, unemployment is widespread and the movement in wages in downward. Organized labor declares its intention to resist this movement and not recognize any change. It needs a steady hand firmly to restrain the possible lawlessness in controversies likely to arise, and at the same time avoid appearance of partiality; but Mr. Harding's previous wise attitude as to labor promises this.

AFTERMATH OF WAR.

The wave of crime which is sweeping over the country is an aftermath of the war, a feature of the present unrest, and is aggravated by the demoralization in the enforcement of prohibition of the manufacture and sale ol liquors. It is for the new administration to organize this more effectively.

The finances of the government and taxation present questions of great complexity. Everyone who is not actuated by mere hatred of enterprise in business agrees that the excess profits tax should be abolished. Surtaxes, too, should be reduced, and all for the purpose of avoiding paralysis which prevents new investment and a normal increase in business essential to the growth of the country. The construction of a reasonable tariff act to give additional revenue and to prevent injury to our producing business will be a hard task in the changed conditions of world trade. The question of a tariff is complicated with the demoralizing rates of exchange and financial paralysis of European countries, which of themselves, have already reduced our foreign trade.

A STEP FORWARD.

The Esch-Cummins Act is a real step forward in solving the transportation problem, but it is new and needs amendment and adjustment. The railroads are entitled to fairer treatment than they have received in the past. They are—many of them—in danger of breaking down. We may thus drive their owners into a desire for government ownership and all the waste and lack of efficiency which that will entail.

The proposal to load on to the country $1,500,000,000 for a "bonus" ought to be defeated. To talk about economy if we grant the bonus seems palpably incongruous. We must cut down expenses. A budget act is one needed step, the reorganization of the departments to increase efficiency and to avoid duplication is another and stiff repression of costly paternalistic schemes is a third.

Mr. Harding has with him a good majority in the Senate and a large majority in the House. His courage in taking his Cabinet indicates strongly his real sense of responsibility and leadership. His selection of the chiefs who are to make up his administration strengthens his popular support.

You said it,
"Daddy" Silverwood

Your message to the people of Southern California through the daily press of March 1st, 2nd and 3rd is indeed a keynote which should be taken up and resounded by every living being.

We are anxious to see the wheels of industry moving; we want good times, steady employment and good wages; we all have crying needs — a new dress, a suit of clothes, an automobile, a typewriter, a desk, a lawnmower.

And timidity and pessimism will only continue the depression. To be normal—to follow our natural impulse to buy—and then buy now is the short-cut to normality.

Merchants throughout the country have suffered much in an endeavor to return the sane price basis to you. It is now up to you to assist in the re-adjustment. See that the normal demand for all things keeps men on their jobs. Help the other fellow and you help yourself. To exercise your normal buying power is to co-operate in the movement which will bring greater endeavor, greater prosperity and greater content to all.
